CITIZEN ..' SUITS JAPANESE

Amb... Pleased to Think They May ...e on Equality with Others.

FEW WOULD CHANGE THEIR ALLEGIANCE

Majority of the Mikado's Subjects Now in America Expect to Return to the Native Land.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Favorable action by congress on the recommendation of the president in his annual message that an act be passed specifically providing for the naturalization of Japanese who come to the United States intending to become American citizens will go far toward securing a continuance of the traditional friendly relations between this country and Japan in the opinion of Viscount Aoki, the Japanese ambassador. "Of course," said Viscount Aoki today, "no nation likes to see its subjects leave to take up a permanent abode in a foreign land and lose all relation with the fatherland, but in many cases it cannot be helped."

The ambassador expressed the belief that there were not so many Japanese in this country to take advantage of naturalization if it were granted, but he thought that such an opportunity should be afforded them along with the citizens of other countries. He said he did not think it probable that those Japanese who were emigrating in large numbers to Hawaii and the Pacific coast would avail themselves of naturalization because of the fact that they represented the poorer classes and most of them ultimately returned to Japan. Viscount Aoki said he had every confidence in the outcome of the test case which will be brought in the California courts.

Californians Talk of War.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—A dispatch to the Tribune from San Francisco says: California regards the Japaness embroglio as practically settled, and while believing the present crisis has been bridged over, expects and predicts war between the United States and Japan within five years.

That the federal government by dodging the issue and placing responsibility for the alleged insult to Japan on California has prevented immediate war, is the firm conviction of politicians and officeholders in San Francisco, but that war with Japan will eventuate is declared on every side.

What Sulphur Does

For the Human Body in Health and Disease.

COSTS NOTHING TO TRY.

The mention of sulphur will recall to many of us the early days when our mothers and grandmothers gave us our daily dose of sulphur and molasses every spring and fall.

It was the universal spring and fall "blood purifier," tonic and cure-all, and, mind you, this old-fashioned remedy was not without merit.

The idea was good, but the remedy was crude and unpalatable, and a large quantity had to be taken to get any effect.

Nowadays we get all the beneficial effects of sulphur in a palatable, concentrated form, so that a single grain is far more effective that a tablespoonful of the crude sulphur.

In recent years research and experiment have proven that the best sulphur for medicinal use is that obtained from Calcium (Calcium Sulphide) and sold in drug stores under the name of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. They are small chocolate coated pellets and contain the active medicinal principle of sulphur in a highly concentrated, effective form.

Few people are aware of the value of this form of sulphur in restoring and maintaining bodily vigor and health; sulphur acts directly on the liver and excretory organs and purifies and enriches the blood by the prompt elimination of waste material.

Our grandmothers knew this when they dosed us with sulphur and molasses every spring and fall, but the crudity and impurity of ordinary flowers of sulphur were often worse than the disease, and cannot compare with the modern concentrated preparations of sulphur, of which Stuart's Calcium Wafers is undoubtedly the best and most widely used.

They are the natural antidote for liver and kidney troubles and cure constipation and purify the blood in a way that often surprises patient and physician alike.

Dr. R. M. Wilkins, while experimenting with sulphur remedies, soon found that the sulphur from Calcium was superior to any other form. He says: "For liver, kidney and blood troubles, especially when resulting from constipation or malaria, I have been surprised at the results obtained from Stuart's Calcium Wafers. In patients suffering from boils and pimples and even deep-seated carbuncles, I have repeatedly seen them dry up and disappear in four or five days, leaving the skin clear and smooth. Although Stuart's Calcium Wafers is a proprietary article and sold by druggists and for that reason tabooed by many physicians, yet I know of nothing so safe and reliable for constipation, liver and kidney troubles and especially in all forms of skin diseases as this remedy.

At any rate people who are tired of pills, cathartics and so-called blood 'purifiers" will find in Stuart's Calcium Wafers, a far safer, more palatable and effective preparation.

GAMBLING TRIPS CASHIER

Bucket Shops and Cards Lead to Embezzlement and Flight of C. A. Cook.

Charles A. Cook, formerly cashier of the Acme Harvesting Machine company, Ninth and Jackson streets, absconded with $1,237.90 of the money of the company on the night of November 28 and is still at large. He abandoned a wife in Council Bluffs and his downfall is attributed to a fondness for high play at cards and gambling in bucket shops. The loss will not fall on the implement company, as Cook was bonded to the extent of $2,000 by the Illinois Surety company.

