WINDUP OF THE CAMPAIGN

Republican Committee Finishes Up with a Balance in the Treasury.

SHELDON HAS PROMISED NO OFFICES YET

Present Legislative Plan Is to Push All Bills Through Early Involving Party Pledges Made in Last Campaign.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—The republican state committee, with eighteen members present, met at the headquarters at the Lindell hotel tonight to wind up the affairs of the late campaign. Reports from the chairman and treasurer of the finances of the committee showed that, including the $1,500 inherited from the previous committee, it had at its disposal a trifle over $5,000. A little over $500 of this remains in the treasury. Short talks were made by Norris Brown and George L. Sheldon, governor-elect, expressing appreciation of the work the committee did during the campaign. Secretary of State-elect Junkin and a bunch of men from the Fourth district, with recommendations for appointive places, were present at the meeting.

Chairman Rose stated that from his reports the republicans would have ninety-seven members in the next legislature, with possibly a few more.

No Offices Promised Yet.

The great bulk of Governor-elect Sheldon's appointments will be made after January 1 and if any announcements are made before that time they will be few in number. Such was the statement of Mr. Sheldon this afternoon.

"By waiting until January 1 to make appointments I will have time to hear from all the people who want places," said the new governor, "and some who want places now may change their minds by that time."

Governor Sheldon was besieged as soon as he struck town last night and at noon he got a little respite by going to the home of E. G. Maggi for lunch. Many who called upon him, of course, were not office seekers or representatives of office seekers, but the great majority were bearing advice and suggestions. Judge Lincoln Frost called during the forenoon and was closeted with the new governor for some time.

Though he made one of the most strenuous campaigns ever waged in Nebraska and he had to use all manner of conveyances to fill his speaking dates, driving across the country by day and by night, in season and out of season, Mr. Sheldon does not show any ill effects of his hard work; in fact, he looks as well as he did the day he began.

"Have you rested up yet?" inquired a friend from Beatrice of the new governor.

"I haven't been tired yet," answered Mr. Sheldon.

Since the election Governor Sheldon has been at his home in Nehawka just resting. "I have been going to bed at 9 o'clock and getting up at 9," he said.

Next Tuesday he will go to Mississippi to spend two weeks, and during that time and before leaving he will not consider appointments, but is open to receive applications. So far not a single office has been promised, Mr. Sheldon said, so it is still a free-for-all race.

Rushing Work on Legislation.

It is now planned, and it is said the plan has the sanction of Governor-elect Sheldon, to have introduced and passed by the legislature during the first fifteen days of the session all of the bills covering the points set out in the republican state platform—the anti-pass bill first, with the emergency clause attached; a bill to make the freight rates in effect January 1, the maximum charges to be made by the railroads; a separate bill giving the Railway commission absolute power to reduce freight rates, with the emergency clause; for the taxation of railroad terminals for municipal purposes; the direct primary bill, and the other planks of the platform. It is thought down here by some of those who want to carry out the platform that the bills will be prepared before the legislature meets and that they will be submitted to Mr. Sheldon.

Requisition for James Perry.

James Perry of Douglas county, wanted for the murder of Steve Seidlik, is under arrest in Douglas, Wyo. Governor Mickey this morning issued a requisition for his return to Nebraska to stand trial. He is charged with murder in the first degree.

Abolition of the Cash Fund.

Recommendations will be made to the incoming state boards to abolish the cash funds kept at the various state institutions. This suggestion was made by Secretary of State Galusha and will be incorporated in his bi-ennial report to the governor. Other state officers agree with the suggestion that the cash fund is not conducive to economical administration of the state institutions. One state officer said it was notorious that claims which had been turned down by the state board had been paid out of the cash funds. This practice, he said, should be stopped, and all the money coming into the state institutions should go into the state treasury and be paid out on warrants, for which the proper vouchers are filed.

The cash fund is not created by law, but is permitted by the state board, and can be abolished by the boards. Members of the old board are of the opinion it should be abolished.

Traction Companies at War.

The Lincoln Traction company and the Citizens' Street Railway company have been going through war today as to which has the right to lay tracks at Twenty-first and M streets. Late this evening both companies were tied up with injunctions and the streets were tied up with tracks placed on top of the ground by both companies. All the city officers, the officers of the two companies and a number of police and lots of workmen were on the ground all day, but no blood was shed. The old traction company stole a march on the new company and began to lay tracks out on N to cross Twenty-first, which would block the new company on its trip to the cemetery. It happened the old company laid a track in front of Mark Woods' house, and this director of the new company couldn't stand for that, so he got busy with the courts, while the others were busy with the rails. Then the new company got busy with rails and the old company got busy with the courts, and thus the matter stands. The courts will have to decide which is entitled to the crossing.

Johnson Desires a Change.

Superintendent Johnson of the Feeble Minded institute at Beatrice is in Lincoln today and will be an applicant for the position of superintendent of the Lincoln asylum, providing Superintendent Hay does not apply for the place. Some of the latter's friends say he would prefer to be the assistant physician rather than the superintendent.

SEEKS TO REGAIN HIS CHILDREN

Father Brings Habeas Corpus Proceedings, but Is Unsuccessful.

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Stephen L. Carr, colored, of Sheridan, Wyo., went to Lincoln this afternoon to institute habeas corpus proceedings for the recovery of his sons, Harry and Herbert, who are 6 and 7 years old. The children were given into the custody of the Home for the Friendless at Lincoln a little more than a year ago. Carr then lived in Nebraska City. A few months after giving them to the home he asked to have them returned to him and was informed that they had been given over to a family, the name of which was kept a secret. Carr then began writing to sheriffs and marshals all over Nebraska and finally he started off on a town-to-town search for them. He located them with a circus in Kenesaw, a few miles west of here, yesterday morning. After a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus County Judge Dungan of Hastings ordered the children back into the custody of the state home in Lincoln and they were taken there by Superintendent Johnston this morning. Carr is determined to repeat the habeas corpus process in Lincoln, if Governor Mickey declines to order the children given to him.

