

MORE BIDS FOR DECORATING

State Board Decides to Go Ahead with Work in Legislative Chambers.

HOW THE ORIGINAL MISTAKE WAS MADE

Land Commissioner Eaton Gives Out Some Figures on State Lands Disposed of During the Year.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 24.—(Special.)—The State Board of Public Lands and Buildings, with Mr. Mortensen absent, decided to re-advertise for bids for papering and painting the senate chamber and the house of representatives.

The contract was let to the Lincoln Wall Paper company first for $2,500. When this fact was announced through the press a representative of the Davis Furniture company called upon members of the board to protest, inasmuch as his bid was lower than that sum.

An examination of the bids was made and it was found the board had duplicated some items in the bids in making the total, and the lowest bidder should have received $1,250 for the work.

It happened that when the matter was straightened out the Lincoln Wall Paper company was still the lowest bidder.

In the meantime Secretary of State Galusha had left town. Chairman Eaton of the board professed absolute ignorance of the bids, and Mr. Mortensen said he had looked at them casually on the table at the board meeting and saw nothing wrong.

Mr. Brown said whatever Mr. Galusha had done had been done by orders of the board. With this as a basis the Evening News here laid all the blame on Mr. Galusha and absolved the other members of the board from any wrong doing or even carelessness.

As a matter of fact, Chairman Eaton was with Mr. Galusha when Mr. Davis called to ask for an explanation. Mr. Eaton had examined the bids and so had every other member of the board.

Where the oversight or carelessness came in on the part of the board was in adding in with the totals the bids for the papering of the walls in both the house and senate. The bids were as follows, showing how they easily made the mistake:

Table with 2 columns: Item description and Price. Includes items like 'Papering senate wall', 'Papering house wall', 'Lincoln Wall Paper Company'.

Yours respectfully, A. C. DAVIS, Per A. G. D.

Charles Aldrich, a new state senator from Butler county, was at the statehouse today and said he was going to work on a bill giving the new railroad commission absolute power to handle the business it is intended it should handle.

Aldrich has railroad bill. Charles Aldrich, a new state senator from Butler county, was at the statehouse today and said he was going to work on a bill giving the new railroad commission absolute power to handle the business it is intended it should handle.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time. BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced.

and this may be a drawback to him accepting the position were it tendered him.

School Land Statistics.

Advance sheets from the biennial report of the Information that the state of Nebraska in the last two years has sold 78,817 acres of school land for the sum of $1,235,077.71. This is equivalent to an average of $15.72 per acre, or more than twice the minimum figure of $7 as fixed by the state constitution. The lands are scattered over sixty or more counties in the state.

As originally appraised, the school acreage disposed of during the biennium was given a valuation of $83,566.31. The practice of reviewing appraisements resulted in raising that sum by $25,311.40, or 27 per cent. The lands are scattered over sixty or more counties in the state.

Money Buried Half Century Ago is Found Near Rio.

RIO, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—William Evans of this city, while digging near the Rio elevator, discovered a small sack full of old money. He was widening the ditch that leads the surplus water from the engine room, when his spade struck a hard substance. He H. H. Evans, the general manager, examined it and found it was two 24-cent pieces that had become stuck together by mud. Digging still deeper, he dug up a small sack containing about $25 in money, mostly in small pieces, dimes half-dimes, dollars, half-dollars, quarters and gold pieces. Some Spanish and Mexican coins were mixed with it. The dates of the coins varied from 1729 to 1858. One gold piece bore the latter date and was as bright as though new. The corners were sharp, as if it had been handled but little. The money was probably buried in the sixties, during the Jayhawk times here. Mr. Evans, a retired merchant of this city, used to live in a house that was located over this spot. Mr. Randolph lived there later, but when the $1,000,000 bridge was built, the house was moved to make way for the laying of the new road bed. There was a cellar under this house and the grade thrown up went down to it, and indications go to show that this money was hidden or buried in this cellar. One piece of silver, as the lot of the bottles was marked, bore the words, "Peru, M. J." The dates represent nearly every year from 1729 to 1858 and their value, according to the prices advertised by buyers of rare coins, will perhaps amount to several hundred dollars.

FALL FROM WAGON PROVES FATAL.

