DANISH CONVENTION ENDS

Several Lively Contests Before the Officers Are All Elected.

H. H. VOGT IS RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

J. Michaelsen of Omaha Re-elected Secretary by Acclamation, but Treasurership Brings Out Liveliest Contest.

Supreme President.....H. H. Vogt, Davenport, Ia.
Supreme Vice President.....Martin Larsen, Racine, Wis.
Supreme Secretary.....Jorgen Michaelsen, Omaha
Supreme Treasurer.....J. C. Eskildsen, Chicago
Trustees.....Henry Gydesen, St. Paul, Minn.
.....Fred Petersen, Council Bluffs, Ia.
.....P. Nellsen, Seattle, Wash.

The above supreme officers were elected yesterday by the twelfth national convention of the Danish Brotherhood society. They will hold office until 1910, when the next convention will be held in Fresno, Cal.

Supreme President Vogt was re-elected on the first ballot, the other candidates being William Kikkebusch of Chicago, supreme vice president, and Martin Larsen of Racine, Wis., one of the trustees. Supreme Secretary J. Michalsen of Omaha was re-elected by acclamation, but there was quite a contest over treasurer, Council Bluffs having a candidate, in the person of Fred Petersen. It requires a two-thirds vote to elect and two ballots were necessary to re-elect Treasurer Eskildsen. Mr. Petersen was elected one of the trustees.

Preceding the election of officers at the morning session, a change in articles IX. and X. of the constitution and by-laws was decided upon. The change provides that in case of the death of a member from natural causes within one year of his initiation, but one half of the sum named in his policy shall be paid. In case such death be caused, however, by accident the full amount of the policy will be paid.

The convention, which had been in session since Monday morning, came to a close yesterday afternoon. In the evening the delegates who remained over were guests of local members at an entertainment and dance in Danish hall.

SAFEBLOWERS DO ANOTHER TRICK

Strong Box of Frank Peterson & Co. Cracked.

The gang of safe blowers which has been operating in this city and across the river, turned another trick Friday night in this city, the scene of their operations being the grocery and clothing store of Frank Peterson & Company in the Danish hall building at the corner of Broadway and Park avenue. The safe was blown, the cracksmen securing $41.25 from it and between $8 and $9 from the cash register, the drawer of which they broke open.

The store is situated on the ground floor of the building, the Danish hall in which the convention of the Danish Brotherhood was being held above. The entranc to the hall is by a stairway from Park avenue on the east side of the building, and it was by cutting out a part of one of the steps of this stairway that the burglars secured entrance to the store beneath. The lock on the outer door to this stairway was forced with a chisel, the marks of the tool being plain in the woodwork. Once inside the stairway the intruders were safe from observation.

The safe, a small affair, stood behind the cashier's desk in the center of the store. This the burglars turned over on its side and then bored two holes in the bottom in which they placed the explosive, supposed to have been giant powder. To deaden the sound of the explosion the cracksmen piled a quantity of overcoats and other clothing from the clothing section of the store on the safe.

The money drawer taken from the safe was found, rifled of its contents, with the exception of one check and some papers, in the lot at the rear of the furniture store of the Keller & Farnsworth company, one block west.

Jacob Lundby, who has charge of the meat department in the store, was the first to enter the building yesterday morning. When he opened the front door he was almost stifled by the thick smoke which filled the room. The fact that the room was full of smoke leads to the belief that giant powder was used instead of nitroglycerine.

Although the Ogden hotel is opposite the building on the east side and the Neumayer hotel across the street on Broadway, as far as could be learned no one heard the explosion in either place. Captain Schafer of the night police detail heard the sound of an explosion about 2:30 while at Fifth avenue and Seventh street, and he is of the belief that it was the explosion in the Peterson store that he heard.

AGED FARMER FOUND DEAD IN BED

Autopsy Shows It to Have Been Case of Heart Disease.

W. B. Bayless, an elderly farmer, living near Castena, Monona county, Iowa, was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at the Goodrich hotel, on Broadway and Eighth street. It was at first thought his death was due to an overdose of chloral, as it was known he was in the habit of using the drug to induce sleep, but an autopsy performed by Coroner Treynor developed the fact that the man's death was due to an affection of the heart.

