INTEREST FLAGS IN GERMANY

Enthusiasm in Foreign Missions Difficult to Sustain in Kaiser's Land.

REPORT OF DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Scandinavian Work is Reported as Making Better Progress, the Various Departments Gaining in Strength.

Reports occupied Friday morning's session of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary society in progress at First Methodist church, and few aside from the voting strength of the convention were present. The postponed report of the German work was made by Miss C. L. Rothweiler of Columbus, O., secretary of that department. She said there is little comprehension of the difficulty experienced in keeping up the interest among the German women of Europe, and expressed the disappointment of the German constituency at the refusal of the last meeting to grant its request to withdraw and organize as one of the branches. Papers have been presented from one new missionary candidate from the Germans and this, having one of their own women in the field, will, she said, tend materially to stimulate the interest and enthusiasm of the German women.

The Scandinavian work was reported by its secretary, Mrs. A. Farrell of Seattle, Wash. The Swedish work was opened five years ago and reported for this year with an amount to $3,223.37, an increase of $90.40 over last year's, indicating the growth of the work. The report of the children's work was equally gratifying, 355 new organizations having been added in seven branches this year as follows: New York branch, 15; Philadelphia branch, 30; Baltimore branch, 8; Northwestern branch, 33; Cincinnati branch, 31; Minneapolis branch, 19; and Pacific branch, 12. The other branches have not reported.

Change in Program.

The departure of the missionary candidates, Misses Welby E. Homberger, Anne Brethers, Minnie L. Rank and Hlene Tanti for the west this morning, to sail from Seattle for China next Wednesday, changed the program for the afternoon and instead of the candidates telling why they go to the foreign field, the returned missionaries related their individual experiences that had them to go into the mission work. Two songs in the signs language by pupils of the Nebraska School for the Deaf contributed an interesting feature to the program.

A children's meeting, conducted by the children's leader, Mrs. Lucie Harrison, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Missions in costume will tell stories of the children of other lands.

Among the interesting arrivals on Friday was Miss Ida Janta, president of Folia institute of Herkimer, N. Y. The Folia institute and kindergarten departments and is a preparatory school for young women for work in the foreign or home field. It is the property of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church and the only training school in America under the management of the society. The course is particularly adapted to college women, the ordinary college course being incomplete preparation for these workers. There are about fifty young women in the school at present, among them a number of native girls from foreign lands. Sixty graduates have been sent out from the two years' course the school offers and many more from the one year's course.

A missionary exhibit of much interest has been arranged at the rear of the auditorium

GRAIN MEN ARE AROUSED

Not Getting "Special Privileges" Threaten to Make Trouble.

INVESTIGATION STIRS UP HOT FEELING

Witness Who Dared Testify and Newspapers that Printed Reports Are Condemned by Certain Persons.

Around the grain exchange Friday morning the talk, outside of the regular trading, was on the investigation made by the Interstate Commerce commission in the last two days. It develops there were few grain men but some "suspected" by some of the conditions brought to light with reference to the relations of certain of the elevator men with the railroads.

On the testimony of some of the elevator men that they have been enjoying certain allowances the other dealers did not get, a number of the latter have announced their intention of presenting bills to the railroads for the same allowance in proportion to their business that the others received. In case the railroads refuse to pay, the grain men suggest they resort to the courts in order to get what they consider is rightly coming to them.

Several surprises were sprung during this hearing and not the least was the testimony of Tom Worsell. It was not supposed Mr. Worsell would be so brutally frank in dealing with his relations to the Nebraska Grain Dealers' association. When he virtually admitted he had been bought out to drop his fight against the association after prominent members, E. P. Peck and others of the association, had testified they had no knowledge of a settlement having been made, he threw a bomb into the midst of the line elevator men and aroused their indignation.

Newspapers Are Attacked.

