

Omega Oil

You needn't be afraid to rub Omega Oil on a child's throat or chest for sore throat or cold in the chest. It's the best thing you ever saw for children. It does them just as much good as it does big folks, and it won't burn or blister the most tender skin. Omega Oil is nice to use, too. It has a sparkling green color, and its smell is just as pleasant as can be. You must try Omega Oil itself to find out how good it is. You cannot judge it by other liniments. Rub in a little of it wherever there is an ache or pain, and the hurting will stop then and there. You may doubt this BEFORE you try it, but you won't doubt it AFTER you try it. Buy a bottle now, and see how much suffering it will banish. A single bottle will go around the family several times. Three sizes: 10c., 25c., 50c.

INSURANCE IN WISCONSIN

Committee Appointed to Investigate Life Companies Reports to Governor.

CHANGES IN LAWS ARE RECOMMENDED

Companies Generally Well Managed, but Methods of Distributing Dividends Are Not Fair to All Policyholders.

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 10.—The report of the legislative committee appointed to investigate the affairs of life insurance companies doing business in Wisconsin was submitted to the governor tonight. It embraces the testimony taken by the committee last summer, comments upon the evidence, and recommends the passage of a large number of bills amending the insurance laws of the state in the interest of policyholders.

The committee says the general examination was confined to three companies, the Wisconsin Life of Madison, Northwestern Mutual Life of Milwaukee and Union Central Life of Cincinnati. These companies were not selected because of any belief that their affairs were conducted in any less creditable manner than that of other companies transacting like insurance business in the state.

The evidence was to the effect that none of these companies made any contribution from the company's funds to any campaign committee or have given aid in the election or defeat of any candidate for public office, nor was there any evidence that they have engaged directly or indirectly in any syndicate operations, or that any officer has any interest in such operations. There was no evidence of any misappropriation of the companies' funds or manipulation of the companies' business for personal gain, except by inference.

Premiums Are Too High.

The report says:

It is almost universally believed that insurance companies have been too liberal with the money of the policyholders, that they have exercised a most lavish expenditure.

MR. STORER IN REBUTTAL

Former Ambassador Says He is Member of "Ananias Club."

REPLIES TO WORD FROM WHITE HOUSE

Cruz of Matter Said to Be Action Taken by Himself and Wife in Archbishop's Campaign.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 10.—Bellamy Storer, former ambassador to Austria-Hungary, today replied briefly to the statements contained in President Roosevelt's letter to Secretary of State Root, which was given to the press last night, insisting on the position he had heretofore taken and reiterating the statements made by him in the statement to the members of the foreign relations committee of congress, made public last week.

Mr. Storer today said: "I seem to have been elected a member of the 'Ananias Club' like all others who have come into dispute with President Roosevelt. I am now to be classed with Senators Chandler, Tillman and Bailey and others who have questioned some act or word of the president. Like every other American gentleman who has a wife to protect I undertook to defend her name from insinuations and charges of falsehood."

Mr. Storer then reiterated much that appeared in his first statement which he claims was intended for private circulation and added that he has four letters bearing on the controversy as to the promotion of Archbishop Ireland, all of which he asserts tend to bear out his contention that "I obeyed the explicit instructions of Mr. Roosevelt in acting as I did with regard to the promotion."

Mr. Storer said: "Archbishop Ireland told me also that the president, on several occasions, in conversation with him, took the credit for the action he now repudiates."

Cruz of Matter.

