

A Pretty Strong Argument in Favor of Our Removal Sale

Would you consider it good business to overlook a proposition where you can save from 10% to 50% in your purchases of FURNITURE, RUGS AND DRAPERIES? This is what we can save for you. All our stock at our present location must be closed out within the next few weeks, as we have bought an entire new stock for our new store. It is imperative that this stock must go—no matter what the loss may be. There is still thousands of dollars worth of CARPETS, FURNITURE, LACE CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES to be disposed of, and you will be the gainer by many dollars. Don't overlook this opportunity.

EDGAR LOCK TAKES HIS LIFE

Broods Over Declining Health and Finally Ends All by Cutting Throat with Razor.

After brooding over his ill health for many months Edgar Lock, who resides at 522 North Twenty-third street with his wife and daughter decided to end it all and cut his throat with a razor sometime Tuesday night. Lock was formerly a traveling salesman in the employ of the American Handsewed Shoe company but resigned his position last spring owing to his health which had been constantly declining for several years. Since that time he has not been working and constantly brooded over the state of his health and the fact that it precluded his working.

no intimation of his intention to end his life. Wednesday morning Mrs. Lock went down stairs about 8 o'clock and tried to awaken her husband, who was then lying on the floor covered by a quilt, but this fact did not alarm her as he often slept in this manner, but when he refused to answer her calls or respond when she shook him she became alarmed and called Thomas E. Dwyer, an attorney who rooms in the house, who responded and discovered that Mr. Lock had cut his throat with a razor completely severing the jugular vein. The razor, covered with blood, was found lying at the dead man's side. The coroner was notified but it is clearly a case of suicide caused by melancholia due to an over abundance of alcoholism. Mr. Lock was 52 years of age and is survived by his wife and daughter Edith. The funeral arrangements have not been definitely decided upon as yet.

Following the policy adopted by the American Federation of Labor, Omaha Central Labor union next Tuesday will hold an election at Labor temple on the various candidates, who will go before the voters November 6. The purpose is to get an expression and thus determine who shall receive the endorsement of the labor union. As a preliminary to this election Central Labor union sent all candidates a list of questions touching on the initiative and referendum, eight-hour law, vestibule law, twelve-hour shifts for the Omaha firemen, anti-injunction bill pending in congress, and other issues of particular interest to the rank and file of laboring men.

The examination of Walter Willis, former secretary of the Omaha Coal exchange, was concluded Wednesday morning by County Attorney Slabough. Little additional evidence of impropriety was brought out. In his cross-examination Mr. Willis said by the term "cutting prices" used in his evidence he meant a reduction of the retail price by dealers without letting the exchange know of the change.

GOSSIP OF THE CAMPAIGN

Central Labor Union Next Tuesday Selects Its Ticket by Referendum.

ELECTION HELD AT LABOR TEMPLE

Democrats Are Beating the Tom-Tom Over Home Rule, Which Is Not an Issue This Fall.

Following the policy adopted by the American Federation of Labor, Omaha Central Labor union next Tuesday will hold an election at Labor temple on the various candidates, who will go before the voters November 6. The purpose is to get an expression and thus determine who shall receive the endorsement of the labor union.

The candidates were requested to express themselves on the questions noted and return to Labor temple for file. These answers are being examined by the members of the organized labor bodies. Next Tuesday each member of the various unions, who want to vote will receive a ballot, which he will mark in a manner similar to a regular election. The vote will be canvassed by a committee Tuesday evening and the result announced. The committee in charge of the election consists of L. V. Gye, A. H. Schroeder, Edward Glenn, A. G. Terrell and A. F. Hanson.

No filing fee will be exacted from candidates, whose names are placed on the central Labor union ballot, the various local unions agreeing to defray expenses incident to the election.

Labor leaders declare that the purpose of holding these preliminary elections is educational one, the object being to educate labor to discriminate and support those candidates in sympathy with organized labor.

An interesting feature of an otherwise featureless campaign is the hue and cry being raised by the democrats on the so-called home rule proposition. Nearly every democratic candidate has some reference to home rule on his advertising cards, home rule meetings are being advertised and a tempest is being raised in a topos by the democrats over the self-imposed issue of so-called home rule. The fact of the matter is the home rule question is not an issue of the present campaign and the intelligent voters know that. The present home rule noise is but an echo of the "liberal policy" advocated by the democrats last spring. As a matter of fact the republican candidates are as much in favor of home rule as their opponents.

Chairman Donohoe and Secretary Woodland at republican headquarters have the work of registration well in hand. They are impressing on every voter the fact that all must register and that previous registrations are null and void.

Some of the humor of the campaign has found expression on the candidates' cards. John M. Tanner of South Omaha has this

FACTORY MEN LOOK TO OMAHA

Manufacturers Would Like to Secure Locations Here.

Commissioner Guild of the Commercial club is in correspondence with a citizen of Malden, Mass., who proposes to manufacture oil clothing in some western city and who says the project is already financed. He wants no bonus, but wishes to find a suitable building with 15,000 feet floor space in a city which has no industry similar to the one he proposes. Omaha answers requirements in the latter respect and Mr. Guild thinks the building can be found. The Malden man has spent his life in the factory of the A. G. Tower company, Malden.