A complaint charging Cook with embezzlement was filed by the local representative of the bonding company in the court of Justice of the Peace Cockrell.

Cook had been employed by the Acme company for over a year and had been a most efficient cashier and the utmost confidence was placed in his honesty and integrity. Previous to coming to Omaha he had been the local agent of the Acme company at Aberdeen, S. D., and had also been employed by the McCormick Harvesting company. He resided in Council Bluffs and was well known there.

The defalcations do not extend over a long period, as the first loss which can be traced on the books is on November 9, when he took $800, and the remainder of the amount of the shortage was taken on the day he left Omaha. He was known to be an inveterate whist player and frequently played for large stakes.

When requested for a statement as to the embezzlement by his cashier, O. P. Olson, general agent for the Acme company, said:

"I must ... to make any statement in the case ... man that a shortage exists. I had ... highest regard for Mr. Cook and his wife and had always placed the utmost confidence in him and our relations were most friendly."

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of Cook, who was reported to have been seen at Kansas City. His wife is prostrated over the affair, but believes her husband will return and make good the shortage.

WATER AND NORTH PLATTE

With Plenty of Former in the Latter Life's Dream is Complete.

G. L. Shumway of Scott's Bluff, who made an unsuccessful attempt to wipe out Congressman Kinkaid's majority of 5,000, which he had two years ago, is in the city and at the Paxton. He is here in the interests of immigration and in attendance at the meeting of land agents of the Burlington.

Friday Mr. Shumway, in telling of the strides of progress in the North Platte valley, said:

"Snow and cold weather caught us a little early this fall, but only a few belated beets and potatoes suffered loss. Our sugar beets are fine and we anticipate a big factory at home next year. Recently a special containing financiers and sugar magnates rested in Scott's Bluff, while two days were spent in speeding in autos over the level tablelands and in viewing the canal work and the thousands of acres of fine lands which are to be watered next year, and the products now being marketed. They were well pleased, and it is understood will interest themselves in a factory here to cost $1,200,000. The State Labor Bureau has given some grain figures, which are worthy of consideration. Scott's Bluff and Cheyenne counties lead the state on average per acre and price of oats; productiveness being about 28 per cent above the average in the state, and quality 24 cents per 100 pounds (about 8 cents per bushel) above the state average price. We make little pretensions on corn, yet our per acre average was nearly 100 per cent better than adjoining dry farming counties, Sioux, Banner and Kimball. It pays to irrigate, and to live in the North Platte valley fills one's ultra altrurian dream of life."

BURLINGTON FILES SUIT

Railroad Submits Annual Protest on Taxes and the Hearing is Set.

The Burlington filed its petition for an injunction in the United States circuit court Saturday morning to restrain the collection of the 1906 taxes assessed against the company by the State Board of Equalization, amounting to $665,660.95, of which amount they have already tendered $445,640.73 to the several county treasurers, which they have refused, and it is the payment of this balance of $220,120.20 that is sought to be enjoined. The hearing is set for December 17.

Suits for Damages.

Two suits for damages because of alleged injuries were filed against the street railway company Saturday morning. Frances Bilak demands $5,100. November 5, she says she went to get off the car at Sixteenth and Center streets when the car started, throwing her off. She declares she is nervous, unable to sleep at night and is afflicted with a trembling over her whole body. Penny Wintroub has begun suit through Max Wintroub, his next friend, for 5,000 damages. He says he was struck by a car while he was crossing the street at Thirteenth and Davenport streets. The motorman, he says, did not properly drop the fender and he was dragged 100 feet by the car. He declares he is permanently injured.

GUEST SHOOTS IN DREAMS

Duluth Citizen Fires at Imaginary Microbes, Perforating Ceiling and Scaring Sleepers.

While suffering from a violent attack of nightmare John Kunohuno, a visitor from Duluth who is on his way to San Francisco, startled the roomers at the Oxford hotel early Saturday morning by shooting the ceiling of his room full of holes with a revolver.

He was disarmed by Officer Cunningham and taken to jail, but was discharged in police court Saturday morning.

The occupant of the room above Kunohuno said he was wakened by the pitter-patter of bullets lodging in the mattress of his bed and was afraid to move until the bombardment had ceased.

Kunohuno is unable to speak English, but intimated that microbes were chasing him and he was trying hard to put them out of business. The Duluth man insisted that he meant no reflection on the house by dreaming that anything animated but himself was occupying his bed.

