

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER. VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

Entered at Omaha postoffice as second-class matter. Terms of Subscription: Daily Bee (without Sunday), one year...

OFFICES: Omaha—The Bee Building, South Omaha—City Hall Building, Council Bluffs...

COMMUNICATIONS: Communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed to Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

REMITTANCES: Remit by draft, express or postal order payable to The Bee Publishing Company.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION: State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss. Charles C. Rosewater, general manager...

Table with columns for circulation figures and dates, ranging from 1892 to 1906.

Net total sales: 297,642. Daily average: 30,528. CHARLES C. ROSEWATER, General Manager.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 1st day of October, 1906. M. B. HUNGATE, Notary Public.

WHEN OUT OF TOWN: Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have the Bee mailed to them.

Register today. If you don't register, you can't vote.

Those Hindoos at Vancouver will learn that the British flag guarantees just as much liberty in Canada as Canadiana desire.

If the people do not soon rally to the support of the dollar campaign funds the churches may find rivalry in the "oyster supper" field.

The democrats in the council seem to have taken special care to delay initiating the initiative until too late to get a referendum on it.

That widely advertised contest between E. H. Harriman and Stuyvesant Fish failed to materialize, probably because it was widely advertised.

The advocates and opponents of a second telephone franchise are still talking at long distance. They will get down to closer connections before election.

A light on conditions in Poland may be seen in the capture of alleged bandits by police only after they had ceased to contribute to revolutionary party funds.

In the interests of millionaires who want to make sure their wills are not contested, the contents of that remarkable note in the Weightman case should be made public.

Judging by the denunciation of Board of Trade rules by Chicago grain dealers, there are still a few men in the pit who want to see the grain as well as watch the ticker.

If Prince Bismarck also left his memoirs to be published, they will probably cause the Kaiser more trouble than the rather colorless recollections of Von Hohenlohe.

Those men who pretend to show their respect for law by evading it may be shrewder than those who openly violate the statutes, but the matter is one of degree rather than kind.

Now that it has been decided that the funds of the Mormon church can be legally used in commercial enterprises, Reed Smoot should prepare for the explosion of another bomb in the senate.

Railway executive officers who are so careless as to leave their personal hand stamps lying around loose while on a trip to Europe should not be surprised to find themselves bound by the record.

The misfortunes of French submarine boats may be Fate's way of showing that under no conditions may France be a strong maritime power, despite efforts of kingdom, empire and republic.

No previous registration holds good this year. To vote at the coming election every elector in Omaha or South Omaha must appear personally before the registration board of his district on a registration day.

Roni de Castellane seems determined to hold to a good thing as long as possible, but it is difficult for American eyes to see where a divorce should depend upon the payment of a husband's debts, although it might be cheap at twice the price except for a suspicion that the count has arranged for a "divvy" from the creditors.

NEW KIND OF TRUST EVASION.

The public has lately gained much information of the manner in which the corporation laws of the single state of New Jersey facilitate the nullification and evasion of the efforts of other states to remedy trust and combination evils...

This is precisely the point which President Roosevelt in his recent Harrisburg address throws into bold relief to emphasize the necessity of remedy by national authority. The fact that the incorporation laws of foreign nations are used by our trade conspirators to paralyze state restraints only magnifies his admonition.

When the democratic councilmen at the instigation of the democratic candidate for congress adopted the resolution providing for submission of ordinance No. 5767...

When the democratic councilmen at the instigation of the democratic candidate for congress adopted the resolution providing for submission of ordinance No. 5767 "at the general election to be held in November, 1906,"...

With an election almost at hand at which the democrats hope to land a few of their candidates, no subterfuge to gain votes is beyond them. It is not a question whether the people of Omaha favor or oppose the initiative and referendum...

It turns out that if the Omaha Coal exchange is a trust amenable to prosecution under the law, its operations have been with the sanction and approval of Candidate Hitchcock's World-Herald and former County Attorney English...

Our honored lasso-throwing mayor justifies his wholesale pardoning of petty offenders and vicious characters gathered in by the police on the ground of the expense of keeping them in jail. He could use the same excuse to turn free every criminal ever captured...

In the bright lexicon used by Mayor "Jim" no one is a criminal unless he kills a man at twenty paces. Little offenses like picking pockets, petit larceny and assault and battery do not come within his definition of crime.

President Hamilton of the American Bankers' association will at least admit that even the most sensational newspaper articles could not scare defrauded depositors to death if there were no bank failures.

The Navy department is said to have changed front on turbine engines since reports have been received of the operation of the Dreadnaught; but the ship should be seen in action before being fully approved.

oughly impressed upon the Cuban mind that revolutionary dancers must when he was running for congress he promised to give up his passes and then rode to Washington on free transportation and collected railroads from the government.

The democratic city council, aided and abetted by the democratic candidate for congress, has entered into a game of political claptrap on the eve of election for the purpose of catching the votes of friends of the initiative and referendum.

The president of the university in Scotland announced lately, with much enthusiasm, that the institution had adopted the reform, and spoke of its importance in colonial and dependent lands...

