

GOSSIP OF THE CAMPAIGN

Hitchcock Gives Orders to Sacrifice Whole Ticket for Him if Necessary.

WANTS TO WIN AT COST OF ALL OTHERS

Conservative Democrats Cannot See Any Promise of Victory in Registration, Which Shows Them Four Thousand Behind.

Weather for Election Day.

Hitchcock Must be Elected if Every Other Man on the Democratic Ticket is Defeated.

This is the word which anti-Hitchcock democrats declare has been passed around by the straggle of the dot-and-dash editor.

"Get the vote," is the Dick Crocker editor that is sent forth, they affirm, and if it is necessary to lose or trade every other candidate on the democratic ticket this edict must be carried out.

The breach is widening and independent democrats who have refused to cross the knee to the Hitchcock shrew assert that the "game" will develop into a "puff" that will swallow up the dictator so he will never again be a candidate for office.

Hitchcock is reported as having said that unless "some" skillful trading is done between this and Tuesday night he is a goner. This sort of thing is not pleasing to democrats who think other men on the ticket are entitled to consideration as well as Hitchcock; that the other candidates deserve the support of their party just as much as the editor-dictator; that other candidates have done as much, if not more, for the party in season and out of season and asked less than Hitchcock. The dictatorial manner in which the editor-autocrat is said to have issued his orders has created a greater revulsion of feeling among democrats than anything which this way politician has done for many a day.

After all the noise which the ton-ton chorus is making about democratic prospects in Douglas county, and especially in Omaha, as revealed by the registration, conservative democrats are not deceiving themselves. They admit the situation is not as rosy as a certain candidate's newspaper is pretending. While on the "face" of the returns from registration in Omaha the democrats have apparently a small lead, it is no democrat of note, but a "straw" man, as one of them says. "We are simply getting back on the registration lists some of our profligate sons, some of the Frank Moore democrats, who used to register republican just to help him out. We should not deceive ourselves or try to receive the voters with the specious argument that, when it appears to be an increase in registration is anything more than this.

"At any rate, the registration shows us will over 4,000 behind the republicans in Omaha alone. Where are we going to change 4,000 votes from republican to democratic? What is the issue that will do this? I don't want my friends to be deceived and for that reason I am pointing out these facts now. The republicans are harmonious and united and have a big lead. Look out."

The statement in Candidate Hitchcock's circular of personal biography that is expected to get all the lawyers to vote for him reads: "Abandoned the law in 1888."

Independent of political influence, guided only by a desire to work for the interests of Omaha in particular and those of Nebraska in general, the Omaha Commercial club appeals to all voters to cast their ballots at the election Tuesday for Robert Cowell for railroad commissioner. The club has sent out this letter to its members: OMAHA, Nov. 5, 1906.—Members of the Commercial club, recognizing the fact that Omaha, Nebraska's metropolis, should be represented on the proposed Board of Railway Commissioners, has endorsed Robert Cowell, candidate for the office of state railway commissioner.

This action has been taken by the executive committee and is absolutely independent of political significance, being the act of Omaha's business interests, irrespective of party.

It is therefore hoped that the business men of Omaha generally will support Mr. Cowell, regardless of party affiliation.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The most intense fight of the campaign appears to be on the telephone proposition. Both the Nebraska company and the independents are thoroughly organized and are making a strenuous canvass for votes. The independents who are seeking a franchise to do business in Omaha have called in at many of their men from out in the state as they could get to help at the polls Tuesday. Both sides are using printers' ink liberally. One of the queer features of the fight is the union printers have come out for Hitchcock and against the new franchise, while Hitchcock has been doing his utmost in his paper for the new franchise and has even been charged by the Nebraska Telephone company as being a party to the independent movement to secure a footing in Omaha.

Monday morning Mayor Dahlman appointed John Wilson, Battin and Edward F. Leary to assist City Clerk Butler Tuesday in the work of swearing in electors who failed to register but who are entitled to vote.

Mayor Dahlman and Chief of Police Donahue transferred fifty-four civilians into special policemen Monday morning. The men will serve Tuesday at the various election districts throughout the city and preserve order while the electors are exercising their elective franchise.

HORSE VISITS CITY JAIL

Untamed Broncho Joins the Crowd of Reckless Ones at Police Headquarters.

An untamed broncho stirred up things in the city jail Sunday evening, nearly causing several cases of heart failure among the assembled officers as well as considerable merriment.

Two boys found the horse near Sixteenth and Webster streets and after considerable difficulty succeeded in leading the animal to the station and tied it in the back yard. Sergeant Whelan appeared on the scene at this time and informing the boys that the proper procedure was to take the horse into the station and have it "booked" by Desk Sergeant McCarthy.

