

Took Pe-ru-na, Hardly Daring to Believe

So Writes Mr. Newhof, of Albany.

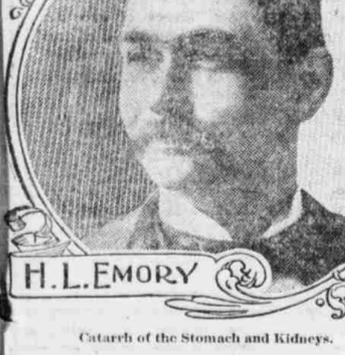

Pelvic Diseases in Men.

Many an invalid is dragging out a miserable existence with catarrh of the kidneys, catarrh of the bladder, or both. There is no disease equal to catarrh of the bladder in producing complete wretchedness, absolute despair, haggard misery and stubborn weakness. An army of this sort of victims have one by one discovered that Peruna could be relied upon to relieve such cases.

One man tells another man, and in this way the news spreads until in all parts of the country are to be found men who have been permanently liberated from the thralldom of catarrh of the bladder by the use of Peruna.

Many cases of catarrh of the stomach, kidneys and other abdominal organs have reported themselves as cured.

We give below two prominent testimonials which illustrate the benefit of Peruna in these cases.

CHARLES B. NEWHOF

Catarrh of the Bladder.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delaware Street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes: "Since my advanced age I find that I have been frequently troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped, but found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided, and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was twenty years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."

H. L. EMORY

Catarrh of the Stomach and Kidneys.

Mr. David L. Jaycox, Chaplain Clarinda I. O. G. T. and Chaplain G. A. R., 865 Broadway, Oakland, Cal., writes: "I contracted severe bladder and kidney trouble. I spent hundreds of dollars and consulted a host of doctors, but neither did me any good."

"Finally some of my comrades who had been cured by Peruna advised me to try it. I at once bought a bottle, and found it helped me so much that I kept using it for nearly four months. The aches gradually diminished, and it was a blessed relief I can assure you. Within three months I was well once more. My appetite had returned, my nervousness and irritability were things of the past, and for over two years now I have been a healthy man."

well known writer and lecturer, writes from 11 South Nicholas St., Chicago, Ill., as follows: "I was in good health until about four years ago, when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing, with severe twitches and slow exhaustive aches. Urine was highly colored and passed with great irregularity. I knew this must be inflammation of the bladder. Having read of Peruna I decided to try it. I found relief from the pain within ten days. The aches gradually diminished, and it was a blessed relief I can assure you. Within three months I was well once more. My appetite had returned, my nervousness and irritability were things of the past, and for over two years now I have been a healthy man."

"I give all thanks to your Peruna, and believe that it is a blessing to mankind."

BRITISH WATCHING HEARST

New York Campaign is Awakening Considerable Interest Abroad.

LONDON TIMES DISCUSSES SITUATION

"Thunderer" Decides that Democratic Candidate Must Have Some Ability Despite Opinion of Others on Subject.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Special Cablegram to the Times.)—Europe is taking unusual interest in the canvass of William Randolph Hearst for the post of governor of the state of New York. The idea succeeds in his mind at the head of the "forces of discontent," which have amassed 5,000,000 votes in Germany under the name of socialism, and which had they known their power might even have captured the last British parliament, under the banner of the labor party. And strangely enough the option appears to prevail that Mr. Hearst, at the head of forces of this character, may be more powerful in defeat than in victory—that if defeated he might be hand-picked by the routine of office as the candidate that patronage is a two-edged sword that cuts both ways, but that without the weight of an office upon his shoulders he might be able to keep up a more aggressive fight than if elected governor, where, to a great or less extent, he might find his hands tied.

Curiously—a feeling that in victory or defeat this spectacular young editor may yet cut a wide swath in the history of the world, though he should never be elected president or governor, appears to be the paramount opinion as reflected by the English and continental press.

Comment of the Times. That even the "Thunderer" is puzzled is shown by the following editorial from the London Times:

The question of Mr. Hearst as a candidate for the governorship of New York by the democratic state convention—what we should call the "Hearst" convention—has been discussed by the North American Review as a "living and glaring reproach to American civilization." The nomination, says there is no longer any doubt that Mr. Hearst is a "disgrace to the democratic convention of Iowa on that occasion," his delegates were greeted with cries of "Brass collar" and "Hearst is the cost." It was just the same at Buffalo. We are told that no political body has ever elected into its ranks a man who has so completely disgraced the name of the party. The corruption is declared to be the worst of the kind. Mr. Hearst's political honor that it is assumed every self-respecting person must vote against his newspapers, very few people seem to know, the district attorney, who was Mr. Hearst's chief rival in the convention, has announced that he will support the republican candidate. To the disinterested observer all this simply amounts to a disgrace to journalism, a wholesale employment of corrupt artifice who appeals to the lowest passions.

Foresees Presidential Candidate.

No American politician has been more widely and astutely demoted. Yet the democratic convention of New York—the most important state convention—nominates this man for the governorship. It is almost the only alternative to the republican candidate. If Hearst is elected, the republican candidate will be a "disgrace to journalism, a wholesale employment of corrupt artifice who appeals to the lowest passions."

NOTORIETY UNAVOIDABLE.

Of all yellow journals—none has been yellower than they, and Mr. Hearst is no exception. It is not surprising that a man of his kind should find it difficult to stand upon a high plane. He has taken part in a division. Yet we are told that in this campaign he has repeatedly uttered the most forcible and successful speeches. Marked ability of some kind he must have, for no man entirely lacking in ability and magnetism could control the great business interests which Mr. Hearst controls and make his way to the forefront of politics through a perfect blaze of reprobation. But what is known about him at present is compared with the unimpaired "under the searching test of the next two years we shall see what he is really made of."

Position of Tammany.

The "Easiest side" of New York, a vast population of immigrants, diverse occupations and the prey of unscrupulous organizations, like Tammany, are expected to go solid for Mr. Hearst. Large numbers, both of the lower middle class and of the aristocracy, are expected to vote for Mr. Hearst. It is perhaps the most important fact in the situation, and it is also the most remarkable, for a month or two ago Mr. Murphy, the Tammany leader, was being caricatured as a convict in Mr. Hearst's papers, and it is the outcome of all these paradoxes? If Mr. Hearst secures the governorship for the democratic party, it will be a sign that New York state may very probably go democratic in the presidential election. The interests of the water company are being looked after by Judge Sam Chapman of Plattsmouth and John L. Webster of Omaha. Judge Munger has taken the case under advisement.

Quincy, Sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quincy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Ottumwa, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings.

MORE RULINGS ON RATE LAW

Interstate Commerce Commission Knocks Out Extension of Tickets for Stickiness of Purchaser.

The Interstate Commerce commission has handed down a decision that it would no longer extend the limit of tickets because of sickness. The practice of the railroads has been to extend the limit of a ticket provided the purchaser made sufficient showing that he was unable to continue his travels within the specified time, but this has been changed. The commission held that perhaps this should be done in cases of emergency, but that 50 per cent of the cases were not bona fide and were simply a device to get an extension on a cheap rate ticket when the purchaser was not entitled to it.

is the only malted whole-wheat food, and no other food is so healthful or so good to eat. The use of pure, rich malt extract with wheat is the exclusive Malta-Vita process, and it is this process that makes Malta-Vita so essentially different from all other flaked wheat foods,—so superior. The malt extract makes the nutritious whole-wheat easy to digest by turning the starch of the cooked wheat into maltose, or malt sugar, a food substance of greatest value, very wholesome and practically pre-digested. Maltose gives Malta-Vita a deliciousness, too, not found in any other wheat food.