Mr. Bayless came to Council Bluffs Tuesday to attend to a real estate deal he had pending with D. J. Hutchinson & Co., and which was to have been closed yesterday morning. He stopped each night at the Goodrich hotel and registered there as usual Friday night, retiring to bed early and leaving a call for 7:30. Martin Wells, the night clerk, went to awaken him at the hour named, but could not arouse him. Mr. Wells, however, suspected nothing, and decided to make another effort later to awaken him.

D. J. Hutchinson, the real estate dealer with whom Mr. Bayless was doing business, called at the hotel for him, and it was then discovered that the man was dead. Friday evening, while talking with Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Bayless had shown the former a small bottle containing chloral, explaining that he had to take the drug at night in order to compose his nerves and induce sleep. The finding of this bottle among his effects led to the conclusion at first that he had taken an overdose and that it had caused his death. This was, however, disproved by the autopsy.

Coroner Treynor ordered the body removed to Cutler's undertaking rooms, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The wife arrived here last night and will accompany the body home today.

MEN CAUGHT BREAKING CAR SEALS

Both of Them Have Served Time for Crimes.

Special Officer Deneen of the Illinois Central railroad and Detective Richardson of the police force, captured Grant Booten and Jack Shields late Friday night, in the act of breaking the seals on freight cars in the local railroad yards.

A number of cars in the local yards of the Illinois Central have been broken into recently and goods taken from them. Friday night the two officers secreted themselves behind some cars and before long were rewarded by seeing Booten and Shields approach a car and break the seals. The car contained grain and the two men moved to another car containing general merchandise and broke the seals, but were frightened away by some persons passing, just as they were about to enter the car. The officers gave chase and soon overhauled their men.

Before Justice Gardiner yesterday, Shields waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $500, which he failed to furnish. Booten asked for a continuance until Monday, which was granted.

Following the arrest Constable Palmer of Justice Field's court, under authority of a search warrant, made a thorough search of Booten's residence at 714 North Fourteenth, but failed to unearth any of the goods recently stolen from the cars. Both Booten and Shields are ex-convicts, Booten having served a term for the theft of lead from Illinois Central cars and Shields for forging a time check.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF CHURCH

Reception Marks First Event in the Celebration.

The reception at the First Presbyterian church last night in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of the congregation brought out a large attendance not only of the members of the church, but many other citizens and members of the other churches of the city.

An interesting feature of the reception was the fact that the receiving line included three of the original organizers and a number of those who joined the church prior to 1870, in addition to the officers of the church. Mrs. Sarah Allen Pusey, Mrs. Hannah L. Warner and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Officers was the three charter members.

Letters of greeting and regret at not being able to be present were read from Rev. W. S. Barnes of Gettysburg, Pa., former pastor of the church; Dr. A. K. Bates of Fenton, Mo., a former pastor; Miss Laura P. Baldwin, Iowa City; Rachel Baker, Glenview, Can., and Dr. M. H. Chamberlain of Los Angeles, Cal.

Marcus P. McClure performed the ceremony. The bride wore a dainty white French bertice gown and carried bride's roses. Miss Bessie Bouquet, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, while little Miss Gretchen Empkie and Miss Leontine Loule were flower girls. The bridesmaid wore a white tucked net dress trimmed with pink ribbon and a wreath of pink rosebuds in her hair. The happy couple were married under a bower of palms and bride's roses. The dining room and reception room were prettily decorated in pink and white. Miss Mable Hoagland, Miss Geneva Rubel and Miss Elizabeth Beats assisted in the dining room. Miss Beats played the wedding march. After the marriage ceremony a reception was held, after which the newly wedded couple left for an extended eastern trip.

Nelis in Jail at Sidney.