Missouri Pacific Improvements.

AUBURN, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—Rumors of various kinds have been current here concerning the Missouri Pacific railroad. It is said that arrangements are being made for the complete rebuilding of the roadbed between Atchison and Omaha. It appears that an appropriation of $1,500,000 was asked for the improvement of the western division and that the same was granted. The appeal, backed as it was by a statement of conditions, was heeded and in consequence Mr. Gould made a trip over this division last week. Superintendent Jay Russell, with other officials, also made a trip over the road, stopping at this place over night. Auburn is highly elated over the bright prospects of the anticipated improvements.

Husband Gets Household Goods.

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—In the district court today the jury in the replevin case of Rudolph Blaban against Agnes Blaban brought in a verdict giving all the property taken on the writ except $25 worth to the plaintiff. The parties were divorced this summer and the contest was over the household furniture, which was worth about $1,500 and was not mentioned in the decree, which gave the wife considerable alimony. The defense asserts that most of the goods were purchased with money given Blaban by his father-in-law and were for the family use. The case was hotly contested.

Dog Attacks Woman.

KEARNEY, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. O. A. Anderson had a narrow escape from death from the attacks of a vicious bulldog today. She went upstairs in the Hamer block on an errand and on passing the dog paused to admire its little family of puppies. Scarcely had she stepped when the dog landed on her breast and planted its teeth in her face. Mrs. Anderson was knocked down by the force of the onset and would have been torn to pieces had not the owner of the dog grasped it by the collar and pulled it off. The wound was directly over Mrs. Anderson's left eye, part of the eyelid and eyebrow being torn away and the flesh on her forehead lacerated clear to the bone.

Church Cornerstone Laid.

PLAINVIEW, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—The ceremony of laying the cornerstone for the new $11,000 Methodist Episcopal church took place at 2 p. m. yesterday. Rev. T. Bithell, D. D., the presiding elder, was in charge of the service and gave the principal address. Short addresses were delivered by the pastors of the other churches of the place and the cornerstone was laid by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Yost. Plainview has grown to be a strong Methodist point and their new church will be one of the best in the conference.

The county attorney has wired young Brown's father, who is said to be a wealthy farmer near Lamoni, to come and get his son. REMARRIAGE OF DIVORCEES

Declaration Adopted by Bishop Worthington and Episcopal Clergymen.

FATHER WILLIAMS AUTHOR OF ARTICLES

Dean Beecher and Three Others Decline to Sign Document, Taking More Radical Stand Than Church Law Provides.

With the exception of four ministers, all the Episcopal clergy of the eastern part of the diocese of Nebraska, including Bishop Worthington, who is here from New York, have signed a declaration on the remarriage of divorced persons, which was drawn by Father John Williams of St. Barnabas' church, Omaha, and which was adopted by the house of bishops by a vote of 34 to 21. The four who declined to affix their signatures to this document were Dean Beecher of Trinity cathedral, Rev. T. J. Mackay of All Saints', Omaha; Rev. H. P. Burgess of Plattsmouth and Rev. F. C. Smith of Central City. Their reasons were they did not care to go beyond the law of the church. They considered that sufficient. If the church saw fit to revise its law, either making it more conservative or more radical, they would conform to it, but they objected to signing this declaration.

Father Williams, in explaining the declaration not to remarry persons guilty of the one sin, said he and his associates did not refuse to remarry the innocent party to a case of divorce for adultery; they would agree to remarry him or her as the case may be. This position they took strictly on scriptural grounds as they understood the command of God.

Text of the Declaration.

The members of the Ministerial union have not yet agreed on any decisive basis for dealing with divorced persons. The articles and their subscribers submitted by Father Williams are:

Inasmuch as it is commanded by our blessed Lord that it is not lawful for a man to put away his wife to marry another during her lifetime, except for the cause of fornication, and inasmuch as it is doubtful whether the sin for which our Lord gave permission to put away a wife was the sin of premarital unchastity, for which the law permitted a man to put away his wife, or the sin of adultery or postmarital unchastity, for which under the law a wife was put to death, not simply put away, thus rendering wholly doubtful the lawfulness of the remarriage of any person divorced for any cause arising after marriage; now, therefore, we, the undersigned bishops and priests of the diocese of Nebraska, do hereby pledge ourselves not to solemnize the marriage of any person who has a divorced wife or husband living. If the divorce has been obtained for any cause arising after marriage.

Check Too Slow in Travels.

TECUMSEH, Neb., Nov. 16.—(Special.)—In the case of Matt C. Joyce against Ben F. Miller and Minnie A. Miller, his wife, on a bank check, in the district court here, the jury found for the defendants. Mr. Joyce is a ranchman, operating in Idaho. In the year 1902 Miller, who is a horseman, went to his ranch and bargained for 250 head of horses. One hundred and fifty of the animals were shipped, Miller paying cash for them. Later, in August of the same year, Miller returned to the ranch for his other 100 horses and, shipping the animals, gave Joyce a check for them, amounting to $1,274, on the Chamberlain banking house of Tecumseh, just as he had done previously. Before the check got to its parent bank the institution had failed and it was not paid. Miller went through bankruptcy proceedings, hence the finding of the jury as stated. In the case of Wilkins against Wilkins, on a note, the jury found for the plaintiff in the sum of $4,430. Robert Wilkins was sued by his wife, Martha Wilkins, on a note for $5,000. The couple reside in the northern part of the county and this court refused them a divorce at a previous sitting.