Emil Johnson, Drayman of Loomis, Meets Unfortunate Accident. HOLDREGE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Emil Johnson, a drayman living at Loomis, lost his life. He came to Holdrege for a load of lumber, and on the way back his team became scared about four and a half miles west of town and started to run. Johnson and his constant, Charles Johnson, were walking behind the wagon. Emil climbed to the top of the load in order to get hold of the lines, and in some way fell so that the wagon ran over him and crushed his chest, killing him almost instantly. He was a young man, with a wife and several small children and had just moved into a new home, hardly completed, in Loomis and had recently bought the dray business in which he was engaged. He did not drink nor had he any other bad habits.

Seats for Douglas Senators.

Senator Thomas of Omaha was here today and selected seats for the Douglas county members of the senate. He secured the best seats in the chamber, next to the entrance on the aisle to the right. He will occupy the seat next to the speaker, Dick O'Neal of Lancaster county, with his "Casey at the Bat" and other poems and things.

McBrien Back from Missouri.

Superintendent McBrien has returned from a ten days' visit to dear old Missouri, where he first saw the light. Though he has broken away from the days of the wagon and the moonshine, and wears his shoes blacked sometimes, Mr. McBrien said he was given a cordial welcome and called upon the old black mammy who nursed him years and years ago. He went turkey hunting and saw a bear, but failed to bring home any game for reasons well known to those who know the oratorical superintendent.

Beatrice Man May Now Marry His Wife a Second Time.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Thomas Sample was today granted a divorce from his first wife, Mrs. S. O. Sample of Beatrice, by Judge Kellinger. This is the second time the same couple have been divorced. The former decree was issued about a year ago and Sample soon afterwards married Mrs. Grace Rackley of this city. The husband was then set aside, making Sample the divorcee of two wives. The case came up for hearing yesterday to determine whether the first decree should have been granted or not, and the first Mrs. Sample related her husband's efforts to secure release. Since the setting aside of the decree Sample and his second wife have been living apart, fearing a complaint of bigamy would be instituted against them. The decree granted today simplifies the tangle considerably, and Sample and Mrs. Rackley will now be married again, the former marriage having been annulled. Judge Kellinger also disposed of several other important matters. In the motion picture case the Sparks case, which is under advisement, he overruled six of the points raised in the motion to quash and sustained one. The point sustained, and which makes the information defective, was the fact that the complaint does not state the offense complained of, was committed in Garden county or elsewhere. He gave County Attorney Killen three days in which to amend his petition, and reduced the bond $1,000 on each account. Mrs. O'Brien was granted a divorce from her husband, on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. In the appeal taken by Judge Kretzinger from the allowance of the claim of Dr. Davis, the water expert, amounting to $125, which did not have the "O K" of the water committee, the court overruled the appeal and sustained the action of the city council.

Corn and Coking Contests.

BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—Yesterday was held day for the boy farmers and girl cokers of Gage county, and a large crowd of them assembled at the court house to await the decision of the judges in the corn growing and coking contests. J. W. Culp, president of the Peru Normal, Deputy State Superintendent, Bishop and Miss Rose Bouton of Lincoln delivered brief addresses. There were forty contestants and prizes were awarded as follows: Corn Contest—Hodgson's Yellow Dent, Clyde Bay, first; Clara's Shiner, second; Fred Hay, third; Red's Yellow Dent, Earl Cook, first; Howard Martin, second; Walter Reimund, third; Mammoth White Pearl, Edward Lewis, first; John Faye, second; Lawrence Odell, third; Iowa Silver Mine, Ralph Ellis, first; Earl Reimund, second; Harry Odell, third. Coking Contest—White head, Dorothy Miller, first; Eugene Lewis, second; Eva Wilkinson, third; Doughnuts, Eva Brennan, first; M. Andrey, second; M. Andrey, second; Sparks, third; Corn bread, Eugene Lewis, first; Helen Wilkinson, second; Eva Wilkinson, third; Cookies, Arthur Hess, first; Beatrice M. Logsdon, second; Lolo Morris, third.

Stray Bullet Injures Bystrander.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Nov. 24.—(Special.)—From Wilson, about 20 years of age, was shot through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred as a result of a quarrel between Frank Hinkley and T. S. Cover. They had been quarreling the greater part of the afternoon and about 5 o'clock, met in Whelan's saloon, both intoxicated. Stanley struck Cover in the face, and Cover pulled his gun and shot at Stanley. The bullet passed through the fleshy part of the left leg above the knee, by a stray bullet from a 32-caliber revolver, in the hands of T. S. Cover. The wound is not considered dangerous. The shooting occurred