WOMEN IN CLUB AND CHARITY

A committee from the social science department of the Woman's club accompanied Rev. Robert H. Bell over the bottoms at the north end of the city Thursday afternoon for the purpose of ascertaining whether conditions there warrant the establishment of an industrial settlement in the vicinity. An open lot at the foot of Ohio street, Rev. Mr. Bell designated as the most central and best location for the house proposed for laundry, nursery, bath rooms and temporary shelter for needy families. The residents of the district are chiefly squatters, living in shanties of from one to three rooms and conditions that range from the most abject squalor to surprising cleanliness considering the surroundings. The settlement extends for more than a mile up and down the river, and the children attend Lake and Sherman schools. Many of them are members of the Sunday school and industrial classes at the City mission at Tenth and Capitol avenue. The mothers' club maintained at the mission last year also drew largely from this district and it has also been frequently represented in the juvenile court. The committee went over the ground inspecting the homes as much as possible, and the advisability of establishing the proposed settlement will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the social science department November 13. The committee included Mrs. Draper Smith, leader of the department, Mrs. H. H. Miller of the detention school, Mrs. W. Alderson and Rev. Mr. Bell.

The Lincoln Woman's club has commenced an active and definite campaign for a detention school to operate in conjunction with the juvenile court. At a meeting Monday afternoon some of the prominent men and women of Lincoln participated in a discussion of the needs and advantages of such an institution, and a committee has been appointed to continue the agitation for its establishment. Mrs. M. D. Welch, chairman, Mrs. Stonebraker, president of the club; Mrs. A. J. Sawyer and Mrs. William J. Bryan are members of the committee. Judge Frost of the juvenile court and Superintendent Stephens of the Lincoln schools were among the speakers at Monday's meeting and will assist the women. Mrs. Draper Smith of the Omaha Woman's club was also present, presenting the indorsement of several of the Omaha judges and others of the detention school as an indispensable part of the juvenile correction system. The committee from the Lincoln club, with Judge Frost, a representative of the county commissioners, and others expect to come to Omaha soon to attend a session of the juvenile court and inspect the detention school.

The local organization is to be well represented at the annual convention of the Nebraska Young Women's Christian association, which convenes at Cotner college, Lincoln, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Eighteen members have accepted their intention of attending the delegation to leave Omaha Friday afternoon. It will include: Meses. Emma F. Byers, George Tilden, J. P. Bailey, G. W. Coleman, H. F. Kellogg, C. L. Dolan, J. G. Kuhn, Misses Agnes Ward, Florence Denison, Bertha Davis, M. F. Crittenden, Jessie Lansing, Lydia McCague, Sabra Wilson, Grace Lillie, Minnie Thomas, Clara Thomas, Lorans M. Johnson.

During the past five years Colorado club women have established nineteen scholarships in educational institutions for girls and from a loan fund have assisted thirty-one others in completing their college education. The club women established the traveling library and were chiefly instrumental in securing the law making it a state institution.

Many of the distinguished foreign guests at the world's Women's Christian Temperance union meeting at Boston recently, were also in attendance at the national Women's Christian Temperance union meeting which has just closed at Hartford, Conn. Both of these great organizations in the Boston and Hartford meetings adopted resolutions favoring the enfranchisement of women.

The November meeting of the local chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. P. Kirkendall and was largely attended. A report of the recent state conference held at Lincoln was made by Mrs. A. K. Gault, and the election of state representatives and other officers ratified. Mrs. W. A. Smith, the new treasurer, and Mrs. J. J. Stubbs, registrar, are members of the local chapter.

BEFORE THE PEOPLE'S BAR

Aristocratic Hobo Gets His Liberty on Solemn Promise to Be Good.

After being released at 5:30 Thursday morning from the county jail, where he had just finished serving a term for vagrancy, John Ryan an aristocratic looking hobo, who is the proud possessor of a most luxuriant beard of the genus Van Dyke, was picked up Thursday evening, nearly paralyzed from intoxication. When arraigned before the people's bar Friday morning he told Judge Crawford his tale of woe and said, "Judge, I assure you that if you will only let me go this time I'll never hobo you again. If I am arrested again, I assure you that I won't kick if you sentence me to thirty, sixty or ninety days in jail."

Judge Crawford laconically replied, "I assure you I'll do it. Goodbye, you're discharged."

