SOLDIERS FILE FOR MONEY Entymen Seized by Big Land Men Have No Other Motive.

NO INTENTION OF OCCUPYING LAND Many of Them Are Ignorant of Details of Law Under Which They File

The proceedings in the Richards-Corstock-Huntington land trial in federal court Saturday morning tended only to confirm the general testimony of the entire hearing that old soldiers used as tenants by the big cattlemen in their land-grabbing processes were ignorant of the details of filing and had no intention of occupying or improving the land, making their entries solely for the pittance in the shape of financial remuneration there was in it.

It became necessary on the part of Tom Huntington, Fred Hoyt, the two Halls and others who were procuring these filings for Mr. Corstock, to inaugurate the "inducement" to the old veterans. Hence the scheme of paying the entrymen an installment on their lease money of $50 per year at the rate of $25 every six months was the magnet that drew the entrymen back to Gordon for another free jump.

HARD COAL HIGHEST HERE Anthracite Sells for More in Omaha Than it Does in Little Towns.

HERMAN PAYS NINE, SEVENTY-FIVE One Car Load There is Sold at that Price and Yet Both Towns Have Same Railroad Tariff.

In view of the impending prosecution of the local coal trust, Omaha people who have to pay $10.95 or $11 a ton for anthracite coal may be interested in the report that this same product is selling for $7.75 a ton in the little town of Herman, only a comparatively few miles from here on the Northwestern railroad.

Another queer feature of the Herman situation comes to light in the fact that Herman, on the Northwestern line between Omaha and Sioux City, has to pay the same rate, $2.50 a ton, on its hard coal from Chicago as Omaha dealers pay, so it is not by reason of a discrimination in rates the Herman dealers are enabled to undersell the Omaha dealers.

SAME SUIT TO DODGE TAX Union Pacific Begins Annual Injunction Proceedings to Block Process of Law.

The Union Pacific Railroad company began its annual injunction proceedings in the United States circuit court Saturday morning to restrain the collection of taxes for the year 1906 levied against the property of the company in the several counties of the state through which the road runs.

The amount of tax assessed in 1905 was $6,323,325; in 1904, $10,575,618; in 1903, $11,530,354, and in 1902, $11,633,124.48, which is alleged to be an increase of $5,269,850.48 over the levy of 1901, and is held to be unjust, unfair and disproportionate to other taxable property in the state.

Another queer feature of the Herman situation comes to light in the fact that Herman, on the Northwestern line between Omaha and Sioux City, has to pay the same rate, $2.50 a ton, on its hard coal from Chicago as Omaha dealers pay, so it is not by reason of a discrimination in rates the Herman dealers are enabled to undersell the Omaha dealers.