Mr. Storer continued:

"The error of the whole matter which led to my removal was the action taken by Mrs. Storer and myself with regard to the promotion of Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul to the cardinalate. In my letter to the president and cabinet I cited letters written by Roosevelt to me speaking in the highest terms of Monsignor Ireland and expressing the personal wish that the country might profit by his promotion to the cardinalate. On December 23, 1903, I had an audience with Pope Pius X, at which I transmitted a verbal note, the basis of which had been given me by President Roosevelt. I was particularly careful in its presentation and after transcribing it into English I translated it into French and conveyed it to the pope. The communication was as follows:

"I had to my and authorized me to say to your holiness that the archbishop of St. Paul is my personal friend and that he has my confidence as a citizen, a patriot and a man of high character. I earnestly desired Monsignor Ireland all the honors of the church, and with the greatest pleasure and satisfaction his elevation to the rank of cardinal. 'Now as to the charge that I acted without warrant in this matter I have only to cite the fact that Archbishop Ireland in conversation with me told me that President Roosevelt had told him of all I had done, and instead of criticizing me for my actions seemed to take great credit to himself.'

New Yorkers Get Busy.

"Everything was all right until a section of New York churches began to agitate the elevation of an archbishop other than Monsignor Ireland. They pointed out to Roosevelt that the New York prelate had at least as much claim to the post as the archbishop of St. Paul. This resulted in much perturbation at the White House and letters were sent to me by Roosevelt pointing out that what might be very appropriate as the opinion of a private citizen would come with very bad grace as the president of the United States."

"Everyone with a grain of sense knows that there has never been a question as to that. I knew in the entire transaction that I was not presenting the official views of the president. This separation of the official and personal sides of the matter is not unique. McKinley did the same thing. He favored the elevation of Mr. Ireland, but he did not do so as the president of the United States. All that was perfectly clear and there was no chance for misconception."

"On my word, I thought I was obeying the personal request of Theodore Roosevelt when I presented his oral note to Pope Pius X."

Archbishop Remains Silent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Archbishop Ireland, who is here to attend the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation, when asked to talk for publication about Announcements of the Theaters.

Patrons of the Boyd theater who intend seeing Mr. Mansfield in "The Boy" this evening are especially requested to be promptly in their seats. Mr. Mansfield has done what he can to reduce the point to a reasonable acting length, but in order that it may be given correctly and at the same time not run too far into the night, it is necessary that the curtain go up promptly at 8 o'clock. This will enable the performance to be completed by 11, at which time curtains may be ordered. Mr. Mansfield has made a most wonderfully artistic production of the drama, setting it appropriately, and providing the most lighting effects that greatly enhance the superlative elements of its action. The music is the Greg suite, composed especially for the play. On Wednesday evening Mr. Mansfield will be seen in "Beau Brummel."

The "Swainman" is underlined at the Boyd, to open on Sunday evening next. The week after Mr. Mansfield's engagement is left vacant, owing to the fact that the Pauls Edwards company closed its season unexpectedly.

"Northern Lights" at the Burwood theater is one of the best western dramas, dealing with a topic that is especially close to the old-timers, that of an Indian outbreak, being associated with the great Sioux uprising in 1856. The regular professional matinee, at which all visiting players are welcome, will be given this afternoon.

A play must contain an interesting combination of pleasing qualities in order to hold the boards for six consecutive seasons and to be in demand in every section of the country. Such a play is Arthur C. Alton's "At the Old Cross Roads," now on its sixth annual tour, and which will be presented at the Krug theater for two nights, starting tonight. The singing of that celebrated Hippodrome quartet is a notable feature with this attraction.

George F. Clark's production of the great play, "Down East," will be the attraction at the Krug theater for three nights and Saturday matinee, starting Thursday night, December 13. "Down East" is a beautiful play picturing types of character that are true to nature and abounding in heart interest and pathos. This sterling play is presented by a cast of unusual excellence.

Nipissing Stock Lively.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Heavy dealings in the stock of the Nipissing Mines company was again a feature of the club stock market today. The price, which closed at 15 Saturday, opened at 14 1/2 and soon afterward declined to 13.

FATAL STORM ON PACIFIC

Gale Sweeps Along Coast, Causing Death in San Francisco.

TOTTERING WALLS HURLED TO GROUND

Vessels in Bay Tossed About and Serious Panic on One Boat Threatens the Excited Passengers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—A southeast gale sweeping along the coast at a registered velocity of forty-eight miles an hour resulted in the death of one man in San Francisco and in the severe injury of several others. Shipping in the harbor was damaged considerably and in all quarters of the city tottering walls were hurled to the ground, blocking streets and interrupting traffic. Owing to danger from falling walls street car service was entirely suspended.