LIGHT FINE FOR EX-CONVICT

Trivial Penalty Imposed on Negro Who Has Served Terms in State Prisons.

After being put through a severe cross-questioning by the detectives, Ellis Harris, a young colored porter, formerly employed at the Omaha club, confessed to having stolen an automatic revolver, valued at $17, from the overcoat pocket of a guest at the club. Harris pleaded guilty to the crime in police court Saturday morning and was fined $25 and costs. The revolver was recovered Friday afternoon by Detectives Ferris and Dunn from where it had been hidden in the boiler room at the club.

Harris is a shifty negro who served a year for burglary committed in Omaha, and has also served several terms for thefts of bicycles about three years ago. During his youth he was confined in a Missouri reform school.

COLORED COUPLE BOUND OVER

Man and Woman Must Answer to Charge of Holding Up an Iowa Man.

John Wright and Nettie Miles, colored, who are charged with having robbed Dennis Sullivan of Corning, Ia., of $50 Thursday night, were given a preliminary examination in police court Saturday and bound over for trial in the district court under bonds of $500 each. The robbery took place at the home of Mary Spencer, 315 North Thirteenth street, who is also implicated in the robbery, but was too sick to appear. When Sullivan discovered that he had been robbed he held up the two women and Wright at the point of a revolver and forced them to disgorge $25, but was caught off his guard in turn and held up by the trio with his own revolver. Sullivan was released on his personal bonds to appear when the case is called for trial.

PAY FOR ELECTION OFFICERS

Appropriation Finally Made by County Board—Bills for Paving Street and Roads.

The county commissioners Saturday morning passed an appropriation to pay judges and clerks of the recent election. Bids from Hannon and Craig and E. D. Van Court on Q street paving and Calhoun and Leavenworth street roads were opened and referred to clerk for tabulation.

Commissioner Kennard reported that the proposition of the Sarpy county authorities to place children in the Douglas county detention home could not be considered on account of lack of room at the Omaha detention home.

THIEVES TRY TO SET FIRE

Burglars, Not Satisfied with Robbing, Attempt to Burn Down House of Victim.

Burglars entered the house of Jake Younkin, 2619 South Thirteenth street, Friday afternoon while the family was absent and stole a gold watch valued at $15. Mr. Younkin also reported the thieves had attempted to set fire to the house by saturating the floor and woodwork with kerosene. A small hole was burned in the carpet, but the detectives were of the opinion that the hole was decidedly ancient in appearance.

MEAT MARKET ROBBERS BUSY

Specialists in This Line Do Not Miss a Night at Their Profession.

Specialists in the robbery of meat markets have turned a successful job nearly every night for the last week and continued their operations Friday night by robbing the store of W. A. Baxter, 606 South Thirteenth street. Entrance to the market was effected by breaking open a rear door, but the thieves evidently felt like 30 cents, as that was the amount stolen.

Tuxedo Coat and Vest, size 37, made to sell for $25, at Bennett's Clothing Dept., $20.

OLD MAN WANTS NO TROUBLE

Witness Hesitates to Testify for Fear Lawyers Will "Object."

HUMOR VARIES MONOTONY OF TRIAL

Evidence Shows How Soldiers Seventy-Five Years of Age Are Induced to File for Cattlemen.

A bit of humor was injected into the monotony of the land trial in federal court Saturday morning by Leonard Wolf, an aged veteran from the Old Soldiers' home at Quincy, Ill. He was one of the Mann and Todd colonists to Ellsworth, where the usual forms and preliminaries were gone through with, with free transportation, free hotel keep and free filing fees, as has been repeatedly told by other witnesses.

"Ven we vent oud to see der claims," said Wolf, "de only ding we saw was sand hills. Ve got oud of the vagon and had a little fun wid der prairie dogs. Den ve went to Johnson's place and got a dring of vater on his vind mill. Dot was the first time. Den we went out six months after dot. Ve didn't see any dings dot time, but more prairie dogs. No houses on de land—nodings but prairie dogs."

A third trip was made to Ellsworth. The question arose as to who should pay the railroad fare on this trip and on this point the witness said:

"I didn't pay my fare and I wouldn't. When we got to Ellsworth we met Jameson, like de odder times, and he said howdy do, boys, I'm expecting you. I asked him vas my house built on my land, and he said the weather had been so bad dot dey couldn't build dem, but the man vas dere now and was going to build dem houses. I never went out on the land again. I didn't ever intend to live on it and wouldn't if dey would give me a hundred tousand square miles of it."

