CUMMINS TALKS PLAINLY

Does Not Attempt to Mince Matters Concerning the Campaign.

GENERAL DODGE GETS AN OVATION

Distinguished General an Interested and Interesting Auditor—Opera House Crowded to Hear Address.

"I am not only opposed by Mr. Porter, the democratic candidate for governor, a man for whom I entertain sincere personal friendship, and whose character and attainments I hold in high respect, but I am opposed at this moment, and I dislike to say it, by every political opponent in the state of Iowa. In every campaign in which they are conducting a bureau in Des Moines are an adjunct to the democratic state committee," declared Governor A. B. Cummins last night during the course of his speech at the New Theater.

Referring to the democratic candidate for governor, Mr. Cummins said: "Mr. Porter hopes but does not expect to be elected. There is a great difference between 'hope' and 'expect.' I hope and I expect to be elected. I will be elected." It was followed by a political attack on the opposition of the opposition of the railroads in Iowa to him before and since his nomination. "Despite their opposition, nothing will be said by me between this and November 5. I draw these influences to me, and I would not have their support, even if I could. I will be elected by the people of the great state of Iowa," was the emphatic declaration of the governor.

The meeting at the opera house partook more the character of a love feast than a political rally and Governor Cummins' speech differed greatly from those he had been making elsewhere throughout the state. Except towards the close of his speech Governor Cummins refrained from touching on the state campaign, and spoke mainly on national issues, describing in his usual eloquent way the prosperity of the country at large and the factors responsible for this prosperity.

Tribute to General Dodge.

The presence of General Grenville M. Dodge in one of the boxes near the stage and a number of veterans of the civil war in the body of the house prompted Governor Cummins to pay not only the famous army commander but the old soldiers also an eloquent tribute. To General Dodge he paid him the compliment of calling him the greatest living soldier of the republic, which tribute the audience received by prolonged applause. To the old soldiers grouped in front of him the governor, speaking of them as the heroes of 1861, declared that the old soldiers were still the leaders of the republican party.

Hon. Charles M. Hart, who presided over the meeting, referring to the presence of General Dodge when introducing Governor Cummins, said: "It is a great pleasure to the republicans of Council Bluffs to have as their guest the most distinguished soldier of Iowa and greatest citizen of Council Bluffs. Today General Dodge registered as a voter in Council Bluffs and will pledge his fidelity to republicanism and the republican candidates by voting the entire ticket, from Cummins to constable." Mr. Hart then called upon the audience to salute the general and the audience rose to its feet as one person and with ringing cheers saluted the famous soldier. General Dodge as soon as the applause had subsided and the audience was seated stood up and gracefully acknowledged the compliment.

In introducing Governor Cummins Mr. Hart said that while there might be a difference of opinion among republicans as to tariff, there was none as to protection and prosperity. Mr. Cummins, he said, stood today as the Henry Burr of republicanism in Iowa today. What differences there are should be settled in the council chamber of republicanism and not by arming and pointing to the enemy at the ballot box.

SOCIETY EXPECTS TO EXPAND

Many Officers of Army of Tennessee Not New Members.

The reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee in Council Bluffs next month is expected to result in a material increase in the membership of the organization. Major Richmond has been advised by many different officers of the Army of the Tennessee who are not members of the society that they will attend the reunion here and it is expected they will become members.

Of the 250 living members of the society, about 300 are expected to attend the reunion. There are nearly 500 more officers who served in the Army of the Tennessee who are eligible to membership and invitations have been sent as far as possible to each one to attend the reunion in Council Bluffs.

Major Richmond, widow of General Mortimer D. Leggett, the last commander of the Seventeenth army corps, would attend the reunion at the annual banquet. Mrs. Leggett is resident of Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Major Dickey of the Forty-sixth Illinois at the close of the war, will, it is understood, become a member of the society at this reunion. At the close of the war Captain Dickey, as he was then, was brevetted major by President Johnson for gallant and meritorious services during the war.

These are the present officers of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee: President, General Grenville M. Dodge; Vice President, General A. B. Cummins; Secretary, General W. L. Ransom, Chicago; Treasurer, Major G. H. Richmond, Council Bluffs; Major A. Sabine, Garden City; Capt. J. C. Banks, Cincinnati; Major James M. Lewis, St. Louis; Major Leo Danner, St. Louis; Captain W. C. Caldwell, St. Louis; Captain R. M. Campbell, Peoria, Ill.; Captain B. N. Stevens, Stanton, Mich.; Captain J. B. Soper, Smettersburg, Ia.; Corresponding Secretary, Major W. C. Chamberlain, Cincinnati; Treasurer, Major Augustus Van Dyke, Cincinnati; Recording Secretary, Colonel Cornelius Cadis, Cincinnati.

Surety Company Asks Protection. The American Surety company secured in the district court yesterday afternoon from Judge Green an injunction restraining George J. Gumb, M. J. Fitzgibbon and J. N. Fitzgibbon, three saloon keepers of Missouri Valley, from disposing of their property. On behalf of the American Surety company it was represented that the three defendants were seeking to dispose of their property in order to avoid liability for damages for the death of H. Hammond and thereby throw the liability upon the plaintiff's company.

