and Robbed and Man Under Arrest Says He Was Told to Drive It to Mineola.

Says He Was Told to Drive It to Mineola.

The first instance in this vicinity of a man accused of robbery being overtaken and captured by means of an automobile occurred yesterday when the chug wagon of Robert McKenna, a wealthy farmer living in Keg Creek township, was brought into service.

John Ernst, proprietor of a general store in Keg Creek township, while driving home from this city gave a lift to William Sawvel, a stranger who was hitting the turnpike enroute to his former home at Gracely, Ia. According to Ernst's story the stranger rewarded his kindness by assaulting him and throwing him out of the buggy. The stranger then drove away.

Ernst sought assistance at the farm of Robert McKenna, who on hearing the particulars of the assault, got out his automobile and started in pursuit, overtaking the fellow with Ernst's rig at Mineola, where he had him placed under arrest.

Sawvel, when brought to this city last evening by Sheriff Canning, asserted that Ernst had instructed him to drive the rig to Mineola and that he, Ernst, would follow on foot as he did not wish to be seen at home. Sawvel declared that Ernst had been in a fight and had received two black eyes and this was the reason why he did not wish to go home.

Sawvel claimed to have been working in the Dakota harvest fields and that he was making his way home to Gracely, Ia. He said he had arranged with Ernst to leave the team at Mineola and that he intended to walk from there to Shenandoah.

Divorce Bill Busy.
The divorce mill in the district court is still grinding, and yesterday Judge Green severed the matrimonial ties of four couples. Eva L. Ellis from Delmon A. Ellis, Orson C. Carter from Mabel Carter, Willis Parker from Augusta Parker and Lucille Nevers Eghalm from Stephan M. Eghalm.

In the juvenile court Judge Green held Homer Ferguson, the lad charged with being incorrigible under commitment to Eldora, but the commitment is not to be issued providing the boy behaves himself and attends school. In the case of George Kuley, the lad said to be neglected by his guardian, the court decided to withhold his decision until the probation officer made further investigation.

We have potatoes, turnips, cabbages, sweet potatoes, onions, lettuce, celery, squashes, beets, parsnips, dates, figs, new prunes, dried peaches, pineapples, cornmeal, raisins, currants. All new goods. Bartel & Miller, Tel. 358.

INTERSTATE RATE RAISED

Railroads Cut Out Discrimination, But Not in the Manner Desired.

COMMISSION MAY TAKE HAND IN MATTER

No Opposition to the Re-election of D. H. P. Funk Recovering from Illness.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—An advance in the freight rate on cream from Iowa points to points outside the state does not entirely meet with the approval of the Iowa Railroad commission and the commission may determine that the state rates should be lowered. State Dairy and Food Commissioner H. J. Wright discovered that the rate on a 19-pound can of cream from Fort Dodge to Chicago over the Illinois Central was 40 cents and the rate on a can of the same weight shipped on the same train from Fort Dodge to Dubuque, only half the distance, was 30 cents, 10 cents more. This was a discrimination against the Iowa creamery and in favor of the creameries in Chicago. The same low rates applied on all railroads to Kansas, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph and other cities. He held the matter before the railroad commission and also before the railroads with the result that they withdrew the special low rates to outside points and put in a higher rate, the rate from Fort Dodge to Chicago being 35 cents. The position taken by the railroad commission is that while this removes the discrimination as between the creameries of Iowa and those outside the state it places the farmers of Iowa at a disadvantage. The railroad commission has taken no formal action in the matter, but it is quite possible that it may decide that if the railroads could afford to take a can of cream from Fort Dodge to Chicago for 40 cents it ought to haul the can from Fort Dodge to Dubuque, one-half the distance, for about 30 cents. This, they claim, would remove the discrimination and still keep the outside creameries as possible customers for Iowa farmers.

Deliver Without Opposition.
Senator Jonathan P. Dolliver will have no opposition for re-election at the session of the legislature next winter, according to Senator Warren Garst, lieutenant governor-elect of Iowa, and for many years a prominent and leading figure in the senate. Senator Garst is in Des Moines today. He said: "In most of the counties of the state the convention which nominated members of the legislature instructed them to vote for Dolliver. They will not go back on the instructions."

Senator Funk Better.
Senator J. B. Funk of Spirit Lake is reported to be some better and as soon as his health will permit he will start for California, where he will spend the winter. Since early in the summer Mr. Funk has suffered from an attack of pneumonia. It is hoped and believed that the worst is now over and that he will continue to grow better. For a large part of the time it has been feared by his friends that he could not recover from the attack. He is left very weak and it will yet be some time before he is able to be about. Senator Funk has been one of the most prominent figures in the republican party of Iowa. He was at one time a candidate for governor of the state and served for several years on the commission that completed the building of the state capital and did the repairing and remodeling.

Quarter Meter Responsible.
A quarter meter was probably responsible for the death by gas asphyxiation of two young men in this city yesterday. It is believed that the young men went to bed and left the gas burning. During the evening the quarter meter ran out and another quarter was dropped into the machine by some member of the family and the gas started again. The quarter meter is a contrivance that gives gas when a quarter is dropped into it till a quarter's worth of gas has been used and then the flow of gas stops till another quarter is dropped in.

Another Superintendent Affected.
Mrs. Jennie Huegle of this city is not the only candidate for county superintendent of schools who has an election without the necessary qualifications. Mrs. Huegle took the state examination but failed. The republican candidate in Plymouth county, for years a professor in a college at LeMars, has no state certificate. A certificate was not needed in the college and not all a day or two before the election did he discover that one was necessary as county superintendent.

Now Expelled from Drake.
Drake university students who participated in the Hiley incident and broke up the chapel exercises by taking the Tama county candidate for governor into the chapel hall on election day were expelled from the university. Mrs. Hiley took the state examination but failed. The republican candidate in Plymouth county, for years a professor in a college at LeMars, has no state certificate. A certificate was not needed in the college and not all a day or two before the election did he discover that one was necessary as county superintendent.
