WATER QUESTION IS GRAVE

Some Solution of Present Difficulty Should Be Arrived at.

LARGER MAINS NEEDED IN BUSINESS PART

Water Company Will Do Nothing Until New Franchise Is Granted and a Contract Made with the City.

The pressing necessity of some settlement being speedily reached between the city council and the water works company, in order that Council Bluffs should have improved fire protection in the business section, was emphasized by F. J. Day, appearing on behalf of the insurance companies and business interests of the city, at the meeting of the executive committee of the Commercial club yesterday afternoon. Mr. Day took the position that the Commercial club, as the leading business organization of the city, should impress upon the city council the importance of some definite action in the water works matter without further delay. Mr. Day called attention to the fact that the recent fire in the implement district, which destroyed the warehouse and stock of the Union Transfer company and other firms for which this company acted as forwarding agent, showed the urgent necessity for larger water mains in that section of the city. The fire which destroyed the Fuller-Johnson & Shugart building in the same district two years ago, he said, had at that time shown that the water services were entirely inadequate, but nothing had been done by the city to improve matters. If these conditions were permitted to continue, Mr. Day argued, Council Bluffs would soon find itself without any large wholesale implement or other firms.

Three Years of Dickerings.

Mr. Day said that the water works company could hardly be expected to make any large expenditures in improving its services by installing larger mains so long as the city council declined to come to any arrangement with it. Mr. Day said it was time that the city council should be made to understand that the business interests of the city at large demanded that a settlement be reached with the water works company. He spoke of the fact that for three years the matter had been pending before the city council, but nothing had been accomplished, except the expenditure of several thousand dollars in the employment of special attorneys and experts. Municipal ownership of the water works, Mr. Day contended, was now practically a foregone conclusion. It behooved the city council to come to some settlement with the water works, so that it could be granted a new charter and be placed in a position where it could make the extensions and improvements in its service demanded by the present conditions. Mr. Day said he had been given to understand that the water works company was prepared to place larger mains in the implement district and other business sections of the city as soon as the city council would place it in a position to do so.

C. W. McDonald's Views.

C. W. McDonald, president of the Commercial club, said that he was of the same opinion as Mr. Day as to the necessity of the city council coming to a speedy settlement with the water works company. He was of this opinion when he heard of the action of the city council in the water works matter, but he was of the opinion, if not more so now, Mr. McDonald did not hesitate in declaring that the city council should be forced to make some satisfactory arrangement with the water works company so that the latter could be in a position to make the needed improvements in the water service in the wholesale district. Mr. McDonald said that the idea of municipal ownership had exploded and that being the case the city council should reach some settlement without further delay with the water works company. The business interests of the city at large, he contended, demanded this. As to the report which Engineer Kierstedt might make, Mr. McDonald said, the only value that could be placed upon it would be that it might afford something on which to form an intelligent basis from which to make a new contract with the water works company. At the same time, Mr. McDonald said, he was firmly of the opinion that the city council should not wait any longer for this report, but get to work at once and arrive at some agreement with the water works company. Further delay, he said, might prove most costly to the city. Other members of the executive committee expressed themselves as favoring some action which would force the city council to a speedy termination of the long drawn out consideration of the water works question, and it is likely that President McDonald will call a meeting of the club within the next few days to secure an expression from the members.

View of Water Works Official.

Manager E. W. Hart, when he learned of the discussion before the executive committee of the Commercial club yesterday afternoon, said: "The water works company has recognized for some time the necessity of increasing the size of the mains in certain parts of the city, but owing to the near approach of the franchise's termination had not felt it advisable to make any expenditure. During the last three years the city council has refused to treat with the water works company on a basis for a new contract for hydrant rental or in fact any basis for purchase of the plant or the building of a new one. The water company can only say what it has said many times in the last three years, that it stands ready to make the needed extensions whenever the city will make it possible."

property at Twentieth street and First avenue for the installation of its storage tanks. The company has contracted for 120 tanks and seventy-two of these will be shipped here in the next few days. For the present the company will ship its oil here by rail, but he stated that as soon as the business in this section is established, it will be shipped by boat on the Missouri river. Council Bluffs, it is said, will be made the headquarters of the company for Iowa and from this point the product of the company will be distributed over the state.

Christmas for the Unfortunate.

Columbus Talbert, a farmer of Washington township, appeared in two distinct roles in Justice Gardner's court yesterday. He was complaining witness in a case against James Pritchard, a school teacher in Washington township, whom he accused of administering a severe thrashing to his son, Edwin Talbert, and in another case he appeared as defendant to an assault and battery charge preferred against him by E. L. Kerney. In the latter case he admitted the assault, and as he had fractured one of his fingers in striking Kerney, Judge
