

The "Discovery" of the Soda Cracker

For years the humble soda cracker remained obscure and unappreciated. No one seemed to realize its food value—no one seemed to know that it was one of the most nutritious rations obtainable.

Then one day the soda cracker was "discovered." The NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY saw its value if properly presented to the public. They set about to bring its quality to the highest possible standard—the result being Uneda Biscuit, which are to-day recognized as one of the staple foods of the American people.

Nearly 400,000,000 packages of them have been sold, and the food value of the soda cracker is a settled fact.

DEMOCRATS STILL AT WAR

Faithful and Unterrified Are Fighting Over Location of Headquarters.

NEXT DOOR TO REPUBLICANS SUITS NOT

Hitchcock Element Objects to Dahlgren Democracy Rooms and Hotel Charges Prohibitive Price for Its Quarters.

The democratic camp is still worked up over the matter of campaign headquarters. The present unsettled state is not proving conducive to good work on the part of the central committee workers, who are chafing under what they consider a bungling management of the location of their headquarters in the Patterson block and next door to the republican committee. Chairman Gallagher, Vice Chairman Anheuser and Secretary Holmes of the democratic committee are finding it embarrassing to sit in what is now but nominally a headquarters, while Chairman Donohoe and his staff in the republican headquarters are as busy as bees with the work of the campaign.

A look-in Monday morning at the republican headquarters suggested that the campaign had been in progress a month, while next door, in the democratic camp, a few of the faithful are trying to keep up appearances with a pad of paper, pencil and an old roster containing names of voters. Chairman Gallagher's executive committee, consisting of John Power, Mayor Dahlgren, Mayor Hector of South Omaha and a few others, are taking the dilemma by the snuffers in the matter of getting suitable headquarters. They do not take kindly to the idea of mounting a pair of snuffers with a large "Republican Headquarters" banner staring them in the face every time. Efforts are now being made to have the democratic headquarters moved down to the Dahlgren Democracy rooms in the Union block. Overtures were made to get the headquarters in some hotel, preferably the one used last spring, but the rental of $300 was said to have been prohibitive.

The Jefferson club brethren, or the Hitchcock democrats, bear the brunt for locating the democratic headquarters in the Patterson block. The Dahlgren forces wanted it in the Dahlgren Democracy rooms on South Fifteenth street, but to this Hitchcock men objected for more than one reason. In the first place, they didn't propose to go that far in the direction of conciliation with the enemy, and in the next place they didn't think the odor surrounding that place as a result of past associations would help their cause to any great extent. It was some years ago a gambling resort, and later the headquarters of Branch's mayoralty boosters, though it is not on record that any Hitchcock cry was lifted against it on the latter account.

"It all goes to show," remarked Mike Lee, "that sweet harmony still reigns in the ranks of our friends, the enemy, in your mind."

A "home rule" meeting has been announced for Wednesday evening at the Dahlgren Democracy rooms. It is understood that "home rule" in this instance

Announcements of the Theaters.

A matinee this afternoon and a performance this evening will wind up the all too short stay of "The Free Lance" at the Boyd theater. This fine opera with the splendid organization that is presenting it, has made a tremendous hit in Omaha.

Willie Collier, who stands alone in his class, is coming to the Boyd on Wednesday evening for a single performance of "On the Quiet," one of the comedies he has made his own by his peculiar qualifications. He is on his way home from Australia, where he has just closed a very successful season.

Walker Whitehead begins his annual engagement at the Boyd on Thursday afternoon, presenting his new play, "The Magic Melody."

The regular professional matinee will be given at the Burwood theater this afternoon and visiting players will be made to feel at home in the cosy theater.

At the Krug theater, starting tonight and for two nights only, Charles E. Blaney presents the famous Irish tenor, Fiske O'Hara, in the Irish-American comedy drama "Mr. Blaney from Ireland." Politics forms the basis of the play and the scenes are laid in New York City. Mr. O'Hara is well supported by a large and capable acting company and the scenic display is as pretentious as any sent from New York this season. The usual Wednesday matinee will be given.

FOUNDER OF TOWN DIVORCED

Charles E. Friend Separated on Plea of Wife that He Failed to Support Her.

William Friend was granted a decree of divorce Monday from Charles E. Friend, the founder of the saline county town of that name. On the witness stand she said she and her husband were married thirty years ago and at one time he was in fair way to become wealthy. The town of Friend was laid out on his farm, making it a very valuable property. He has dissipated practically all of their money, leaving only a few lots in the town in his name. She declares life with him is intolerable owing to his habits and says he has not contributed to her support for a long time. She is now conducting a boarding house in Omaha.

BAN AGAINST DIVORCES

Omaha Ministerial Union May Vote Not to Remarry a Divorced Person.

SET OF RESOLUTIONS NOT AGREED ON

Several Other Provisions Pertaining to Matter of Matrimony and Divorce Demand Still More Consideration.

The Protestant ministers of Omaha who are members of the Omaha Ministerial union—and that includes nearly all the Protestant ministers in this city—will vote before them a resolution "to refuse under all circumstances to marry a divorced person."