The H. E. Thompson Patent Automatic Ventilating system of Louisville, Ky., also has written to Mr. Guild regarding a site. This concern will be looked up.

The Eby Manufacturing company, organized to make the DeJarnette automobile wheels, is talking of leaving Omaha for lack of financial assistance and says it has a proposition from York, Neb., to locate there. The Commercial club has taken this matter up and will see what can be done. The company has orders for wheels to be delivered next spring, but as yet it has not got to an operating basis. The wheel was invented by J. F. DeJarnette of Omaha and its tests have been satisfactory.

Thursday afternoon is the time and the Millard hotel the place designated for the hearing of charges filed by the executive committee of the Civic Federation against the Omaha Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, charging it with failure to carry out the law in the regulation of saloons. PEOPLE IN LINE FOR SEATS

Lively Demand Apparent at the Opening of Horse-Show Sale.

UNPRECEDENTED CLAMOR FOR THE BOXES

Promenade Privilege Will Be Granted Those Occupying Seats in First Three Rows of the Balcony.

That the lovers of the horse are showing keener interest in the Horse show this year than in any previous year was demonstrated at the Auditorium box office Wednesday morning when the seat sale was opened. A line of over fifteen people was in waiting for Manager Gillan to open the doors and from that on all during the morning hours a continuous stream of people was seeking seats. Last year the ticket sale was opened a week in advance of the show, but this year the box office was not opened until Wednesday of the week before the show. Demands for boxes were unprecedented and many who were put out from securing boxes did the next best thing which was to get a seat downstairs. Because of the great demand for seats the management has decided to grant the promenade privilege to those occupying seats in the first three rows in the balcony. Although the price for these balcony seats is less than for seats downstairs, still these are splendid seats from which to view the show.

Stalls Are Completed. Superintendent Austin has the stalls in the basement all completed, making ninety-five stalls and thirty box stalls, but these will be wholly inadequate for the horses which are coming from abroad. The management has been compelled to arrange for many outside stalls in nearby livery stables. The lot used for the hitching tent in former years will not be available this year, because Rome Miller is building a hotel upon it, but two smaller tents will be pitched on neighboring lots, which will give ample room for the horses.

Mr. Willis said that nothing of the letter as it was written before he became secretary. He said as far as he knew the exchange of 1893 and the present one were different organizations.

Mr. Willis was the last witness called by Judge Slabough. The latter has not decided whether he will take any more depositions at present or not. He has expressed himself as well satisfied with the nature of the evidence he has procured against the alleged Coal trust.

UPDEGRAFF AS RINGMASTER

The management of the Horse show has secured the services of O. P. Updegraff of Topeka as ringmaster. Mr. Updegraff is well known in Omaha as he has been the starter and secretary of speed at many of the events, which have been held in Omaha in years gone by. As ringmaster he will have charge of the arena and give the orders to the exhibitors under orders from the judges.

Colonel Stapp and his big megaphone will be missing from the Horse show this year, and instead a more subdued score board will be used on which the numbers of the winners will be placed. The Auditorium being circular with people on all sides, announcements had to be made in four directions and these will be done away with.

Extraordinary care is given some of these show horses. Crow & Murray and Pepper & Co., with their big Toronto stables, carry a groom for each horse. The Kansas City Times is speaking of the attention given to one of the horses after it left the arena said:

A number of hostlers stood watching one of Crow & Murray's horses at its toilet. The groom used one bottle and bathed the animal's feet. Another was used in sleeking part of its coat. The mane and tail were carefully brushed. Clean white bandages were wrapped about its legs. Its bath robe was then thrown over it, and it was put in a bed of straw.

BIGGEST RUSH FOR HOMES

More Settlers Pass Through Omaha Wednesday Than Any Other One Day.

More homeseekers passed through Omaha Wednesday morning than at any time in the history of the efforts of the railroads to build up the west. The stations were alive with people from the east and north and south going to western Nebraska in the search of homes and farms for which this state is becoming so noted all over the country.

Both the Northwestern and the Milwaukee came in with two large sections of their morning trains Wednesday, the second section in both cases being filled entirely with homeseekers. These left immediately for the west in charge of land agents and homeseekers bureaus, which are doing so much in the upbuilding of the state.

Burlington trains both Tuesday and Wednesday had all the business they could handle, which showed the good work which had been done in promoting the values of western lands.

Malta-Vita

NO Cooking--Ready to Eat

Malta-Vita is so good to eat because it is made from the finest whole white wheat, thoroughly cooked and matured, then mixed with pure, rich barley malt extract and rolled into little wafer flakes and baked crisp and brown. It is the most healthful food in the world for the same reason. The malt extract turns the starch of the wheat into maltose, or malt sugar. Maltose is most easily digested and physicians recommend it because it is so strengthening. Malta-Vita is rich in maltose. Get some Malta-Vita today.
