

WHAT THE CAMPAIGN COST

John H. Adams Files Report for the Republican State Committee.

EATON RECOMMENDS CHANGES IN LAWS

Chancellor Andrews Supports Movement for Segregation of Sexes at the State University—Plan Too Long Delayed.

LINCOLN, Dec. 8.—(Special)—The report of Charles E. Morgan, treasurer of the republican state central committee, was filed with Secretary of State Galusha this morning. It shows that the hard times campaign of the republican party in Nebraska last fall was a stern reality. Mr. Morgan's detailed statement shows that he received on taking the office to succeed A. H. Hennings a balance of $1,000,000, and that there was paid in to him during the progress of the campaign $1,000,000, making a total of $2,000,000 to pay the expenses of the state committee during the campaign. The total expenditures were $2,000,000, leaving a balance in the hands of Treasurer Morgan of $300,000.

A survey of the figures shows that some of the office holders were impressed with the "dollar" idea. W. P. Warner, who gave up the chairmanship to take the position of United States marshal, gave $50 to the campaign fund. George B. Thummel, who holds the office of clerk of the federal court for Nebraska, gave $50, and Elmer B. Stephenson, who is collector of internal revenue for Nebraska, gave $50. J. H. Millard, whose election in the office of senator of the United States from Nebraska didn't cost him a penny, gave $50, and J. H. Mickey, who is just finishing his second term as governor of the state, gave $50. E. R. Mickey, who is a clerk in the office of the governor, gave $50. Senator Burks contributed $50. The largest contribution came from W. B. Keay of Hastings, who gave $500. George L. Sheldon, who was elected governor, gave $50, and the other candidates on the state ticket gave from $50 to $100. Ed Church, an inspector, was the heaviest contributor among the state house forces, giving $50. A. D. Beemer, warden of the penitentiary, is credited with a donation of $50.

W. E. Andrews, auditor of the treasury at Washington, gave $50, and Alexander Schlegel, another of the Nebraska colony at Washington, gave $50. Others of the force at Washington contributed smaller sums. The names of D. E. Thompson, Charles E. Maynes and Tom Cook are missing from the roll, but they have probably gotten so far away from Nebraska that they cannot hear the call of the campaign committee for subscriptions. A number of federal officers also failed to hear the call of the committee for funds, among them some of the highest minded men on the government payroll in Nebraska.

Senator Beveridge is credited with a donation of $2,000. It came about through his refusing to accept a check from the committee in payment of his expenses when he came to Lincoln to deliver an address during the campaign.

Land Commissioner Recommends. Land Commissioner H. M. Eaton has filed a report with the governor which contains many recommendations. The report will be withheld by the governor's office until it can be scrutinized. The report contains a recommendation for a wider field for the investment of the permanent school fund. Mr. Eaton is willing to leave the matter with the legislature. Personally he favors investments in school district bonds and in lands. He repeats his recommendation for the selection of a state accountant to investigate the management and books of the state institutions and to act as clerk of the Board of Education and Supplies, and to check vouchers drawn upon funds in payment for state supplies.

He recommends that the interest rate on state contracts for state land be reduced from 6 to 5 per cent, because holders of leases can borrow money at a less rate and pay off their indebtedness to the state. He calls attention to the fact that the legislature passed an act appropriating money received by the Kearney Industrial school for farm products and other supplies sold by that institution. A similar appropriation bill was passed for the Home for the Friends. The proceeds are placed in a cash fund and such funds are used at all state institutions. Mr. Eaton recommends that such funds be abolished and that superintendents of the institutions be required to turn into the general fund of the state treasury all money from whatever source received.

He calls attention to the fact that the state school tax has been less since the passage of the new law than before, and that the interest on school lands has decreased, but that the rental revenue from school lands has increased. The payment of the principal on school lands under sole contract has increased the interest on the investments of the school fund, but not in proportion to the rate of interest formerly received.

State Printing Board.

Secretary Frantz of the State Printing Board is compiling a report which will show that the board spent $2,000,000 for laws and journals during the last two years, leaving a balance in that fund of $1,000,000. Outstanding contracts amount to $1,000,000. For revenue books and blanks there was a deficiency two years ago. During the last two years the board has spent $1,000,000. Contracts outstanding amount to $2,000,000. The report will contain a list of contracts awarded during the last two years and the amount of money paid each contractor.

Candidates for Secretary of Senate

R. H. Goulding of Kearney has announced his candidacy for the secretaryship of the senate. Four years ago he was clerk of the committee of the whole and two years ago he was assistant secretary of the senate. He is a newspaper man, has had a great deal of clerical experience and is a member of the Grand Army. Mr. Wheeler of Clay county, who was secretary two years ago, is said to be a candidate for reelection.

Official Bonds Filed.

State Land Commissioner H. M. Eaton and his deputy, Mr. Shively, are the first officials to file their bonds with the governor for the coming two years. Both instruments are signed by the American Surety company of Baltimore. Mr. Eaton's being for $20,000 and Mr. Shively's for $10,000. The bonding concern agrees to wait on the two premiums which are $40 and $20 respectively. The bonds are made out for the full amount.

Rock Island Makes Rates.

