GOD'S PLAN OF SALVATION

Gave His Only Begotten Son that All Who Believe May Be Saved.

NO EXCEPTIONS TO THE OFFER MADE

Rich and Poor, High and Low, All Stand on the Same Level in the Eyes of the Creator of the Universe.

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life."—John 3:16.

From this text, one of the most familiar in the Bible, Dr. Torrey preached a sermon at the Auditorium on Thursday evening, and twelve persons responded to the invitation and arose at the close of the sermon to begin the Christian life.

"Man's salvation begins in God's love for him and not his love for God," said Dr. Torrey. "God loved first, as the text states, and He offered His Son as a sacrifice to redeem men from the sins of the world. And in return for this great love, man loves God, or should love Him. Man's love for God is the result of salvation and not the cause of it."

"The text says that God loved the world. He did not love only the rich or only the poor. He did not love only the educated or only the ignorant, but He loved all of them. In His sight these worldly conditions do not make the least difference. The poorest or most ignorant person is the same in His eyes as the richest man or the most learned."

"There is much meaning contained in the little word 'so.' God so loved the world that He gave His Son. That little word tells the degree of the love. He might have saved man without any atonement, but He loved the world so much that He was unwilling to give a salvation that didn't cost something."

Where Some Find Fault.

"God's love was a holy love. Some people find fault with the plan of salvation and say that they do not consider it right that God, a holy first person, should take the sins of man, an unholy second person, and lay them on Jesus Christ, an innocent third person. The Bible does not say anything of the kind. Jesus Christ was not a third person, but a first person. He was a part of God and God took the sins and laid them upon Himself. Christ was not only God, but man as well."

"The atonement must be considered as a whole. If the attribute of God is taken from Christ, the atonement will not stand. If the attribute of man is taken away, it will not stand, but when all is taken together, the doctrine of the atonement is the most glorious, the most sublime, the most profound philosophy that has ever been known on earth."

"The love of God is shown by the greatness of the gift and the greatness of the sacrifice which He made. It was His only Son and God loved His Son far more than any earthly father ever loved a son. But He was willing to send Him to earth to be spit upon, to be reviled, to be beaten, to be scoffed at and to be crowned with thorns and crucified. This He was willing to do for the sake of sinful man."

"The love of God for man is a conquering love. It conquers the desire for worldly pleasure, for money and for all the sins which the devil holds alluringly before the eyes of those who should turn to Christ. It conquers the hardened spirits of those who have lived long in sin and brings them finally to the pathway of life."

It was announced that if the collections keep up during the remaining few days of the mission as well as they have thus far, all expenses will be met by the time the mission closes. The meeting Friday will be the last meeting open to all, both men and women. There will be no meetings Saturday and the Sunday meetings will be separate, the women's meeting at the Auditorium being in the afternoon at 3 o'clock and the men's meeting in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. The latter meeting will close the mission.

GERMANS DISCUSS BUILDING

Plan Gives Further Boost Toward Accomplishment Thursday Night.

A building for German societies in a central location with main auditorium and club halls and to cost $100,000 is the proposition made to the members of delegates from nearly all of the German clubs of Omaha at Washington hall Thursday evening. The plan was presented by the committee of seven, headed by F. J. Freitag as chairman, which was appointed at the meeting of the delegates last month and to formulate a plan to erect a home for the various organizations in the city.

In detail the idea as laid before the gathering is to organize and incorporate a building society and issue 20,000 shares of stock at $5 a share, to be taken up by Germans in Omaha. No suggestion as to architecture was given, but the understanding is to erect a structure with one large hall, properly appointed for important gatherings, and smaller rooms for the use of the clubs represented in the movement.

While the proposition is meeting with warm support among a large majority of the German clubs, insuring its fulfillment sooner or later, the more conservative of the delegates are not so sanguine about the success of the scheme in the immediate future. They believe the plans which have been set rolling will continue to move, but that it will be slower in covering the ground than those less acquainted with the exact conditions and obstacles which must be overcome have any idea.

The delegates attending Thursday night's meeting will report to their organizations and meet again in two weeks to report the attitude of those they represent. It is likely many other plans will be proposed and some time will be required before one is hit upon which will meet the approval of all. The executive committee will meet again next Thursday evening.

MAYOR FOR GAS OFFICIAL

Thinks Funkhouser Idea of City Appointing a Commissioner Should Be Acted On.

Mayor Dahlman favors Councilman Funkhouser's gas commissioner idea. He said he understood many other cities have such a department and has been told the needs in Omaha are such as to make the office a necessity. There is no intimation at this time that he would be a likely candidate for the office, which, when the ordinance goes through, will be an appointive one by the mayor. Mr. Funkhouser's idea is to secure a man of unquestioned ability to test gas. It will be two weeks away before the ordinance will be introduced, making it altogether a month or so, at least, before the matter of appointment becomes a live topic.

NEWS FOR THE ARMY.

Major General A. W. Greely, commanding the Northern Military division and the Department of the Missouri, has gone to Fort Washburn, Wyo., on a tour of inspection. He will return to Omaha Saturday evening.

Myers, military secretary, Department of the Missouri, has been ordered to leave for a two months' leave of absence in the east and has resumed his duties as military secretary, relieving Major Charles H. Grierson, tenth cavalry, who has been acting as military secretary during Major Myers' absence.

Lieutenant Colonel D. H. Brush of the Missouri, who is on duty at the headquarters of the department of the Missouri, has been ordered to leave for a two months' leave of absence in the east and has resumed his duties as military secretary, relieving Major Charles H. Grierson, tenth cavalry, who has been acting as military secretary during Major Myers' absence.

EVERY KNOCK IS A BOOST

On This Theory Superintendent Davidson Thinks Congress Has Helped Spelling Reform.

W. M. Davidson, superintendent of the Omaha public schools, believes the tide in favor of simplified spelling has gained such a momentum that the expression of the national congress against its adoption will not suffice to stem that tide; in fact, Superintendent Davidson thinks the action of congress will tend to accelerate general interest in the movement, which Mr. Davidson personally favors. In this connection he says:

"I am not surprised at the action of congress, nor am I surprised at the willingness of the president to rescind his order when it appeared that congress was likely to work itself into a high state of excitement over a relatively unimportant question. Congress is composed of a body of conservative men, who, on all questions not political, are apt to be governed always by tradition and authority. While I do not agree in toto with President Roosevelt's and Chancellor Andrews' position, still I feel that the movement in favor of simplified spelling is in the right direction and, in spite of congress, I feel that the advocates of simplified spelling will ultimately win their case before the American public. Indeed, I am not sure that the adverse action of congress will not tend to promote the movement throughout the country. People will now begin to study the list of 300 words as they never have before and will begin to learn, to their amazement and astonishment, that a very great majority of the 300 words are already in common, everyday use. The standard dictionaries of the day are going so far as to offer the entire list as either 'standardized' or optional forms of spelling."