The boys acted on the advice and led the horse through the hills and nearly into the sacred precincts of the jaillock of Officer McCarthy, where the procession was stopped, and after an exhibition of great strategy on the part of "Big Mike," the equine was induced to return to the stables, where it was comfortably housed until the arrival of the owner.

The case against W. J. Evans, who was arrested Saturday evening on the charge of first and reckless driving, proffered by Officer Van Deusen, was dismissed in police court Monday morning, as Judge Crawford believed the evidence submitted did not sustain the charge. The officer testified that Evans recklessly drove into another buggy at Sixteenth and Douglas streets, completely overturning it and throwing a small boy, who was seated in the buggy, beneath the vehicle, rendering him unconscious for a few minutes. Evans denied the charge, however, and said that he drove on after a slight collision, which did not do any damage.

Tim Corbett, a constant offender in police circles, was again arrested Sunday night on the charge of drunkenness and sleeping in a hallway, and when held before Judge Crawford Monday morning pleaded guilty to the charge. Corbett said he was just going upstairs to retire, but was so sleepy he decided not to go to the exertion of ascending the stairs. The case was dismissed on the promise that he would leave Omaha immediately and he was in such haste to leave the court room that a game of checkers could have been played on his coat tail.

Oscar Weston, a traveling laborer, was fined $1 and costs in police court Monday morning for insulting too freely last Saturday night and breaking the glass door of the store of Samuel Zalkovitch, 209 North Twelfth street in his mad career.

Charged with being drunk and disorderly and insulting women on the streets last Saturday night, Frank M. Winship, 608 Franklin street, was fined $5 and costs in police court Monday morning.

DAY-LIGHT STORE IS OPENED

O'Donahoe, Redmond and Normile's Palatial Emporium is Normally Dedicated to Public.

Another palatial emporium was thrown open to Omaha shoppers Monday morning with the formal opening of the new department store of O'Donahoe, Redmond & Normile at Sixteenth and Howard streets. While it has been several weeks since this enterprising firm opened its doors, the unfinished condition of its handsome new building has made a formal opening of its complete stock impossible until this week.

Three floors and a basement are occupied by a complete stock of high class dry goods, clothing for women and children, men's furnishings, general household furnishings and toys. The name, "The Day-Light Store," is no misnomer, for there is not a department where the shopper may not have bright daylight in which to inspect goods.

In point of equipment the store is unsurpassed. A score of wrapping booths makes it possible to return bundles and change in one minute, thus saving the time of the shopper. On the second floor are private sitting rooms, equipped with mirrors and every convenience for alteration of suits, skirts or the costumes, of which a complete stock is carried. The change in the stairways are large. The millinery, suit and juvenile departments on the second floor are among the most attractive. In addition to the equipment to meet the demands of trade, admirable provision has been made for the comfort of employees. On the fourth floor is a lunch room, where coffee and light refreshment are served free to the clerks, while toilet rooms, with 125 lockers each, are provided, on the third floor for the women, and in the basement for the men help.

The show windows are among the handsomest in the city and during the opening the first floor is handsomely decorated with cut flowers and greens and an orchestra will play during the day.

BURLINGTON OFFICIALS' TOUR

President Harris, Perkins, Willard and Holdrege on Trip Over Western Division.

C. E. Perkins, former president of the Burlington and at present chairman of the board of directors of that road; G. B. Harris, president of the Burlington; Danjal Willard, second vice president, and General Manager Holdrege are making a tour of inspection of the line west of the Missouri river. They left Lincoln for the west Saturday afternoon.

SURPRISES FOR THE LAITY

General Exchange of Pulpits Next Sunday in Evangelical Churches.

NAME OF PREACHER SECRET IN EACH CASE

Congregation Will Not Know Until Arriving Who Will Preach—Purpose to Help Torrey-Oliver Mission.

A general exchange of ministers in the pulpits of the city next Sunday as a means of developing interest in the revival meetings beginning late this month was arranged at the meeting of the Omaha Ministerial association Monday morning. A few of the ministers are unwilling to leave their own pulpits, for good reasons and these will not be included in the plan. The schedule will not be made public and people will go to church next Sunday not knowing what preacher they will hear. Reports were brought in by the various committees having to do with preparations for the revival. Rev. L. O. Baird of the committee on music reported that 1,500 singers would be enrolled, each of which would agree to be present on specified nights to the extent of one-third of the entire time of the revival, making certain, a choir of 500 at each meeting. For each church a minimum number of singers has been named, and it may furnish more if possible.

Rev. Newman Hall Burdick, chairman of the committee on publicity, said four means of advertising had been adopted. Banners calling attention to the meetings have been placed on the churches, contracts have been made for thirty bill boards in many parts of the city and on them colored hand painted bills, seventy by thirty feet will be placed this week; a few days before the beginning of the meetings banners will appear on the fenders of the street cars and will remain there through the revivals. Mr. Burdick said he has been conspicuously received by the press and it is offering its services for publicity.