Affidavit Bears His Name.

In the cross-examination Wolf, when asked about his signature to an affidavit procured from him in September last said: "I expect I wrote it, but I can't read very good; my glasses are not good. You fellers are judges and lawyers and I am only a poor, ignorant Dutchman. If I read it the other fellow (referring to Mr. Rush, the government attorney) will make a fuss about it and I don't want to make any more trouble. I am 75 years old the 15th of next April, and I don't want to make any trouble."

Robert Johnson of Quincy, Ill., was another of the old soldier witnesses of the Mann and Todd party who told practically the same story as all of the Quincy, Ill., witnesses. In his cross-examination he said: "My understanding of the talk that I had with Jameson was that the lands I entered were not capable of cultivation, but were wholly grazing lands. I made my entry in good faith and intended to comply with the law as I understood it."

Out for the Fees.

On his re-direct examination he was asked by Mr. Rush:

"Would you have entered this land had not the filing been paid?"

"No, sir, I wouldn't."

R. C. Noleman, an attorney, formerly residing at Alliance, but now of Los Angeles, was an important witness of Saturday forenoon. He testified to having certain conversations with Bartlett Richards relative to soldiers' declaratory statements prior to July 17, 1903.

An objection was made to this witness testifying by the defense, because the witness had been employed by Mr. Richards as an attorney. In reply to the question on this point by Mr. Hall, the witness said:

"I was employed by Mr. Richards as an attorney."

The court sustained the objection so far as to what the witness should testify to as an attorney for Mr. Richards.

Mr. Rush—When did you have your first talk with Mr. Richards?

Witness—This was the first time Mr. Richards and I talked together on any business matters as an attorney.

The counsel for the defense strenuously objected to the witness disclosing any professional services he rendered to Mr. Richards.

Signed as Agent.

The changed declaratory statements in which the name of F. M. Walcott as agent for the entryman had been erased and that of R. C. Noleman substituted were shown the witness, who said:

"I signed these statements as agent at the United States land office at Alliance. I received these statements from—"

The defense objected to the answer, which was sustained by the court as to the individual from whom the statements were received.

"I either received them through the mails or they were handed to me by Aquilla Triplett."

Defense objected and wanted the answer thrown out. Overruled.

"These statements were filed by me in the land office in the condition in which they were received by me, except as to the date, my signature as agent and the signature of the registrar of the land office, Bruce Wilcox. I took the statements as received by me and examined the records in the land office to find out if the lands described in them were vacant, and if the lands so described were subject to entry before filing them. I simply ascertained if the land described was vacant. I did not personally know any of the entrymen named in these declaratory statements, neither did I ever have any talk or correspondence with them. I did not put the numbers of the land in the statements, and do not know who did. The instruments were not changed in any manner by me since they came in my possession, except as to the date and my signature as agent. I received $1 for filing each statement as my compensation and I also paid a filing fee of $2 to the receiver of the land office. This money was afterward returned to me by a draft, signed by the cashier of the Ellsworth bank. The whole amount of the draft was—"

Objects to Giving Amount.

The defense objected to the witness giving the amount of the draft, the objection being sustained by the court.

The draft came with the application, which were competent papers to be filed in the land office. I did not know S. M. Mann, the notary public mentioned in these papers. "I know where the land was located mentioned in the statements, as I have lived in that locality for twenty years."

William Daniels of Quincy, Ill., another old soldier of the Mann and Todd crowd, told practically the same story that has been told by other old soldiers from the Quincy home, and with the conclusion of his testimony an adjournment was taken until 9:30 Monday morning.

BALL GETS FACE DISFIGURED

Employment Agent Who Fails to Satisfy Client Comes Off Second Best.

Because he failed to secure a job after paying a fee, Grove Barrett entered the office of R. A. Ball, employment agent, 1524 Dodge street, and set himself to the task of "beating up" the proprietor Friday. Patrolman Jackson led them both off to jail, where they were booked on a charge of disturbing the peace by fighting. Barrett said he paid Ball $1 to get a job and was given a position at $3.50 a week. He demanded his money back, but received only 50 cents.

In police court Saturday morning Barrett and Ball were discharged, and in disposing of the case the judge remarked that he guessed that was the easiest way to settle the family jar. Ball had the appearance of having run into a cyclone, while Barrett was serene in the consciousness of having had the best of the argument. Barrett said he had given his last dollar to Ball for a position, but nothing had been forthcoming.

