WANTED-MALE HELP

Senator Ingalla pictures OPPORTUNITY as a one-time visitor. His words mphasize the fact that he or she who does not respond or he or she who is not prepared to respond when opportunity calls has lost that opportunity for

It behooves us all to prepare for our opportunity and, insofar as we are able, to secure positions for ourselves where the greatest opportunity will probably be offered to us. It is an incontrovertible fact that business offers more appreciation and a better salary right at the start and presents daily a greater measure of opportunity to the ambitious young man or young woman, than do the professions But more and more every day does the world of business demand prepared men and women. The hewers of wood and the haulers of water in the business world-the minor clerks and the poorly paid workers-are those who have not been trained for business, those who have not received a good business college education.

The business assistant who gladdens the eye of the employer, who de mands and receives a good salary right at the start, and who is capable of EARNING rapid promotion and the consequent increase of salary, is the graduate of such a business college as BOYLES COLLEGE Our Winter Term Opens Tomorrow, MONDAY, DEC. 3RD, DAY AND NIGHT.

Get a copy of our new catalogue. It will dispel any doubts about the adisability of your attending Boyles College that you may entertain.