John Rynehart, a laborer employed at the corner of Stockton and Broadway, was caught under a falling wall and killed. One of his companions, Adrian Emoll, was so severely injured that his life is despaired of. In every section of the burned district ruins were toppled over.

Two frame houses, one at the corner of Washington and Leavenworth streets, and other near Leavenworth and Broadway, were leveled by the gale. The Burnett school was unroofed and the roof of the Bernal school was torn off and blown away.

Boats Tossed in Bay.

On the bay the storm was terrific. The ferryboats, proceeding with extraordinary caution, were tossed about until scores of passengers were made sick. The lower decks were awash most of the time and occasionally the crest of a wave leaped onto the hurricane decks.

What threatened to result in a serious panic occurred on the Kay route boat San Francisco, when an unusually large wave struck the vessel, carrying it to leeward. Women screamed and fainted, men rushed for the lifeboats and only the advice of the cool-headed ones prevented injury and loss of life among the passengers.

Double anchor chains did not prevent some of the larger vessels in the harbor from slipping their moorings. The Chinese junk Whang Ho, which lay south of the K ferry slips last night, dragged its anchors until it ran in the channel immediately in front of the forties, increasing the difficulties of navigation. The British ship Palgrave slipped its moorings shortly after 8 o'clock and drifted onto the rocky shore of Alcatraz island, where for a time it seemed that it would be hoisted in place. Two tug boats went to its assistance and towed it into deep water.

Big Firms Lose Heavily.

Three hundred thousand dollars is the estimated loss of four of San Francisco's largest firms by reason of damage done by today's storm. This afternoon the large building at the corner of Polk and Van Ness avenues gave in before the fury of the storm and all the valuable merchandise housed there was ruined. The building was occupied by the Mann Trunk company, the Hahnemann pharmacy and the Melll Art company. The loss through this disaster is said to be about $200,000.

The building occupied by the Calla Street and Toy company at 600 Post street, collapsed just before noon and the larger portion of the stock was destroyed. The underwriters saved what they could, but the firm will suffer to the extent of nearly $100,000.

The walls of the Poodle Dog restaurant, at the corner of Mason and Eddy streets, collapsed, destroying the temporary hall of justice, in course of construction on the site of the old "Tivoli" opera house.

THIRTEEN TEAMS STILL IN RACE

Bicycle Riders Maintain Miles Behind the Record at 11 O'clock.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Twelve of the sixteen original teams remained in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden at midnight tonight. A thirteenth team was made up of J. Bedell of the Bedell brothers contingent and Walthour, partner of McLean, who doubled up after their original partners had been so injured as to be compelled to retire permanently from the race. These thirteen teams continued for hours with an unchanged score. J. Bedell and Walthour being one and a half hours ahead, having been thus much penalized for losing their team mates, the early bowlers carried off the honors for both spurts, and Walthour and Bedell were watched closely in the expectation that they would during the night make an attempt to recover the lost lap.

Root and Fogler, 47.9; Downey and MacFarland, 47.9; MacFarland and Coffey, 47.9; Vanderstuyt and Stel, 47.9; Breton and Vanni, 47.9; Samuelson and Hollister, 47.9; Metting and Lister, 47.9; Kopper and Downing, 47.9; Rutt and MacFarland, 47.9; Galvin and Wiley, 47.9; Pebe and Clark, 47.9; George and Gherard, 47.9; Walthour and Bedell, 47.9.

Record, 46.8, made by Elkes and MacFarland in 1904.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

The Krug Parks won three straight games from the Metz Bros. team at the Association alleys last night. Luck seemed to go all one way, as the winners drew strikes on balls that looked sure splits, and the opposite was true for their opponents. Zimmerman carried off the honors for both tonight and single game with 67 and 57.

Tonight, Cudahy vs. Storz Blues.
