Time.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 .- (Special Telegram.)-One of the interesting debates of the Fifty-ninth congress occurred today in the house on the bill permitting national banking associations to loan money on real estate and limit the time of said loan. This measure has had the earnest support of a very large portion of the west and south, the argument being that if the national banking laws were amended so as to empower national banks to loan money on real estate for a fixed term it would go far towards popularizing national banking institutions, where now they are looked upon with a good deal of disfavor. Introduced by a democrat from Georgia, it had the favorable recommendation of the committee on judiciary and many of the leading democrats, including the minority leader, Mr. Williams, urged the passage of the bill in strong terms. On the republican side Colonel Hepburn of Iowa was probably by a number of lesser lights on that side of the chamber. The opposition, however,

The national bank depositories were utilred during the fiscal year as a brough which the excessive accurthrough which the excessive accumulation of money in the treasury was restored to the channels of trade. The balance in banks to the credit of the general fund July 1, 1906, was $85,084,26.87, against which there was an unpaid call for $14,659,500. By the end of July this balance became $2.944,100.65, and remained practically at that figure until the end of February, when additional deposits of public moneys to the amount of $9.941,600 were apportioned and made in depository banks in important centers. In the early part of Appriant ditional deposits of public moneys to the amount of $9.541,000 were apportioned and made in depository banks in important centers. In the early part of April an unusual stringency in the money market was relieved by the temporary increase of public deposits with depository banks to facilitate the importation of gold. In the import movement thus assisted more than $49.000,000 in gold was added to the general stock of that metal in the country. On May 1 public moneys to the amount of $4.250,000 were placed in depository banks in the District of Columbia to avoid a local stringency likely to arise from the collection and deposit in the treasury of taxes during that month. By these measures the balance in banks to the credit of the general fund on May 5 was $102.788, $12.19, the highest point reached during the fiscal year, after which it was gradually reduced to $1.101.775.30 by June 39, 1396.

During the first quarter of 1907, additional temporary deposits of public maneys were made in depository banks to enable them to import gold, which, by October 15, resulted in an addition of $2.119,000 to the stock of that metal. IRVINE CHARGE IS CHANGED Aggravated Assault Substituted for One of Attempt to Commit Murder.

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Dec. 5 .- (Special Tele grain.)-The county attorney today agreed to modify the charge of attempted murder. now against Edna Irvine, to one of aggravoted assault. After reviewing the evidence the county attorney did not believe the attempted murder charge could be proven. The new information charges aggravated assault only, with a penalty of fine and imprisonment. It is thought here a fine will satisfy the court in case of conriction. The date for the trial has not been set. The defense may ask for a continuance. Miss Irvine's attorney denies the rumor that she will plead guilty.

was practically over." Under the ruling of the court overt acts ommitted prior to April 23, 1965, could not be shown, as they would be barred from prosecution by the statute of limitations. This limitation prevented the county attorney from introducing as evidence items from the cash book showing fines had been collected from dealers for violations of the rules of the exchange. Two of these fines or "assessments," as they appear on the books, were entered on June 10, 1905, but the witnesses testified both of them had been levied prior to April 22 and the court ruled out evidence regarding them. One of $5 against C. B. Havers was for using a chute longer than the rules prescribed and the other was against the Omaha Coal and Ice company for $50, but it did not appear what it was for. The witness said he did not think there were any fines assessed after April 23, as the