The fight of the Commercial club to secure lower rates on shipments from the south is bearing fruit. Secretary Whitten received a letter today from H. H. Embry, manager west of the river for the Rock Island, in which he said that the Rock Island people looked favorably upon the requests of Lincoln shippers, and that means were being taken to bring about an amicable adjustment of tariff rates that would be satisfactory. At the Chicago meeting, some time ago, no agreement could be reached because of lack of unanimity, but if the Rock Island starts something the others are quite certain to follow.

Strode Reports on Convention.

Judge J. B. Strode, chairman of the Des Moines conference on popular election of United States senators, paid a visit to Governor Mickey's office this forenoon and informally reported the proceedings of the session. He held a conference from Governor Mickey at his office from Nebraska, and at a later time will submit a report in writing. It is expected that Governor Mickey will embody suggestions relative to this subject in his message to the legislature.

Chancellor Defends Segregation.

Notices circulated at the State university bearing the forged signature of the dean of women, and the publication of an editorial in the daily paper at the big school, has caused a somewhat bitter feeling on the part of leading students and members of the Y. M. C. A. to exist against the faculty. Mrs. Edna Barkley, dean of women, has become unpopular with some students, both males and females.

PEARSON JURY IS DEADLOCKEDMajority is Said to Stand for Acquittal of Accused.

HASTINGS, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special Telegram).—The trial of Barney Pearson on the charge of murdering Walter McCulla on the night of July 25, 1905, was concluded this afternoon. The jury, which has been deliberating since 2 o'clock, stands seven for acquittal, four for conviction of manslaughter and one for guilty in the second degree. Pearson is a wealthy horse buyer. McCulla, also a horse buyer, was killed with a shotgun in the Pearson home. Pearson and McCulla had had frequent trouble over the latter's attentions to Mrs. Pearson, and once McCulla, after being arrested on complaint of the husband, challenged him to a duel with pistol. The defense in the murder trial was based on the double plea of emotional insanity and unwritten law. There is but little prospect of the jury reaching an agreement.

Judge Graves Adjudges Court.

PONCA, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Sickness caused Judge Guy T. Graves to adjourn the December term of court for Dixon county last night after a brief term of three days. Judge Graves was unable to present the first day of the term on account of his health. The case of the State against Samuel Douglas, charged with assault with intent to kill, resulted in a conviction and a five years' sentence. This crime was committed in April, 1905, when Douglas slashed the neck of John Rush from ear to chin. He was arrested at once, but broke jail twice. The first time he was captured and returned to jail here. The second time he was more successful and remained at large until he was arrested and lodged in jail at Omaha, for a similar offense. He again escaped and crossed over into Nebraska, where he was recaptured by Sheriff Maskell of this county.

Stromsburg Man Accidentally Killed.

STROMSBURG, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Peter Hedman was accidentally killed near here Monday. Mr. Hedman was hauling manure to the dump at the creek bank just south of town, and while driving close to the edge to get near enough to unload the wagon wheel dropped into a hole concealed by rubbish and the wagon was evidently suddenly overturned, throwing Mr. Hedman in such a way that he was pinned fast under the edge of the box. Henry Randall, who happened to be driving past the place discovered the body, and rendered what assistance he could, but life was extinct and it was apparent that death had resulted in instantly. It was only a few minutes before that he was seen by several persons, which makes it likely that the latter supposition is correct.

SLEEP

Did you, sleepless one, ever try a dish of GRAPE-NUTS and CREAM just before bed-time?

Surely you never did or you wouldn't train with the "sleepless squad."

IT'S A BAD PRACTICE to load up the stomach with a promiscuous variety of rich, indigestible food at night because it "tastes" good.

STRENGTH WITHOUT BULK is a requirement of an ideal food for the last bite before going to bed. The food that is concentrated so that a sufficient amount for all purposes will not distend the stomach; the food that is practically predigested so the organs can, without undue effort, absorb it wholly; the food that contains the tissue-repairing and energy-making elements from clean field grains—that contains the Phosphate of Potash which combines, by vital process, with Albumen to repair the gray matter in brain and nerve centers—that's

TRY A DISH—about four heaping teaspoonsfuls with cream or milk, and a little sugar if desired, eaten slowly before retiring, if you're hungry, and note how well you sleep and how fresh you feel in the morning.

Commercial Club Elects Distinguished Diplomat Honorary Member.

AUBURN, Neb., Dec. 8.—(Special)—Major Church Howe, consul general at Montreal, Canada, gave a banquet Friday evening to the Auburn Commercial club. Major Howe and thirty-nine invited guests sat down to the festive board. E. H. Dorn, president of the Commercial club, was toastmaster. Major Church Howe, at the conclusion of the repast arose and drank to his friends and Auburn. He then made a characteristic address filled with wit and humor. He highly complimented Auburn on its growth and push. At the conclusion of the address Postmaster Freeman moved that Major Howe be elected an honorary member of the club, and the motion was promptly and heartily adopted. Mr. Howe thanked the club and Mayor Gillian, J. W. Barnhard, editor of the Herald; J. H. Lundas, editor of the Granger; and J. H. Kearns, editor of the Republican, each made short addresses. After this there was an old-fashioned camp meeting love feast, and each guest present was called upon and responded. Before adjourning Major Howe in a neat address pointed out to the Commercial club the most pressing needs of Auburn in the way of waterworks, sewerage, mills and factories.
