Mayor's Recommendation as to Jail Room Develops Sentiment for New Building Instead of Repairs.

It was the sense of the city council gen eral committee yesterday afternoon that the city abstructer be instructed to prepare a list of all properties owned by the city. so the council may know whether the city resolution to that effect will be introduced at the council meeting this evening. Some members of the council are in doubt as to just what property the city does own.

A recommendation from the mayor urg ing that more cells be placed in the city jail was taken up and considered. Councilmen Bridges and Brucker of the public buildings and property committee declared them selves as opposed to making any more permanent repairs at the city jail, as there is not room for more cells without crowding. They said the city should build a new modern jall to suit the needs of the city That matter will come up next year and . proposition to vote bonds for a new jul will be urged.

W. H. Elbourn, representing Brenny Love & Co., appeared before the committee and asked what the council wished to d in the matter of paying for City Engineer Rosewater's bond of $10,000 for 1906, that premium never having been paid for the reason some of the councilmen thought such payment would be an official recognition of Mr. Rosewater as engineer. The bond will be paid for through a resolution to be introduced this evening.

tisement a real help-if it tells them where and what to buy-for Christmas,

The Christmas Number of The Bee comes on Sunday, December 16th, nine days before Christmas-the nine days, when the Christmas buying is most lively.

That Sunday will be the day, when most people will talk over and decide about a part of their presents, at least. You can step right into the family circle and tell them what you have-if you use space enough to put your goods before them attractively.

Your best-strongest-biggest advertisement of the year should be in the Christmas issue of The Bee, Sunday, December sixteenth,
