MAN FAINTS AT WIFE'S WORDS

George R. Paxton, Confessor Orality to Family, Collapses in Court Room.

FALLS UNDER LASH FROM WOMAN'S LIPS

Listens to Recital of His Perfidy, and When Court Asks Castigation He Suffers Stroke of Heart.

After hearing a recital of his perfidy from the lips of his own wife in police court Tuesday morning, George R. Paxton, a carpenter, who lives at 4106 North Twenty-seventh street, fainted and fell to the floor in a semi-conscious condition. He was attended by Police Surgeon Harris, who administered a hypodermic injection and said the excitement had induced a sudden attack of heart failure.

Mrs. Paxton, who has been in the care of the police matron since last Saturday, together with her three small children, appeared against her husband, holding their youngest child in her arms. She pitifully told Judge Crawford the brutal treatment accorded her by Paxton. The husband is a man of high temper and frequently threatened the life of his wife, as well as beat their children most abominably on several occasions. Mrs. Paxton said her husband refused to buy provisions or coal for their home and wanted to get rid of them all, as he had offered to pay their fare to Chicago if she would only take the children and leave him.

Asks to Sit Down. While the unfortunate woman was reciting her story to the court Paxton requested that he be allowed to sit down. Beads of perspiration were standing on his forehead and he appeared to be laboring under great mental excitement. After Mrs. Paxton concluded Judge Crawford asked the husband if he had anything to say, but he silently admitted the charges.

Judge Crawford was greatly excited over the tale of the outraged wife and condemned Paxton in forceful language for the "perfidy of his duties as a husband and father." The judge asked Paxton if he would promise to take the woman and children to their home and treat them properly and it was at this juncture that Paxton fell to the floor in a faint.

After he had been revived the judge dismissed the case and urged the husband and wife to make an amicable arrangement of their difficulties. Mrs. Paxton refused to go home with her husband, as she said he would surely kill her and the children, but later the family held a conference in the matron's department, and it is believed that the case will be settled with satisfaction to all concerned.

DIES WHILE DOCTORS QUIBBLE

Question Whether City or County Should Act Unsettled When Victim Expires.

Suddenly attacked by an illness, Andrew Babakus, aged about 48, an Austrian, recently from Rock Springs, Wyo., died in the office of the Willow Springs hotel, 1104 South Sixth street, late yesterday afternoon before medical attendance could be secured. Babakus had been a sufferer from heart disease and it is believed the malady caused his death.

The man had worked in Wyoming as a miner and came to Omaha Sunday, taking a job as railroad laborer near the Willow Springs hotel, where he boarded. Yesterday afternoon he became ill and was obliged to quit work, going to the hotel, where he became worse, falling on the floor.

Patrolman Inda was summoned and he notified the police station. A long delay,

BILLY WILLIAMS' BENEFIT

Mabel Manning Will Sing for Old Comedian at the Lyric Two Nights.

Mabel Manning, an Omaha girl, who has sung in Italian opera, will sing Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the Billy Williams benefit performance to be given at the Lyric theater, Nineteenth and Farnam streets. Miss Manning is one of the many who have volunteered their talent for the occasion. The benefits promise to be successful in every way. Those who took hold of the venture went at it with a will, believing their beneficiary well worthy of the testimonial to be tendered him.

In the hey day of his stage life Billy Williams was generous with his earnings. He helped many who needed a lift along the way, and now that Mr. Williams has taken up his residence in Omaha, and has been stricken with sickness there are many who feel they are doing but a bounden duty when they buy tickets for the Williams' benefit.

POLICE WANT MAN WHO CUT

Looking for Sam Moreasi, Who Stubbed Comedian in Arm with a Knife.

The police are searching for Sam Moreasi, an Italian laborer who formerly resided near Fourteenth and Leavenworth streets. He is wanted on the charge of cutting John Rossi, a fellow laborer, in the left arm at the Union Pacific shop Monday afternoon, when Mr. Moreasi, presumably quarreling over the price of ice in Peru or some other trivial affair and Moreasi drew a long butcher knife and proceeded to try his hand at making homemade mince meat of his countryman. The wound inflicted was slight and after the cutting, Moreasi made his escape.