BANK ROBBER CAUSES DEATH

Surrounded, He Refuses to Surrender Until Innocent Person is Killed by Shot.

GREAT BEND, Kan., Dec. 8.—After a daring attempt here at 9 o'clock this morning to rob the J. V. Brinkman company bank single-handed, a man who gave his name as George A. Lewis of Kansas City was surrounded and surrendered. Bud Westfall, a driver for the Wells-Fargo Express company, was killed by a shot fired by one of the pursuers.

Lewis walked into the bank a few minutes after it opened this morning and, pointing a revolver at A. E. Taylor, the cashier, ordered the latter to throw up his hands. In an instant a clerk dodged into the vault and set off the burglar alarm. Lewis fled immediately and darted up an alley. A crowd of men and boys were soon close behind him in pursuit, and, seeing himself being hemmed in, the robber darted up the stairs in the Wells-Fargo building, two blocks from the bank. On the second floor he locked himself in a room and for an hour defied arrest.

Several shots were fired into the room in an attempt to dislodge the robber. One bullet struck and immediately killed Westfall, who was in the express office on the street floor. Finally, after parleying for an hour with his pursuers, Lewis surrendered and was taken to the county jail. Officers believe that the name of Lewis is fictitious. He said that he came here from Chicago to do the job.

The transaction in the bank consumed but a few minutes' time. Taylor handed over $350 in bills to the robber. The money was recovered when Lewis was taken to jail. Cashier Taylor, revolver in hand, led the chase after the robber. The room in which the robber barricaded himself was occupied by Mrs. Anna Tyler as a millinery store. Lewis told Mrs. Tyler that he had robbed a bank, that a crowd was after him and begged her to hide him. Instead she fled in terror and the man locked and barred the door. After he had surrendered he was followed to the jail by an excited crowd. Cries of "Lynch him!" were frequent, and B. W. Taylor, father of the bank cashier, attempted to reach the man and attack him. It was with difficulty that the robber was landed in jail. There he first said his name was George A. Lewis of Kansas City and then that it was George A. West and that he had come here from Chicago on Thursday last. The robber is 29 years old, weighs 190 pounds and is six feet tall. He has light hair and blue eyes and is well dressed. He admitted that he had not given his correct name. He said he had made contributions to eastern magazines and papers, but his matter had been rejected and he had become despondent. He cried as he told his story.

LABOR TROUBLE IMPENDING

Massachusetts Spinners and Pittsburg Railroad Men May Quit Pending Settlement.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 8.—Great interest exists in all cotton mill districts of southern New England in a number of textile union meetings called for different hours here late today to consider the offer of the manufacturers to advance wages 7½ per cent Monday. The council recommended that the offer be rejected and that the operatives insist on the original demand for a 10 per cent raise.

When the rate of increase here is decided upon it will affect from 40,000 to 50,000 hands in southeastern New England outside of Fall River, as the cotton manufacturers of Rhode Island and in several places in this state have announced that they will adopt the New Bedford schedule.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 8.—"All indications point to the settlement of the wage disputes in the Pittsburg switching district," said W. G. Lee, vice grandmaster of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, this afternoon after a long conference with G. L. Peck, general manager of the Pennsylvania lines west.

"Our conference," said Mr. Lee, "has resulted in the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pennsylvania lines west granting the 'middle scale,' which is 1 cent less than the Chicago scale of wages. I received official information that the Baltimore & Ohio had receded from the stand taken at their conference yesterday and had decided to grant the 'middle scale.' We have notices from the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad that they have also decided to grant the same scale."

Mr. Lee and his committee are conferring this afternoon with the officials of the Wabash railroad, and Mr. Lee said he felt confident the Wabash would follow the example of the other roads.

EIGHT-HOUR CASE APPEALED

Ohio Company Will Let Supreme Court Pass on Validity of Measure.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 8.—The supreme court of the United States will be asked to pass on the constitutionality of the eight-hour labor law, the action to that end being taken in the United States district court here today.

The case was that of the Sheridan-Kirk company, recently convicted of employing laborers for more than eight hours a day on a contract on a government dam below this city. The motion for a new trial was overruled and the attorneys gave notice that on a writ of error the case would be taken to the United States supreme court, claiming that congress has no power under the constitution to pass such a law.