The matter was presented at a meeting of the union at First Congregational church Monday morning, when a list of resolutions on the divorce question was submitted by a committee for endorsement. The list contained nine provisions and the union voted to consider them seriatim, beginning with the ninth. The ninth was amended and that was as far as the union got, the remainder, after much discussion, going over until another meeting.

This is the list of proposed resolutions: Realizing the great growing menace to the purity and stability of the home found in improper marriages and multiple divorces and realizing my responsible relation to the matter as a minister of the gospel, and desiring to join in a collective movement for remedying these evils, I sign my name below in declaration of my purpose:

1. To make careful inquiry of persons seeking to be married as to previous marriage, etc., in order that I may judge of the propriety of officiating.
2. To refuse to marry a divorced person, that their reliability be vouched for by someone whom I have full confidence.
3. To solemnize no marriage where I am convinced that either party is unfit for matrimony on account of immaturity, ill-health or vicious habits.
4. To marry no divorced person within one year from the granting of the decree.
5. To refuse in every case to marry a divorced person whom I have reason to believe is the offender against the marriage bond.
6. To refuse to marry a divorced person where the divorce is obtained by collusion without adequate ground on either side.
7. To refuse a divorced person, except the innocent party in a case where to the best of my knowledge and belief the offender was guilty of willful desertion or adultery.
8. To refuse to marry any divorced person who has been granted the divorce in a case where to the best of my knowledge and belief the other party was guilty of adultery.
9. To refuse under all circumstances to officiate at the wedding of a divorced person.

It is understood that in all the above cases the reunion of a couple divorced is excepted.

Excites Much Discussion.

The report was submitted through the chairman, Rev. H. C. Herring, pastor of the First Congregational church, the report being made the special order for this meeting. The motion to adopt the report brought out an animated discussion. Dr. J. W. Conley of the First Baptist church objected to proposition No. 2 on the ground that to require the endorsement of some one else for the most delicate subject for the officiating minister to handle, Father Williams of St. Barnabas Episcopal church wanted proposition No. 9 so amended as to read "excepting for causes existing before marriage." Presiding Elder William Gorst of the Methodist Episcopal church was of the impression that the whole matter should be left over until the next meeting of the association. Rev. H. J. Kirchstein of the North Side Christian church moved an amendment eliminating all propositions except Nos. 1 and 3. Rev. Frank L. Loveland of the First Methodist church stated that looking at the matter from a legal standpoint "the pledges simply present nine separate indictments, and after all I do not think this is really what we want to get at. I was a member of the legal profession before entering the ministry and I cannot but see that in submitting these pledges in legal parlance we would be laughed out of court."

Rev. B. F. Fellman of Grace Baptist church held that there was a legal element in the propositions that the ministry could not afford to ignore. Marriage being a civil contract a minister refusing to marry a couple producing a legal license to marry might find himself amenable for damages.

Wants to Vote on Each One.

Rev. J. Randolph Smith of Trinity Methodist church thought the members of the Ministerial union might subscribe en masse to each of the propositions as they are, but that the question was not upon the signing of the pledges, but merely on the adoption of the report of the committee. Presiding Elder Gorst moved that the pledges be considered seriatim beginning at the bottom. Dr. Loveland was still anxious to know what could be accomplished under this proposition. The motion of Dr. Gorst to consider the propositions seriatim prevailed. The amendment to proposition No. 9, made by Father Williams was adopted.

It becoming evident that the discussion of the several propositions would take some time, a motion to limit the discussion to ten minutes prevailed. At this juncture Dr. Herring moved the appointment of a committee of five to take the whole question under consideration and to report at the next meeting to be held two weeks hence. This motion prevailed and Chairman Cissell appointed Rev. H. C. Herring, Rev. J. R. Smith, Rev. A. S. C. Clarke, Rev. J. W. Conley and Rev. J. E. Hummon as such committee.

Officers Are Elected.

The meeting being the annual meeting of the union the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Rev. Clyde Clay Cissell, Hauscom Park Methodist Episcopal church; vice president, Rev. George Van Winkle, First Baptist church, South Omaha; secretary-treasurer, Rev. Andrew B. Beck, United Presbyterian church, South Omaha; executive committee, Rev. L. O. Baird, St. Mary's Avenue Congregational; Rev. M. V. Highben, Knox Presbyterian and Rev. V. A. McBride, D. D., Central United Presbyterian church. The officers are also members ex-officio of the executive committee.

The only other matters considered at the meeting were to complete the details for the Torrey evangelical meetings and the allowance of current miscellaneous bills.

A Certain Cure for Croup—Used for Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His child, who has been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the last ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough.

Settling a Good Example.

Considering how general is the use of Hungarian bitter waters, it is interesting that the proprietors of the Apenta water give assurance that the working of the Apenta springs, Budapest, Hungary, at which it is bottled, is carried out not on merely commercial lines, but under the scientific and hygienic supervision of Dr. J. von Liebermann, professor at the Hygienic Institute of the Royal university at Budapest. The analyses of Apenta, as published in the text-books on mineral water springs, show that the sulphates of soda and of magnesia, of which the latter is predominant, are the chief constituent. Apenta is best known as a still or non-effervescent water, but it can also be carbonated, in small bottles called splits. It is said that the importation of this water has grown very considerably in recent years, and it is well known that Hungarian apert water has been in world-wide use for many years.