SIDNEY, Ia., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—George W. Nelis, the Council Bluffs Nonpareil collector, who worked the people in this vicinity, was arrested in Red Oak, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. He was brought to Sidney and taken before Justice Hoop, where he waived examination and was held for trial. His bond was fixed at $300, and failing to furnish the same he was lodged in the county jail. Nelis is a tall, good-looking young fellow, who dresses well and cuts quite a swell with the fair ones. This is what played havoc with his fortunes and led him into fraudulent methods of recouping his depleted finances.

Politics Quiet at Sidney.

SIDNEY, Ia., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Things are quiet politically in Fremont county. Candidates and cigars are in circulation, but up-to-date it appears to be a still hunt campaign. Gen. J. B. Weaver is billed to speak in Sidney on Tuesday. Hepburn is expected to make a few speeches in the county later on, and the democrats will try to get Claude Porter. Fremont county should be counted in the "doubtful" column. The republicans carried it two years ago, but previous to that it had nearly always been democratic. Some republicans will scratch Cummins and some democrats will vote for him.

Painter's Fatal Fall.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Frank McClure, an Iowa Falls painter, fell fifty feet this morning from the cupola of the court house in this city to the third floor roof. He is still alive, but has probably sustained fatal or at least very serious injuries. He was working with a gang of painters, who are painting the court house, and but for a chimney, which his unconscious body rolled against, he would have fallen off the third story roof to the ground, a further distance of fifty feet.

Onawa Prisoner Breaks Jail.

ONAWA, Ia., Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The two prisoners confined in the Onawa jail escaped last night and are now at liberty. John Kelley, who was serving a year's sentence for assault with intent to commit great bodily injury, and Peter Morgan, a suspect, who was held for a murder in Virginia. The prisoners evidently received aid from the outside, as one of the bars of one window was sawed off.

IOWA CITY, Ia., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Frank Hartman, a pioneer farmer of Cedar township, was arrested by Sheriff Rowland yesterday on charges preferred by his daughter. For some unexplained reason Hartman became enraged at his wife and beat her severely with a club. When his daughter interfered, the man chased her off the place. Charges of insanity will be preferred against Hartman.

LODGE RESISTS DEATH CLAIM

South Dakota Workmen Go Into Personal History of a Former Nebraskan.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—While in Sioux Falls, T. Simmons, grand master workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen of South Dakota, officially announced that the grand lodge would resist payment of the death claim of John Hoffman, who died in Sioux Falls in the spring of 1904.

Since his death it has been learned that Hoffman was over the age limit of 50 years when he applied for admission to the lodge. But the most startling revelations were in connection with his matrimonial affairs. The grand lodge officers discovered that he had another wife living at some point in Nebraska.

It was further discovered that Hoffman was not the true name of the deceased member. The matter drifted along until the recent annual meeting of the grand lodge of the order. It was thought that possibly the grand lodge would order payment rather than have the collection of the policy taken into the courts. But no action was taken, and recently the beneficiary of the policy, the second wife of Hoffman, placed the matter in the hands of attorneys, with instructions to commence an action in the courts.

The grand lodge master workman states that the grand lodge is morally bound to resist payment of the amount of the policy, as there is, in the opinion of the grand lodge officers, sufficient evidence of fraud, and that in any event, if the policy was paid, the money should go to the heir or heirs of Hoffman's first wife, the deserted wife having died about a year ago at her home in Nebraska.

It is understood here that Hoffman had a son by the wife whom he deserted in Nebraska, and that the son is yet living. Important features in the trial of the case will be the application blank signed by Hoffman, evidence of the date of his birth and the alleged desertion of his lawful wife.

So far as known, this is the first time the Ancient Order United Workmen order in South Dakota has felt compelled to resist payment of a death claim.

COUNTY ATTORNEY UNDER FIRE

Ordered to Close Gambling Houses, Officer Tries to Resign, but Fails.

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—Alex T. Butler, who resigned as county attorney a few days ago, may be compelled to serve out his term, and, unless he changes his mind, may be sent to jail for contempt of court. The Board of County Commissioners has refused to accept Butler's resignation and the gambling controversy now takes on a new phase. Recently Judge C. E. Carpenter instructed Butler to close up gambling, and to report to him on October 19 if there were any violations of the anti-gambling [illegible]. Butler resigned in order, as he thought, to escape the responsibility of closing gambling and prosecuting the gamblers.