Announcements of the Theaters

The coming of Ezra Kendall in a new play is always welcome to the patrons of the theater anywhere. This sterling comedian is one of a long line of American actors who have made their names famous in the annals of the stage. Mr. Kendall retains the traditions of the school of which he is almost the only remaining representative, and makes his role as unimpaired as can well be imagined, mingling with his wit homely philosophy and touches of that tender pathos of which he is master. In his new play, "Swell, Elegant Jones," he has full scope for these qualifications, and is making a great success. His engagement at the Boyd theater begins with Thursday evening and lasts the rest of the week, with a matinee on Saturday afternoon.

STORM DAMAGE GROWING

Western Tennessee Under Water and Rain is Still Falling.

RAILROAD TRAFFIC ALMOST SUSPENDED

Rising Waters Make it Impossible to Recover Bodies of People Killed Sunday in Accident on Trestle.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 20.—With the rain still falling, at times reaching a down-pour, the situation in this section of the state becomes more and more serious. It is estimated that already the food losses will approximate $250,000 in Shelby county.

The following is given as some of the damage done in Shelby county alone: Fourteen county bridges and nine miles of levees destroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $100,000.

Ten thousand sawlogs, worth approximately $10,000, swept from their moorings in Wolf river.

Railroad traffic generally suspended and practically suspended on several lines; certain lines are receiving perishable freight for shipment.

The heavy downpour of rain and rising waters make it impossible for wrecking crews to rescue the bodies of the Non-combat trestle victims, who lost their lives Sunday night. All men are delayed and rural free delivery service virtually suspended, owing to ruined bridges and roads.

A levee camp and outfit were destroyed with a loss of $25,000.

Railroad conditions today continue about as they were last night, with no immediate prospect of a resumption of traffic. Railroad officials say the storm is the worst ever experienced in this section of the country.

The Louisville and Nashville is handling the Southern railroad passenger business to Chattanooga and Knoxville, Chattanooga & St. Louis business via McKensie and Humboldt. Water is over the tracks of the Illinois Central at Jackson, Tenn., on the "Frisco" from Mountain and Cotton Belt are all behind their schedule.

Two spans of the Illinois Central railroad bridge across Wolf river were swept away today, and all northern traffic over the road has been suspended.

Five small houses located on Alabama street, near Johnson avenue, have collapsed and fallen into Bayou Gayard.

More than fifty county bridges are reported washed out.

The Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad has suspended business and other roads are in bad shape.

Lightning at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 20.—The persistent rainfall of the last three days culminated early today in an electrical storm and cloudburst that made the city tremble. Trees were struck by lightning, telephons and telegraph systems were much disorganized.

Streets in many sections of the city resembled lakes and it was impossible for pedestrians to go about without wading knee deep in water. Nearly all trains from the south are arriving from one to six hours late.

Louisville and other southern suburbs of the city lost the fruit of the damage. On P street, between Sixth and Seventh, several of the residents' brought into service improvised rafts and poled their way from their homes to a point where they could land. Many persons abandoned their dwellings until the water receded.

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 20.—A cloudburst here early today, following heavy rains of two days, sent Little river out of its banks and flooded a large portion of the city. The damage is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

Kansas Trains Stalled.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 20.—The result of last night's snowstorm four overland trains on the Rock Island's El Paso division were stalled today in the cuts between Bucklin and Liberal, Kan. They were Nos. 44, 45, 46 and 47. No attempt was made today to run freight trains on that division. The Santa Fe reported its main line across Kansas open, but several trains on that road are snowbound on the Panhandle division, where the snow is from four to five feet deep in the cuts. The weather is moderating.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 20.—The storm of snow and sleet continues in this section today. All trains from the west are delayed and telephone and telegraph service was interrupted.

PORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 20.—Reports today tell of further crippling of railroad traffic in west Texas. Between Childress and Delhart, Tex., three passenger trains are snowbound with no means of communication. Much damage was done to a large amount of cotton yet unpicked.

