When L. C. Irvine of St. Louis, vice president of the congress, was recognized by the chair, Mr. Irvine made an impassioned address, censuring the action of the resolutions committee in omitting from its report the two resolutions introduced to the congress by Mr. Bryan during his speech last night. Mr. Irvine intimated that the omission of these two resolutions favored of political influence and their authorship rather than their subject matter was the reason for failure of the committee to report them.

He said all of the American people were in favor of the Bryan resolutions and that if this convention did not want to lose its power and influence it had better not commit itself to an action indicating a partisan feeling. He said that the republican leaders who are fighting the trusts and Mr. Bryan were a unit on the trust question. He said that if you took a speech delivered by Mr. Bryan on that subject and another delivered by Mr. Roosevelt or Attorney General Hadley and you were not told the name of their authors you could not tell which man was the author of either speech.

Committee Report Adopted. J. A. Ross of South Dakota accepted the speech of Mr. Irvine and Chairman David B. Francis suggested that consideration of the two Bryan resolutions be postponed until the report of the committee on resolutions as reported had been adopted. The suggestion was accepted, the report of the committee was adopted, and Mr. Irvine then formally offered the Bryan resolution against private monopoly.

Mr. Irvine made a stirring reply to Mr. Irvine. He said that he opposed the Bryan resolutions because of the views Mr. Bryan had expressed in his New York speech. He said that those views were of such a nature that he did not want the congress to go on record as supporting them, directly or indirectly. He said that Mr. Bryan, who was an eminent dilettante and candidate for political honors, had advocated government ownership of all public utilities and that an endorsement of his trust resolution would be an indirect endorsement of government ownership of such utilities.

Mr. Thomas Knight of Kansas City asked Mr. Irvine: "Does the authorship of a resolution stamp the resolution?" and Mr. Irvine replied: "Would you consider any resolution put by Mr. Harriman?"

Mr. Knight answered: "I would if a good one." Without further debate the resolution offered by Mr. Irvine was adopted. Then Mr. Bryan's peace resolution was submitted and adopted without debate.

Ex-Governor L. B. Prince, of New Mexico made a strong plea for separate statehood for that territory. He said that New Mexico had elected sixty-six delegates at the last election who would meet in January and draft a constitution, after which it would be submitted to congress.

Congressman John Stephens of Texas requested that he be allowed to submit a resolution favoring statehood for Arizona, saying that he wanted to act as "the friend in court" of that territory, which had no representative in the congress. Congressman Stephens wanted to make his resolution a strong plea for separate statehood, but Governor Prince objected, saying that New Mexico had voted in favor of joint statehood, while Arizona had voted against it.

"I don't blame Arizona for voting against you. They are American there, while you have a good many Mexicans in New Mexico," rejoined Congressman Stephens. Congressman Stephens then submitted a resolution worded similarly to the New Mexico resolution, giving separate statehood for Arizona, and the resolution was accepted by the resolution committee and adopted with the rest of the report.

Railroad Resolutions Omitted. Various resolutions were offered against anti-railroad legislation, as well as for more drastic legislation to control the railroads, but the congress did not adopt any of them. G. J. Kinard of Denver offered a resolution for the classification of railroad freight rates, so long and short hauls would be proportionately the same.

J. A. Ross offered a resolution directing congress to ascertain the exact cost of all the railroads in this country, what would be a reasonable profit on the money invested and that all so-called watered stocks be eliminated in the consideration of these questions.

J. W. Higgins of Texas offered a resolution and made a speech against anti-railroad legislation. He declared that the drastic rate legislation of Texas had injured the state, delayed its growth and is hurting the whole section of the Texas delta. L. C. Irvine of St. Louis declared that the railroad rate law did not discourage railroad building.

The date of the next meeting of the congress will be decided upon by the executive committee. The congress directed that each dele-

JACOBY'S TALK EFFECTIVE

Quarantined Omaha Sport Tells Remorseful Chapters of His Life. YEARS OF HIS TIME WASTED. Disipation Falls Upon Him and a New Light Enters His Soul—Appeals to Others to Follow His Later Road.

After William B. Jacoby told his simple yet thrilling life story at the Auditorium last evening forty persons expressed a desire to lead a new life and accept the Christ of whom Mr. Jacoby spoke in his talk. The Auditorium was nearly full. There were very few empty seats and the crowd was estimated at nearly 4,000. Those in charge felt greatly encouraged at the results of last evening. The announcement that Mr. Jacoby would tell the story of his life served to bring out many who would, perhaps, not otherwise have attended. If any saloon keeper attended they were lost in the crowd. None were included in the forty redeemed. One of the forty was a man who knew Mr. Jacoby in his days in Omaha and who only a week ago was suffering with delirium tremens.

Before Mr. Jacoby spoke Dr. Torrey offered a few introductory remarks, in which he referred to his refusal to give a temperance talk next Sunday upon the solicitation of a delegation of Omaha women. He said he told the women who were on him that he preached temperance every evening and that Mr. Jacoby would speak to the saloon men Friday evening. "But we don't want to go to the saloon men," replied the women. "Then you ought to," responded Dr. Torrey.