City Divided into Districts. The visitation committee reported it had divided the city into fifteen districts, had appointed captains and would see to it that every house, store and shop in the city received a personal visit, with an invitation to attend the meetings. Rev. R. B. A. McBride said he wanted a personal workers' committee of 400 and that he had already begun to enroll it. Rev. J. W. Conley reported on arrangements for union prayer meetings next Friday night.

Rev. John Randolph Smith addressed the ministers on the subject of the revival, which needs above all things, he said, the enthusiasm of the preachers. "God is not a water-soaked log or a piece of punk, but fire," he declared.

Two humorous features relieved the seriousness of the session. One was a statement by Dr. Burdick as to the havoc made by small boys Halloween night by tearing down the banners which had been placed on the churches. Rev. L. Groh caused much laughter when he arose to explain his vote after he had expressed himself against the exchanging of pulpits as far as his individual case was concerned.

"I thought this was to be an exchange of pulpits," he said, "and I announced the previous Sabbath. I found last Sunday that a great many people stayed away from church, thinking I would not be there."

TAX SALE STARTS LIVELY

Annual Auction Begins with Break Bidding, Indicating Clean Sweep of Lots.

City and County Treasurer Fink began the annual tax sale Monday morning under circumstances that would indicate an early clearing up of all tax lots. The bidding was more keen than noted for a long time. The sale includes property on which there are any delinquent taxes. Mr. Fink will continue the sale from day to day until all has been cleared up. In connection with the sale Treasurer Fink is being rushed taking in taxes from many who have been urged to pay up on account of the sale.

Beware of Frequent Colds. A succession of colds or a protracted cold is almost certain to end in chronic catarrh, from which few persons ever wholly recover. Give every cold the attention it deserves and you may avoid this disagreeable disease. How can you cure a cold? Why not try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended as a cure for colds. Mrs. M. White of Butler, Tenn., says: "Several years ago I was bothered with my throat and lungs. One told me of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I began using it and it relieved me at once. I used it for some time and it cured me. Now my throat and lungs are sound and well."

DELAY IN THE TRIAL DOCKET

Book for November Term of Federal Court is Not Yet Made Up.

The trial docket for the November term of the United States courts, which will be opened Monday, November 12, has not yet been made up, though it is practically ready. The delay is caused until it is definitely determined whether two judges will preside during the term. The principal interest of the term centers about the district court, in which the Bad fencing and land conspiracy cases will be tried, including the Richards & Constock, Chicago Ranch and other like cases, which will be the leading features. No trials will be had of a certain class of lousylegging cases from the Indian reservation until the Simon Hallows case, now pending in the United States court of appeals, is decided.

Rooting cases are on the docket and also a number of minor postoffice cases. It is probable the minor cases will be disposed of first in order to give ample time for the trial of the land cases.

ED BIGNEL FOR DEMOCRATS

Burlington Superintendent Makes Personal Canvass for Votes for Shallenberger Ticket.

County Commissioner J. S. Gillenbeck of Millard called up the Bee by telephone yesterday to say that Ed Bignel, superintendent of the Burlington, was circulating around in Seward county Monday in the interest of the democratic ticket. "You can say for me," said Mr. Gillenbeck, "that Ed Bignel approached a man who is well known to me and asked him to vote the democratic ticket, and if he couldn't vote it all to begin at the top with the name of Shallenberger and vote down the list for as many of the nominees as he could. This was at Glendale this morning. This is no fairy story and the democrats cannot dispose of it by merely calling it a rumor or canard. It is a fact and if the man to whom I refer did not object to having his name disclosed in this connection with Ed Bignel I would tell you who he is."

ROAD FIGHTS LOCAL TAXES

Union Pacific Files Suit to Get Out of Meeting City Assessment.

The Union Pacific has begun injunction proceedings in district court to prevent the collection by City Treasurer Fink of taxes on four lots in the Omaha railroad yards and a small strip of land in South Omaha, asserting it has been assessed twice. The petition states the property was listed by the State Board of Equalization as right-of-way and was assessed by that body for 1904 and 1905. The tax commissioners of Omaha and South Omaha also assessed it for local taxation. The railroad asserts the assessment by the local officers is illegal and wants it set aside. Judge Troup issued a restraining order and the hearing will be held November 10.

Announcements of the Theaters.

Arrangements have been made at the Orpheum to receive reports of the election just as fast as the returns come in and they will be read from the stage tonight between 8 and 9 o'clock. Considerable business is to be transacted and all those here are asked to be present.