"It is Cool in Colorado."

DENVER, Nov. 20.—Temperatures below zero were reported today in southern Colorado and in the mountainous regions of the state. It was 1 degree above zero in Denver, 5 below in Colorado Springs and Pueblo and 10 degrees below zero at Corral, on the summit of the front range.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 20.—The sun is shining brightly here today and the snow is rapidly disappearing. There was a snow fall of six and one-half inches, the storm being a record-breaker. The thermometer last night registered 12 degrees above zero, the coldest here in twenty-six years.

Too Good Times for Smooth Operation of Machinery of Justice in Getting Jurors.

The federal courts are just now enjoying the effects of national prosperity in their inability to secure as big a bunch of petit jurors as desired. A panel of sixty jurors was drawn two weeks ago and all but thirty-one of the panel have been called for service. In one instance the juror had an excuse that even the court could not deny. The juror had been dead for several months. However, the court will proceed with the thirty-one jurors remaining on the panel until December 3, in any event, when Judge Trierber arrives to assist in the trial of the docket. At that time it may be necessary to draw additional jurymen.

OMAHA MAKES A PROTEST

Business Interests Will Ask Associated Press for Fairer Share of Publicity.

Believing that Omaha does not get through the agency of the Associated Press the publicity it deserves, the Commercial club has decided to take up the matter with Superintendent A. C. Thomas at Chicago. The club will show where Omaha has been grossly discriminated against in favor of other cities, being given less space in instances where the nature of news and apparent national importance was the same.

SPORTS OF A DAY.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM BAD BUMPS

Boys Did Well Considering the Many Disadvantages.

The high school football season is over for another year. The team made a creditable showing, considering the disadvantages under which it has labored. It has the earliest support of the faculty and part of the student body, but a team had to be organized in a matter of ten days, owing to a number of difficulties, including lack of funds, and because some of the boys were not up in their studies. The strict enforcement of this latter rule often sent the team into a game with three or four of its best men out, but the faculty rightfully insisted that the rule be recognized. That the boys did well under the circumstances when they went into the South Omaha game with substitutes in the most important positions and despite playing many of the other players. The team played very good football, returning to campus only although the management seemed to have plenty of provocation to do so.

Captain Merrill Howard has been inducted into the ROTC and will be participating in the last half of the season, but he insisted on playing out the year, in the South Omaha game, but was absolutely forbidden by the faculty advisers. Just before the game he was called to the ROTC work and the latter severed his connection with the school.

Should nothing occur that will tend to force the school to withdraw from the fight will go down in history as a battle for the largest purse that has ever been offered. This offer will no doubt stir both Herman and Gans to do their best for the battle of their lives. In a victory in this contest means more than the securing of the championship, for it will give the school other Gans or Herman and we will not know who the lucky one is until January 1.

Here are a few statistics your humble friend, the historian, has dug up: The Frisco National league club has the record for most defeats in one season, losing 114 games in 1887.

The largest score on record was made at Buffalo in the 69-Niagara, 20; Columbus, 14.

The longest game on record was played at Devil's Lake, N. D., July 18, 1891, when Grand Forks and Fargo played twenty-five innings without a run.

In 185 Boston won every game played on the home grounds.

In 182 the Cincinnati Reds traveled from Maine to Boston and lost all corners without losing a single game.

Jim Fling, a Harvard student, was the first player to make a catch in the air.

The longest run of defeats was sustained by Louisville in 1888 when it lost twenty-six straight games.

Paul Hines in 1875, Harry O'Hagan in 1876 and Larry Schindler in 1896, completed the only single-handed triple plays ever made.

The punt was first practiced in 1883 and Arlie Latham is its father.

It was suggested by the punt the following year, and Latham and Comiskey got in early on 1884.

The double strike with first and third bases occupied, came into prominence in 1822.

The shot, throw and second was discovered the following year as a means of stopping the double steal.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

Last night at the Association alleys the Blue Ribbon bowlers had a series with an average of above 1000 to the case. The Blue Ribbon boys rolled a total of 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300.
