Washington, Oct. 28.—The political campaign now within ten days of its close, becomes more interesting as election day approaches. Besides the work done to secure members of the state campaigns, the national attention.

Hearst Appeals to Court. Besides his canvass for the gubernatorial chair, Mr. Hearst has on his hands a serious legal contest as to whether about seventy of the candidates of the independence league for congress, senate and assembly from New York county may have their names printed on the official ballot at the coming state-wide general election.

Counsel representing the independence league will appear before Chief Justice Cullen of the court of appeals at his home in Brooklyn this morning and make a formal appeal to him to order a writ of mandamus to the court of appeals to order the state board of election to order the printing of the names of the candidates of the independence league on the ballot.

British Teachers Coming. The first company of a group of 500 school teachers from Great Britain is expected to reach the United States this week to begin a series of tours to cities as far west as Chicago. They will be under the direction of Alfred Mosley, who headed a commission of British educational experts who visited America three years ago.

ALASKA IS SADLY NEGLECTED. Delegate Thomas Gale Tells of the Many Wants of the People of the Territory.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—Delegate Thomas Gale of Fairbanks, Alaska, is in the city on his way to Washington. "The people of Alaska," he said, "are more interested in securing a territorial form of government than in anything else that is before them at present. We don't mean to go into all the ramifications of local self-government, into township, counties, etc. We simply wish—and it is a natural want of American citizenship—to be empowered to legislate for ourselves."

SPELLING REFORM CONGRESS. Andrew Carnegie Talks of Conference of Philologists from All English Speaking Peoples.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Andrew Carnegie, accompanied by his wife and daughter, returned from Europe today on the Celtic and had something to say regarding reformed spelling. Efforts were being put forth, he said, to have all the English branches of the reform spelling association meet in this city on October 31.

BRYAN STOPS IN CHICAGO. Nebraska Says Government Ownership Will Be the Dominant Issue in 1908.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—William J. Bryan passed the day here on his way to Lincoln, Neb., on his eastern tour. He expressed satisfaction over the result of his campaign. "I am satisfied," he said, "that both government and municipal ownership of railroads is but a few years off and that this will be the dominant issue in 1908."

GRAVE OF ARTHUR'S CONSORT

Body of Lady Campbell-Bannerman Said to Rest Beside Queen Guinevere.

GLASGOW, Oct. 28.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The burial of Lady Campbell-Bannerman, whose body was found in a garden in London, has drawn more attention than it has done to a curious and interesting tradition of the spot. That tradition, shortly stated, is that the site of Guinevere, spouse of the famous King Arthur, lies in the churchyard, near the village which repeats the tradition, she is called Queen Wanderer, or Vancora, but there is no doubt as to the person intended. A long, low mound among the graves beside the church is pointed out as the actual spot where she lies, and certain of the strange carved stones which once stood in the churchyard and are now preserved in the old village school are said to commemorate her end.

BENDER FAMILY IS RECALLED

Kansas Incident Recalled in Discussion of "Harder Farm" in the Trial.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—Those who have a memory for horrors will remember the grim tale of a Kansas farm, where scores or so of skeletons were found buried. The bluff, honest farmer had thriven on the robbery and murder of wayfarers. A farm of the same sort has just been discovered by three detectives of Paris in the Austrian Tyrol, at Guggen, on August 10 last. Yrmas Braunschweig, a Swiss member of Parliament, while mountaineering in the neighborhood, disappeared mysteriously and his son appealed to the Paris surte general, and three detectives were sent to investigate. Near to the spot where M. Braunschweig had been last seen they dug up the body of another tourist, who had unaccountably disappeared two months before. Near by was a small inn, which the detectives promptly visited. There they found a suit of well-cut clothes, which could hardly have belonged to the peasants of the place, and, more damning still, a button bearing the name of M. Braunschweig's tailor. The detectives went on investigating, and, making discoveries in the vicinity of the farm, they discovered a man named Bozen, almost at the same spot. The detective, being French, could apply for warrants only through diplomatic channels, and negotiations are proceeding. Meanwhile one of the suspected persons, the owner of the farm and inn has fled the country.

DESOLATION IN SOUTH AFRICA

Natives Refuse to Touch Dead Bodies Lie Unburied Where Found.

DURBAN, Oct. 28.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—A missionary who has traveled through the greater part of the territory covered by the rebellion reports that the bodies of the natives who died in the operations are still unburied, in accordance with the gruesome and offensive native superstition against touching the dead.

CREVESSE GIVES UP HIS DEAD

Bodies of Men Believed to Be of Grand Army Found in Cave.

GENEVA, Oct. 28.—(Special Cablegram to The Bee.)—The skeletons of three men who are believed to have been soldiers in the army of Napoleon that crossed the Alps in 1800 were found a few days ago in a kind of closed-in cave in the ice on a distant road in the Col Sepulcher—a mountain 4,000 feet high.

ATTITUDE OF GEN. PIQUART

Sufferer from Dreyfus Affair Does Not Remember Old Enemies.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The attitude of General Piquart, now minister of war, towards his old persecutors in the army was defined yesterday when an officer who was involved in the conspiracy to practically banish Piquart to the border of the Sahara, entered the minister's office and began to stammer out a statement on the subject. Piquart stopped him, saying: "I know only one thing, and that is that you have always been an excellent officer. You may be sure that I shall not forget that."

DUKE AND DUCHESS APART

Manchester Guardian Says Marriage and Wife Have Formally Agreed to Separate.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The afternoon papers here quote the Manchester Guardian as saying that a deed of separation between the duke and duchess of Marlborough has been signed on the ground of incompatibility of temper, by the provision of which the duchess keeps Sunderland house, London, and her own dowry, but is precluded from going to Blenheim. The document, it is added, was signed October 23.

Democratic Gang Rule for Omaha Saloon Keepers

"I realize, of course, that the position of city prosecutor carries with it considerable power that may be used to extremes either way, but I have always conducted an orderly place and never yet, in the years that I have been in business in Omaha, have I been obliged to ask for 'protection' or forced to go into police court and defend myself against any charge. And so I don't believe that at this late date I am going to knuckle down to a proposition just because a club is hung over my head. I don't believe there's any use to court trouble, so for that reason I will ask you not to use my name."

Insurance and Surety Bonds E. E. Howell & Company.

General Mkt., Oct. 22, 1906.

Dear Sir:— We are general agents and S. S. Daniels, City Prosecutor, is general attorney for the United Surety Co., and we have arranged to take care of your Saloon License Bonds this year, giving you the same satisfactory service that our Mr. Dodson has always been giving you in the past, at a charge of $10.00. Four Trainsmen Killed. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 28.—A head-on collision of two freight trains west of Springfield, O., on the Peoria & Eastern division of the Big Four railroad last Saturday night, four trainmen lost their lives while a fifth is not expected to recover.

DETAILS AS TO JUST HOW THE terrible accident occurred are vague. A complete circumstantial story cannot be obtained from any one of the passengers as yet. Two causes have been assigned for the derailing of the train. One is that the rails were not properly locked when the draw bridge was closed after a pleasure yacht which had just passed through. The man who may best be able to tell what caused the accident is Daniel H. Stewart, the bridge tender. The horror of the accident had temporarily bereft him of his reason, so