Robert Edson will be seen afternoon and night at Boyd's Wednesday in his latest success, "Strongheart," a new play of college life by William C. De Mille. Mr. Edson, with a carefully selected company and an elaborate scenic equipment, will present "Strongheart" precisely as given at the Hudson and Savoy theaters in New York and in other large eastern cities.

The first of the souvenir matinees will be given Thursday afternoon at the Burwood. Photos of Grant Simpson will be given to all holding lower floor tickets. Next week "By Night of Sword," Ralph Stuart's great success, will be produced.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The hotel clerks association will meet Monday evening at its rooms in the Medlar block at Fourteenth street. Considerable business is to be transacted and all those here are asked to be present.

PUZZLE FOR THE COMMISSION

Elevator Allowance is Perplexing Interstate Commerce Men, Says Greene.

UNDECIDED AS TO RULE FOR COUNTRY

Burlington Counsel Returns from East Impressed with Indications of a Landslide for Hughes in New York.

Charles J. Greene, counsel for the Burlington and C. S. Spens general freight agent have returned from Washington, where Mr. Greene for the Burlington, Mr. Severance for the Great Western, and Mr. Baldwin for the Union Pacific and Mr. Lathrop for the Santa Fe have been arguing the case against the Union Pacific for granting elevation allowances under the Peavy contract before the Interstate Commerce commission. The Union Pacific has been granted ten days in which to file a brief in the case and ten days after that will be given to the opposition to file a counter brief, after which the commission will consider the case and a decision may be expected in anywhere from thirty to sixty days.

"It is obvious the commission is perplexed on the general proposition of elevation allowances," said Mr. Greene Monday. "That is as to what rule it will establish or what regulation it will make on grain allowances to elevators generally in the country. I can't, of course, predict what it will do with reference to the case under the Peavy contract, but am satisfied it will give it most thorough consideration and endeavor to make a ruling in accord with the general proposition to the best interests of all concerned."

One of Most Vital Issues. "The commission regards this as one of the most important matters ever brought before it, not only because of coal matter on the Union Pacific, but on all grain-carrying railroads. The personnel of the commission is well made up and it is a strong body and at present is overwhelmed with questions brought before it under the new act. The powers of the commission are more extensive and far-reaching than ever possessed by any administrative body in this country or elsewhere. Practically the commission has now the power to regulate the railroads delegated to them and this power affects not only the railroads, but every other interest, social, industrial and commercial. In the entire country and in this administration, the weight heavily on the consciences of the members of the commission."

"After we finished the arguments in Washington I took a run to New York and there the sensation of the hour was Secretary Root's speech, in which he arraigned W. B. Hearst, not because of coal matter from conversation with prominent people, the speech itself is going to have a decided effect on the result in New York. People are looking for a landslide for Hughes. It seemed to be in the very air. We heard it around the hotels, at the Board of Trade and all over from democrats and republicans alike."

Cards of Thanks.

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown us in the death of our beloved husband, son and brother, especially to Rev. Grandfather's Cure for Constipation

REAT medicine,—the Sawbuck. Two hours a day sawing wood will keep anyone's Bowels regular. No need of pills, Cathartics, Castor Oil, nor "Physic," if you'll only work the Sawbuck regularly.

Exercise is Nature's Cure for Constipation and,—a Ten-Mile walk will do, if you haven't got a wood-pile. But, if you will take your Exercise in an Easy Chair, there's only one way to do that, because,—there's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowels and its name is "CASCARETS."

Casarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles without work.

They don't Purge, Grip, nor "upset your Stomach," because they don't act like "Physic."

They don't flush out your Bowels and Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juices, as Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Apertient Waters always do.

No—Casarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles, that line the Food passages and that tighten up when food touches them, thus driving the food to its finish.

A Casaret acts on your Bowel Muscles as if you had just sawed a cord of wood, or walked ten miles.

Casarets move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastric Juices.

The thin, flat, Ten-Cent Box is made to fit your Vest pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse. Druggists—10 Cents a Box. Carry it constantly with you and take a Casaret whenever you suspect you need one.

Uncommon Clothes for Men

Our clothes for men are possessed of so much grace and style and elegance—so decidedly different and better—that customers are amazed and delighted that it is possible to secure such garments ready for service. The explanation is simple—other stores buy what the makers show them. As a consequence there is a sameness and a lack of individuality about these clothes that tend to prejudice fashionable dressers against ordinary "ready-made" garments. With us "it's different." Our buyer is a man of ideas—he does not take what is offered. He is alive to the hour—he orders our clothes according to his own ideas.—Ideas formed by keeping ahead of date, by noticing the trend of fashion—by keeping in touch with the leading style centers. We see to it that nobody gets the models and patterns we have. The result is exclusiveness,—and it's noticeable—that's why our clothes are "different and better"—that's why we get styles and patterns impossible to duplicate in this city.