When A. J. Williams of Des Moines, was arrested Thursday evening on the charge of being a suspicious character, the police believed that one of the burglars who have been operating so successfully during the last few days, had been captured as a gold watch and chain, a diamond locket and a loaded revolver were found on the prisoner when he was searched. Williams proved his ownership of the articles, however, but was fined $1 and costs for carrying concealed weapons by Judge Crawford Friday morning.

Anton Peterson, a visitor from South Dakota, being a noted light refreshment man, Thursday evening, stepped in to the saloon at 902 Capitol avenue. He carried his wealth, consisting of about $60, in a cigar case and when he paid for his refreshment the bartender, William Patterson, snatched the case and asked to examine it. Peterson alleges that he handed the case to Patterson, but when it was returned to him the money was missing. He went to the police station and had Patterson arrested on the charge of larceny. Patterson denies that the case contained any money when it was handed to him.

After several efforts on the part of the city prosecutor to secure a conviction in the case of Clarence Sylva, who was charged with keeping the saloon at 1217 North Twenty-fourth street open after hours, the case was dismissed in police court Friday morning as it appears that the license was not obtained by Sylva. John Buck, an employe of a brewery, is the nominal licensee and a complaint was filed against him by Mr. Daniel after the dismissal of the case against Sylva.

upon to shoot the Heafey horse to put it out of its misery.

Mr. Heafey and Fred Denecker, his driver, narrowly escaped serious injury in a runaway about 9 o'clock Thursday evening, when the horses attached to the buggy in which they were driving became frightened and ran away near Twenty-ninth and Grant streets. The horses ran for about one block and their flight was only stopped by their running into an embankment, throwing Mr. Heafey and the driver from the vehicle. They were painfully, but not seriously injured and were both able to be at work Friday morning, although considerably the worse for wear.

In Divorce Court
Declaring she has been kept a prisoner by her husband for a long period and not allowed to see her mother during that time, Mrs. Anna D. Taylor asks the district court for a divorce from Fred Taylor. In addition to the charge of imprisonment, she says he drinks to excess and does not support her. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name, Anna D. Taylor. Le Grant Travis tells of his domestic troubles with Sophie Travis in his petition for divorce filed Friday. He says she called him vile names, threw a hatchet at him, drew a gun on him, split up the furniture, broke in the doors of their home and as-jured his head. He is being held at the jail on the technical charge of insanity and his condition became such, Friday morning, that the city physician was called and will see that Herthy is properly cared for.

ACTION IN LEE GRIER CASE
Mayor Will Proceed with Checking by Expert if He Has the Authority.

Mayor Duhanan Friday morning consulted with the city legal department regarding the matter of alleged shortage of Lee Grier, former clerk of the police court. The mayor will, if he finds he has authority, proceed to have Grier's accounts checked up by an expert accountant, but if advised by the legal department that he has not such authority he will then turn the whole matter over to the city council and let the councilmen fight it out and assume the whole responsibility. City Attorney Burnam will have an opinion in a few days.

TWO WOMEN GET DAMAGES
Third One Institutes Suit for Ten Thousand Dollars Against Street Car Company.

Luella Farrell, a comely young woman, who was injured in a collision between two street cars at Tenth and Jackson streets about a year ago, was given a verdict for $1,000 against the street car company by a jury in Judge Sear's court Friday morning. She asserts she sustained permanent injuries.

Judgment by consent was entered by the street car company in favor of Romilla Brown for $100. She asserts she was injured while alighting from a car at Sixteenth and Poppleton. She sued for $2,000.

Kate Tobler has begun suit against the street car company for $10,000. She was one of the victims of the collision on Thirtieth street in South Omaha March 13, in which one passenger was killed and several injured.

HEAFEY HURT AND HORSE DEAD
Undertaker Suffers Physical Injuries and Financial Loss from Two Runaways.

F. C. Heafey was mixed up in two run-aways within twenty-four hours, which resulted in painful, though not serious, injuries to himself and the death of a good horse.

A valuable white horse belonging to Heafey & Heafey, undertakers, was shot and killed at Seventeenth and Harney streets at noon Friday through its having been broken by a peculiar accident. H. Ritchie, living at 723 South Twenty-eighth street, was driving down Harney street, when the Heafey horse, attached to a coffin wagon, turned onto Harney street at Seventeenth. Just at the moment the Ritchie team slacked up its pace a moment, a lead horse being also behind it, the Heafey horse, before it could be checked, ran into the Ritchie wagon, climbing partly into it, overthrowing the wagon and breaking its leg in the general mixup. Officer Boyle was in the immediate vicinity and was called