It appears that irrigation is helping to solve one of the government's most vexing problems, the Indian question. The execution of the great Milk River project in northern Montana is being carried on largely by means of Indian labor.

That name is likely to cause a misapprehension. There is no such thing as the automobile heart. Weak hearts there are and they are possessed by people in all walks of life.

Candidate Shallenberger now declares that we need no new laws to regulate railroads in Nebraska and correct corporate abuses, but only one to enforce the laws we now have.

Tom Watson has resigned from the editorship of Watson's Magazine, which is a clear case of Hamlet without the prince.

Sam Lewis, money lender, was a notorious character in London, but his millions went to charity, and will in no part be rejected by reason of fault.

Prof. Jose de Gomar of Washington, has been sent to Cuba as an interpreter with the army. He speaks Spanish, French, Italian, English and Arabic with equal fluency.

Emperor William frequently goes about his capital disguised and unattended, to study the problems and condition of his people. The tours are mostly taken at night, not even his gentleman-in-waiting being in attendance.

Dr. S. A. Frazier of Berkeley college has invented a new language which he calls "Trinitin." It is a combination of Latin, Greek and Sanskrit.

ROUND ABOUT NEW YORK.

Some Impartial Reflections on the State Campaign. To obtain an uncolored perspective of the progress of the campaign for the governorship of the Empire state, other sources of information than New York City papers must be sought.

One of these impartial observers is James P. Hornaday, staff correspondent of the Indianapolis News. Mr. Hornaday is an Indiana editor of ripe experience, discernment and judgment.

"He points out that the state railroad commission is paid by the railroads, appointed by the railroads through a governor whom they choose, serves the railroads, and remains passive in the face of deliberate violations of law."

"Before the campaign is over the republicans and those democrats who have been aiding Hearst and his cause, will have to deal in facts. They are beginning to realize that they can not laugh the man and the cause he represents out of court."

"In a sense President Roosevelt's program for controlling the corporations is tried in this campaign. It must figure in the discussions because of Mr. Hughes is simply echoing the president's views."

It is the first campaign in the history of New York state politics in which the corporations have had to take a back seat. Presumably they prefer Hughes to Hearst, but they are not welcomed in either camp.

"The remarkable things Hearst and his independent league are doing—his flying in the faces of the local bosses here in Greater New York, their treatment of Chairman Connors of the democratic committee and their breaking away from all political precedents—naturally give the candidate an immense amount of advertising."

"The novel scheme he has hit on for reaching the people in the more remote parts of the state is attracting very attention. The day before he left for up state he talked for two hours into a phonograph, and as his political speech was being 'captioned' a moving picture machine caught him in the act."

"Next week the industrialists and their representatives will invade the country school districts up state with twelve free shows—Hearst and his campaign speech. In this way he will

When You Take Cold. One way is to pay no attention to it; at least, not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

POINTED PLEASANTRIES.

Ascum—is your boss going to give you the raise you asked for? Clark—Well, I'm afraid to say, I told him I thought my pay should be commensurate with the amount of work I do and he promptly agreed with me—Philadelphia Press.

"Do you think our candidate has a chance of being elected?" asked the eager campaigner. "Oh, yes," answered the man who is never very encouraging. "But you shouldn't put too much faith in that proverb about it always being the unexpected that happens."—Washington Star.

"Economicizing, are they? You surprise me. I understand they were simply rolling in wealth. That may be true, but I believe they have to be careful not to roll too far."—Cleveland Leader.

"A popular marrying minister flourishes best in a very poor state of affairs that paralyze any other business." "What might that be?" "Wages going up upon a prolonged tie-up."—Baltimore American.

"Yes, they're the most disgraced young couple you ever saw; their marriage is a regular failure." "I don't even know they were married until you told me just now." "Oh, yes; they were married, under the rose."

"Nature designed me as a poet," remarked the visitor, handing over a manuscript. "Ah! May I ask what seemed to interfere with nature's plan?" replied the editor, returning the paper.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"The boys are marchin' when the music they are playin' when the boys go marchin' by." "It's better than an open air concert," said the speaker, "for the boys are marchin' by—It's better than an open air concert," said the speaker, "for the boys are marchin' by."

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder. Has a dietetic value greatly beyond the conception of any one who has not used it. It will make your food of a delicious taste, a moist and keeping quality and a digestibility not to be obtained from any other baking powder or leavening agent.

But more important than all else, Dr. Price's Baking Powder carries only healthful qualities to the food. As every housekeeper can understand, burnt alum and sulphuric acid—the ingredients of all alum and alum-phosphate powders—must carry to the food acids injurious to health.

Dr. Price's Baking Powder advertisement with a circular logo and a small illustration of a woman.

Pillsbury's Best Cereal Food-VITOS advertisement. 1 1/4 cts per pound is all you pay for PILLSBURY'S Best Cereal Food-VITOS. It's Pillsbury's Very Best and when compared with the ordinary ten cent, ready-to-serve cereal, what's the answer. QUALITY Good 12 months in the year. ASK YOUR GROCER.