Butler says he will not report to Judge Carpenter on the 19th, that he is not the county attorney and that he will tell the judge he is no detective. If he takes this course Judge Carpenter may jail him for contempt. Butler says the judge has no authority to jug him for contempt, for he is not in contempt of the court.

Butler is a Missouri lawyer and has the reputation of being a fighter. He is not of the same political party as Judge Carpenter, and the fight between the legal light and jurist is bound to become interesting. Butler's friends admit the judge holds the strongest hand, but they say Butler is no fool and has a trump card up his sleeve.

In the meantime gambling continues, and no one has been found with sufficient nerve to either make a complaint against the gamesters or close up the games.

Wyoming Damage Suit Rule.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 13.—(Special.)—By his decision a few days ago in the suit for damages of the heirs of the late Roy Chamberlain, who was killed in the wreck at Azusa a year ago, Judge J. A. Howell of Ogden has set a precedent in matters of this kind. Chamberlain's heirs sued for $30,000. Chamberlain was riding on a pass, on the back of which he had signed an agreement releasing the railroad company from responsibility for damages above $1,000. The judge held that he could collect no more than this sum, and the jury brought in a verdict awarding the heirs $1,000 damages. A number of suits growing out of deaths and injuries in the Azusa wreck are pending, and the decision of the Utah judge will have an important bearing upon all.

Section Man Killed at Crossing.

HURON, S. D., Oct. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Chris Patterson, aged 25 years, single, was killed at the Dakota avenue crossing of the Northwestern railway today. He was working with a section crew and was caught by a switch engine, his body being horribly mangled. Patterson had been in the employ of the company several years and lived at Arlington.

SILVERIA FEARED REBELS

Friends Deny Report that the Defaulting Banker Backed the Last Revolution.

HAVANA, Oct. 13.—A rumor has been in circulation ever since the departure from Havana of Manuel Silveria, the fugitive Cuban banker, that he financed the late revolution, but Silveria's associates and others likely to know the facts in the case do not believe the report.

Silveria, they say, was extraordinarily frightened by the insurgents' anonymous threats, but those to whom he showed such letters say that all referred to revengefulness as the result of the killing of General Quentin Bandera at the Silveria farm, near Punta Brava. Nobody appears to have financed the revolution with the exception of a very few leaders, like General Gurras, who spent their own money for ammunition.

Silveira & Co. continue to pay all claims. While it is stated that Silveira converted the joint assets of himself and others, including the veteran army claims, into cash to the extent of possibly $1,000,000, bankers insist that the firm's indebtedness in Cuba is comparatively unimportant.

Stories that Silveira financed the revolution are believed to have arisen because of his close friendship to Jose Miguel Gomez, whom he is said to have assisted and employed as manager of the Silveira Sugar company. Formerly Silveira and ex-President Palma were intimate friends, but Silveira's friendship for Gomez, it is said, tended to lessen the regard of the president, who was watchful and jealous of any intimacy with the liberals. Silveira's friends say he believed the government would prevail in the revolution, and that while he may have assisted Gomez personally, he had no hand in furnishing funds to the revolutionists. Statements made by members of the revolutionary committee tend to corroborate this.

NERVE SAVED HIS LIFE

How a Penitentiary Warden Escaped by Keeping Cool in Presence of Convict.

Early on a certain morning many years ago the warden of a penitentiary, an elderly, gray bearded man, was at work at his desk. On a sudden he heard a panther-like tread in the room and he divined a presence behind him that would have made a less fearless man faint away.

The presence was that of one Patrick Burns, a desperado, who was doing life service for murder. This man held an ugly-looking dirk in his hand. The warden knew he was alone with the most dangerous prisoner in the penitentiary.

Pretending ignorance of Burns' proximity, the warden went on with his writing as if the criminal were not in existence. But his brain, remote from the papers that lay on the desk before him, was calculating with the swiftness and the accurac