The newspapers which printed the proceedings as they transpired during the investigation also come in for abuse by certain persons who deprecate the whole affair as an "ill-timed and annoying piece of business." The fact that independent grain dealers went upon the stand and told how the big grain dealers, in collusion with the railroads, had either frozen them out or tried to in the judgment of at least one member of the Nebraska Grain Dealers' association should not have been printed in the columns of a newspaper. He didn't regard this as news, but a "distortion of facts." Printing of verbatim statements of other witnesses who told of harsh treatment they had received at the hands of the association also was condemned as "unjust" and "false."

Omaha Oil is Good for Any Pain that can be reached externally. Trial free.

Only Authorized Collectors.

Officers of the Associated Charities announced Friday morning that only persons duly authorized by the endorsement committee of the Associated Charities should be recognized by the public in the matter of soliciting aid. The endorsement committee consists of H. K. Burke, A. Hoese and J. V. Lewis of the Commercial club; W. W. Shaburg and T. F. Burgess of the Associated Charities and J. A. Sunderland and Joseph Haydon, members at large.

OMAHA KEEPS HEADQUARTERS

Will Not Lose Department of the Missouri, Says Major General Greely.

There is no danger of Omaha losing the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri, according to Major General A. W. Greely. In response to a letter of inquiry, the Commercial club has received this answer from General Greely:

Referring to your letter of October 20, I have to say that the headquarters of the Northern Division is ordered to be transferred to Chicago and likewise the headquarters of the Southwestern Division to be transferred to St. Louis.

The state of Kansas is not transferred to the Southwestern Division, nor has any law been passed which would transfer the only territorial transfer is that of the state of Missouri, in which there is a general recruiting depot at Jefferson Barracks.

I hear no talk of any change in the headquarters of the Department of the Missouri.

Dr. W. F. Hutchinson, 2305 Cumont, has as far recovered from his recent accident that he is able to attend to his office calls from 1 to 3 p. m.

BENEFIT MATINEE GOOD ONE

Bill is Excellent and Large Audience Greeted the Actors from Various Theaters.

A large audience attended the matinee at the Boyd theater Friday afternoon, which was a benefit performance donated by the managers of the various theaters for the Studio club, an organization of newspaper men. All the acts were warmly applauded, each being given several encores and it was evident the audience was not playing any favorites.

Members of the "Crowing They" the Rye company gave several pleasing sketches, May Holly and "The Polly Girls" from the Orpheum gave a most amusing performance and the Kates Brothers, comedy acrobats from the Orpheum, gave one of their splendid productions, much to the delight of the junior portion of the audience.

One of the hits of the afternoon was the monologue rendered by Carl Reiter, manager of the Orpheum, who convulsed the audience with many of his well known Helphew dialect stories, and he was recalled several times. Robert Cusenden contributed his share to the entertainment by a violin solo, Sigmond Landsberg acting as accompanist.

The closing act of a most enjoyable program was the appearance of Williams and Walker, the two colored comedians. In a song and dance act rendered doubly attractive by the presentation of a pony ballet of four members of their company. The use of the theater was donated by

MISSIONARY FALLS FROM CAR

Miss Ella Glover from China Has a Shoulder Dislocated.

Miss Ella Glover of China, who is in this country attending the convention of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary society, in session at the First Methodist Episcopal church in Omaha, was painfully, although not seriously, injured in falling while attempting to alight from a Harney street car, at Twenty-fifth and California streets Thursday evening. Miss Glover was thrown to the pavement and suffered a dislocated shoulder, but is not believed to have any other injuries except those incident to the shock.

Miss Glover was on her way to attend the reception given the visiting women delegates at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Phillip, 230 California street, and was alighting from the car but a few doors from the Phillip home when she met with the accident. She was immediately assisted into the house and made as comfortable as possible until the arrival of Dr. F. G. Sparling, 382 South Twenty-seventh street.

The dislocated member was replaced, when Mr. and Mrs. Phillip insisted that she remain at their home until she is well on the road to recovery. It is expected she will be able to leave the house today.

Correct quality goods, lowest prices. Huberman, Jeweler, 12th and Douglas.