Mr. Jacoby is a man of imposing presence. His beaming countenance shines with a light unusual for a man 61 years of age. He carried his hearers along with an eager interest. At the close of his talk last evening Dr. Torrey suppressed an attempt to applaud Mr. Jacoby.

Jacoby Tells His Story. Mr. Jacoby's life story was in brief as follows:

"There are many here this evening that know no one who has been living in the medium weight yarn, indestructible finish, high spliced heels and double soles—35c per pair. Women's black cotton hose, made with rib top, full fashioned, double soles and high spliced heels, 35c per pair, or 3 pairs for $1.00. See new patterns in women's fancy hosiery, at 50c, 55c, 60c, 65c and $1.50 per pair.

Too Bad for a Politician. "I said nothing, but looked toward mother, who was crying and smiling, for she saw her boy close to his father and unrecognition. I joined the army again and returned to Philadelphia to go on the police force, but proved even too bad for the police force. I later going with a bad crowd and was in the Philadelphia and Omaha jails numerous times. I joined the army still again and was stationed at Fort Omaha. On one occasion I got into a row and received a compound fracture and I was tried for that charge. But I was discharged. While in jail in Omaha I met Lou George and Jack Nugent. The chief of police gave me twenty-four hours to leave town, and I went. But now I am glad to say I am able to return here under different circumstances.

"Finally mother and father died. I don't think mother ever knew I was saved. Maybe she knows now. I have often wished since that I might have her back for a few minutes to tell her her boy had changed his ways and place my arms around her neck.

"While at Fort Randall there was a revival. I was feeling the old life burdened and felt a desire for something different. I went up to the altar of my own volition and a minister asked, 'Don't you feel any different?' I did not then know that whoever called on the Lord would be saved to the uttermost. But I soon learned that if any man is in Christ he will become a new creature, and that all the things will become new. My old record was wiped out, and I had one of the blackest records a man possibly could have.

"I am a new man with new life and new hope. I drank much liquor in my life, but God had not only given me a new heart, SHERRIDAN, Wyo., Nov. 23.—(Special.)—Miners employed in opening a new coal mine on Beaver creek near here, unearthed a large fossil section of goniatite fish (clonates) conatus, one of the four orders of fishes in the classification of Agassiz. This species, now extinct, was numerous in the earlier geological periods and attained enormous size. The peculiarity of the fish is in its scales, which are angular in shape, in oblique rows and covered with a bright reddish purple enamel. From the fossil picked up at the mine it is said the fish from which it came must have been at least seven feet long. Diligent search is being made for the balance of the fossil.

SCHMITZ REACHES NEW YORK. Accused Mayor of San Francisco Says He Courts the Fullest Inquiry.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Mayor Schmitz of San Francisco, who arrived here today on the steamer Pacific, said there was absolutely no truth in the charges made against him and that he will go to San Francisco and court the fullest inquiry.

When the Patricia arrived at quarantine Mr. Schmitz was shown newspapers containing reports of charges against him in San Francisco. He said: "There is not a scintilla of truth in the charges. The fact is, it is an attack made against me by my political enemies because I made a strong fight against District Attorney Langdon, who was defeated for governor. His friends are now taking their revenge. It is an old statement for a big man to make, but it is a fact that my nerves were so affected after the long and trying time we had passed through that I made this trip abroad. I had intended to call for home December 15, expecting to arrive in San Francisco about New Year's day. My friends were to give me a big reception and I suppose these people put this up to prevent it. Hearing that they were attacking me, I returned six weeks sooner than I expected. I did not know of these charges until today, after the pilot came on board. I shall court the strictest inquiry and as promptly as possible. I want it. I can only say that I have a clear conscience in this matter and where guilt does not exist I have nothing to fear. I shall go to the Waldorf Astoria for a day and then go directly home."

Mrs. Schmitz accompanied the mayor. No attempt was made to arrest Mr. Schmitz when he came ashore from the steamer. An automobile was waiting for him and he left the dock at once.

NEW SCHEME OF HARRIMAN. Union Pacific Magnate Planning to Obtain Control of Chicago Terminal.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Plans are being formulated by E. H. Harriman and other eastern financiers, according to the Chronicle, for the formation of a giant corporation which is to control practically the commercial life of Chicago by means of a combination of the subway, transportation, freight, express, electric light, power and telephone companies now holding franchises in the city.

The first intimation that such a deal was under way came today from an authoritative source. The statement was made that the proposed merger of the Illinois Traction company and the Chicago Edison company was the first step in the formation of one of the greatest corporations the world has ever seen.

It is known that Mr. Harriman wants to gain control of the tunnels in order to use them for distributing systems for freight arriving in Chicago over the many railroads now under his control. Such a system for the exchange and distribution of freight and express would mean a saving of millions for the Harriman roads.

Darrow of New York, who has been head of the publication bureau of the Grange for many years, is slated to be editor. Resolutions for modification of the tariff were adopted.
