

ALL ARE THANKFUL IN OMAHA

Rich and Poor Have Cause for Gratitude and Substance for Celebration.

CHARITY REMEMBERS ITS DEPENDENTS

Various Institutions of Mercy Will Administer to the Wants of These Unable to Help Themselves.

12:30 a. m., Auditorium—Special song service, led by Mr. Patton and Mrs. Torrey. Collection for the Old People's home and other charities.

Thanksgiving day will be truly a day of thanksgiving in Omaha among rich and poor alike. Banks, offices and stores will be closed.

Who will get the turkeys? This question is stirring up the entire membership of the Omaha Field club.

Power people in Omaha will pass Thanksgiving day this year without the customary big dinner, probably, than ever before.

The thirty little ones at the Cresche will sit down to a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner.

Some Beautiful Stores. Twenty-five big turkeys, a barrel of cranberries, a case of celery, together with the "trimmings," have been received at the deaf and dumb institute for the Thanksgiving cheer of the 150 people there.

One place was overlooked in the general outpouring, however. Up to a late hour no provisions had been received at the Old People's home, 234 Wirt street.

Two hundred pounds of chicken is at the county jail, with the other things necessary, and the prisoners will enjoy a bountiful meal.

The unfortunate who are forced to spend Thanksgiving day in the city jail will have their sorrow lightened by a dinner which is calculated to make them forget they ever had any troubles.
