now off the Utah reservation, Francis E. Leupp, commissioner of Indian affairs, said today he did not believe all that has been printed in the east to the effect that the imminent danger of a battle between soldiers and Indians.

"These Indians are in the main an ignorant lot and misguided by several wily chiefs among them being Appah and Red Coy, but their mission is a peaceful one and not to be more fettered than the late Coxy army. They probably believe they have as much right to roam over the country as did that famous band of marauders under Coxy. Where they think they desire to locate I cannot learn, but that their movement is one of peace, seeking to better their condition I am confident. When an Indian goes to war he does not take his women or children with him. When cavalry leaders come up with him I predict there will be a long, low wove and the result not a shot will be fired and the runaways be advised it will be best for them to return to their reservations.

"The forty odd Utes who were induced by Major McLaughlin to turn back are now storm-bound at Rock Springs, Wyo., under the care of Captain Hill of the Utah reservation. They made a start for home, taking the trail through the mountains in preference to using the railroad, and were overtaken by the Hitzard and forced to retrace their steps to Rock Springs, there to await better weather conditions. Right here I desire to express to the people of Rock Springs my appreciation of their charity towards these misguided men and to thank them in behalf of the department for the aid they have given in loaning us buildings in which to house the 'friendly' Utes. The government is feeding these Utes and will continue to care for them until safe again on their reservation.

Indians in Strong Position.
BUTTE, Mont., Oct. 30.—A mine special from Billings tonight says that a telephone message from Arvada, Wyo., this afternoon stated that the renegade Ute Indians are entrenched in a strong position in the hills adjacent to Arvada and that the Tenth and Sixth cavalry troops are reconnoitering the country preparatory to closing in on the renegades, apparently the object of the troops is to surround the Indians with a display of superior force and thus secure their surrender without bloodshed. The Utes are determined not to give in to the soldiers until they have to, believing it will mean their return to Utah, where, they say, they cannot secure enough to eat. The Utes have been active in buying a large supply of ammunition at Gillette and elsewhere, together with provisions, and if the temper of the leading tribesmen can be taken as an indication, they propose to fight or at least make a show of resistance and secure concessions from the soldiers and be permitted to make their way to the Cheyenne reservation and remain there pending their disposition by Washington.

"Tonight the companies of the Indian are playing brightly and the only evidence of life is the occasional flitting of the shadow of some warrior by the fire. The Utes are not painted nor are they dancing.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPH TO BE USED
Marconi System of Communication Installed in Life Campaign.
Marconi, the hero in life, is going to figure in the bellicose affairs of the west.

The uprising of the Ute Indians will lead to the first use of wireless telegraphy by the United States government in military movements in the west. Four sets of the magic machinery of communication are being loaned from New York and are expected to reach Fort Mackenzie by the time Captain Wildman's command arrives there. Each command will be equipped with an apparatus. Brigadier General T. J. Wint has returned from Newport News, Va., and is again in command of the Department of the Missouri, relieving Major General Greely. With the resumption of the command of the department General Wint also takes command of the Indian situation in central Wyoming. General Wint has had long experience with the Indians. Captain Wildman and forty men of the signal corps from Fort Omaha left the garrison at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, going to the Burlington depot, where they boarded a train for Sheridan, Wyo. The men were in heavy marching order, including overcoats, and also carried the revolver, rifle and cartridge belt used in active service.

RULES FOR MEAT SHIPMENT

The gold coin and the bullion in the treasury June 30, 1906, amounted to $2,000,000,000 and of the 1907 of the fiscal year 1907-1908 had advanced to $2,000,000,000. By October 31 it attained a maximum of $2,000,000,000.

President Differ from Burgess.
The sentiments expressed by Prof. John W. Burgess, the first incumbent of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship of American history and instruction at the University of Berlin last Saturday, which, in effect, he declared that the Monroe doctrine is almost obsolete in the United States, are not those held by the administration. At the White House today it was said that Prof. Burgess is simply a private citizen, holding no official position from this government. His observations regarding the Monroe doctrine, it was said, were simply an expression of his own views, which are diametrically opposite to those held by the administration and the American people.

WOMAN AND CHILD WORKERS.
By request of President Roosevelt, Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, has been detailed from the Department of Justice to investigate the condition of woman and child workers throughout the country.

LEGISLATION ON THIS SUBJECT IS PENDING BEFORE CONGRESS. Mrs. Foster went to the Philippines with the tariff party and represented the United States government at the International Red Cross conference in St. Petersburg.

HOLDREGE HEARS SHELTON
He and Congressman Norris Present Some Papers to the Honorable Mr. Shelton.

HOLDREGE, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—A republican meeting here tonight was addressed by Hon. George L. Sheldon and Congressman Norris. It was the largest and best attended meeting which has been held here in several years. Norris was also expected, but could not get here. Sheldon was the principal speaker and for two hours he held the close attention of his audience in his discussion of the position of the republican party in relation to the tariff.

On the question of the trusts, he declared the vital difference between the parties was the fact that the democrats demanded the complete ousting of the trusts, while the republicans declared that when they became a menace they should be regulated by appropriate legislation. He said they could not be regulated better than by the courts, but he would not try to regulate the trusts by declaring them illegal for more than two burglars entering the same house at the same time.

Both of Mr. Bryan's speeches were limited in time, and he passed rapidly from point to point. He said nothing about the government ownership of railroads. Besides the principal speech, at the table G. M. Hitchcock and several of the local men addressed the meeting, as at Frank's hall. After the speech Mr. Bryan did not wait long for congratulations, but hurried to catch the train to Lincoln, where he speaks tonight.

Bryan at Springfield.
SPRINGFIELD, Neb., Oct. 30.—(Special Telegram.)—This has been a strenuous day for Springfield, and very vividly recalled the days of '96. William J. Bryan was billed to speak here and that is always a signal for a large gathering of the faithful. Today was no exception to the rule. Mr. Bryan's train was several hours late and it was shortly after 4 o'clock before he arrived. In the meantime Gilbert M. Hitchcock and W. R. Patrick, candidate for State senator, occupied the floor. Mr. Bryan spoke for an hour and drove to South Omaha.

ALLEGED MURDERER LOCATED
Jesse Coe, Wanted in Indiana, Said to Have Reached Friends in Kentucky.

CLOYSIDE, Ky., Oct. 30.—Jesse Coe, a negro, who with George Williams, also a negro, killed two policemen and wounded another at Indianapolis September 30 while they were attempting to arrest them, is in southern part of this country, where he formerly lived. It is said that he and others of the Coe negroes are armed with rifles and declare they will die before Jesse shall be arrested.

The Coe negroes for years were engaged in a feud with the Taylors during which more than a score of men were killed. There is a reward of $200 for the arrest of Jesse Coe.