Mary E. Hammond, widow of H. Hammond, brought suit against the three saloon keepers last month for $2,000 damages, alleging that her husband, while intoxicated with liquor, secured from the defendants a charter for a stage to be used to care for himself, the western railroad and was killed. Since the suit was started it is alleged the three saloon keepers have attempted to dispose of their property. George Gumb, it is alleged, transferred his realty holdings to his brother and gave a chattel mortgage also to his mother covering his stock of goods and fixtures. J. N. Fitzgibbon, it is alleged, gave a chattel mortgage in favor of his wife on his stock and fixtures. The court yesterday that M. J. Fitzgibbon was also about to dispose of his property. The American Surety company is bondman for the three defendants in the sum of $1,000.

Pigeon Cage Is Robbed. Thieving vandals broke into the pigeon cage at Fairmount park Thursday night and stole between fifty and seventy-five birds, many of them being fancy breeds. The cage was in the hands of the police when it was found empty. The cage was cut in several places, but the birds were also cut open, but the birds were not molested.

A number of depredations have been committed recently in Fairmount park and the need of a night watchman is now realized.

Trouble

WE have got to stop advertising—at least until we can discover some new way to do it. The trouble is by the old method we cannot keep our advertising within gunshot of our contents. We cannot expect to sell a weekly ten hours old with advertising ten days old. This advertisement was written just ten days ago. We had to write it ten days ago in order to have it appear all over the country this morning.

Now that you know what Ridgway's is trying to do, our only reason for further advertising would be to call your attention to the special features in each number as it is issued, but if we are obliged to write the advertisements ten days before the number which we wish to advertise comes along, we cannot talk in our advertisements about these special features for the simple reason that we ourselves do not know ten days before what the special features are going to be.

With our mobile organization we expect to be able to turn Ridgway's inside out any time big developments make it necessary up to within a few hours of going to press. Very often it will happen that the most interesting feature in Ridgway's will be something that your local editor has dug up, something that the rest of the country would not have reason to be as much interested in as you are. We might ask each of our local editors to write the advertising for his section, but they are so loaded up with things to do now we wonder when they find time to visit their families.

It is a pity if we have to give up advertising. Possibly we could figure out some way to send the advertisements by telegraph the same way that we edit the weekly. That sounds good. It's new, too. Wonder how much it would cost. We shall look into it. Heigh ho! How trouble heaps up for the fellow who tries to do new things. Maybe you will remember to buy Ridgway's every Saturday. It is bound to be better every week. Just compare the issue this week with our first number.

About a year ago the park commissioners erected a dwelling house in the park at a cost of considerably over $2,000, ostensibly for the accommodation of a park watchman or care taker, but instead of being devoted to this use the family of a relative of Park Commissioner Graham was installed in the house at a nominal rental.

NO PUBLIC RECEPTION FOR BRYAN Campaign Is Stressful Enough Without It. DES MOINES, Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Arrangements have been completed for election by Congressman Walter Butler to meet W. J. Bryan at Grinnell with other democrats of this city. They will arrive in Des Moines over the Rock Island at 4:30 and retire at once to the Blevy. There will be no attempt to entertain Mr. Bryan, as it is understood his speaking campaign is a strenuous one. He will speak in the evening, October 29, at the auditorium. Special notes have been reserved in the first few rows for old soldiers.

Litigation over the building of a dam at Fairmount involves the question of the water supply for the soldier's home at that place. The question has been up for some years and was thought to be on the point of settlement when the property owners who would be affected by the construction of the dam raised the price of the land for the city through negotiations. An attempt was made today to get an injunction against the city condemning the land. The State Board of Control is interested with the city as the supply for the home depends on the erection of the dam.

The supreme court, which has been in session for two weeks, closed its labors today and the members, except the two living here, left for their homes. No decisions were handed down today.

Hepburn at Sidney. SIDNEY, Ia., Oct. 26.—(Special.)—Congressman W. P. Hepburn delivered a political address here last night. Most of it was in the nature of an eulogy of the protective policy of the republican party. It was standstill pure and unadorned, but at the close he exhorted all republicans to get together and vote for Cummins. He declared that this was a national election and of great importance. He devoted considerable attention to W. J. Bryan and some to Hearst, and defended his own political record from traducers who he said had been barking at his heels until he was tired of it. The house was crowded and he was heard with attention and delivered an able speech which was generously applauded.

are not worrying, but the man who hurried through with his work is likely to be a heavy loser. In some poorly constructed stacks the grain is rotting, while in others it has commenced to grow. Threshing has just started in Clay county. But the extremely wet weather has caused a setback, all around. In a great many fields corn is down pretty badly, and at present is covered with water. The fields are thoroughly soaked from the three days' rain which ended today. It will be at least a week before huskers can get into the fields. The season already two weeks late for corn husking, the big corn growers will not get through before winter is on in full blast. One of the most serious problems that confronts the farmer just now is that of securing corn huskers. Laborers are mighty scarce, and those who are here have long since been engaged. Corn is a fine yield this year, and the man who can work from sun up to sun down will make unusually large wages.
