celery and cook slowly for about five hours. Remove pigeons, strain liquor and thicken with butter and flour cooked together. Reheat pigeons in sauce and serve in a pastry case with cover. Some prefer to sear outside of surface of birds in salt pork fat before cooking in water.

least during the first ten minutes' cooking; after that the heat may be slightly reduced. The covered bakers are the best to use if it is suspected that a bird is old and tough it should always be parboiled before roasting.

lighted entirely by tapers placed about the plate rail, sideboard, buffet or mantel. These are for lighting as well as decorative purposes and so are not shaded, but where tapers are used on the table it is less taxing to the eyes if they are shaded.

General Wint has been in command of the Department of the Missouri for two years, succeeding Major General E. V. Sumner, now retired, who succeeded Major General John M. Bates, now also retired.

Many an experienced cook has not yet learned that steaming is a more successful process of cooking fruit cake than baking. It not only requires no more time, but eliminates the possibility of burning or falling. The steaming process suggests to many a soggy, wet surface, not objectionable in a pudding, but undesirable in a cake.

Fine Care Fine Hair. It's the care that makes the hair! Use Ayer's Hair Vigor, now improved formula, systematically, conscientiously, and you will get results. We know it steps falling hair, cures dandruff, and is a most elegant dressing.

Table Decorations. To increase the lasting capacity of candles for table decoration, keep them in the refrigerator for twenty-four hours before using. They will burn very much longer and to the hostess who uses candles to any extent, as most of the most fastidious housewives do, this is a big item.
