WORK FOR ALL EDUCATED ISLANDERS

Fifth Annual Report of Director of Insular Education Shows Progress of Schools on the Islands.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24.—Ninety-six of the Filipino students now in this country will complete their four years' course in different colleges, technical and high schools, next spring and all of these students who pass the required civil service examination will be given positions in the public service in the Philippines. P. Barrows, director of education in the Philippines, who left Washington today for San Francisco, after conferring with President Roosevelt and the officials of the War department, issued a circular for the benefit of the students who will apply for government positions at the conclusion of their period of study in the United States. Director Barrows says no student who has the disposition to do his best need fear that he will lack employment on the return to the islands. He sets forth the needs of the various bureaus of the Philippine government and declares the latest information shows that there is a great demand for clerks, and especially for those who have a knowledge of stenography and typewriting. The director of the bureau of agriculture, he says, states that he will need several hundred assistants. The bureau of public lands, he says, will be able to provide for a number of the Filipino graduates, and there is also a demand for draftsmen, printers and lithographers.

Schools of Islands. The fifth annual report of the director of education for the Philippines, covering the educational work in the islands for the year ended June 30, 1906, shows that there are now 1,356 primary schools in the islands, with an average attendance of 375,664 pupils. Seven hundred American and 624 Filipino teachers are employed. All of the school divisions, the report says, conducted teachers' institutes, varying from four to six weeks in the different provinces. The instruction given was divided between the common branches of the intermediate course and special topics of instruction, such as gardening, domestic science, primary industrial work and methods of teaching.

There are 244 primary school buildings in the islands owned by the municipalities, and in addition a number of buildings belonging to the provinces, but not constructed originally for school purposes, are used. Private instruction, the report says, plays a large part in the intellectual life of the islands. Many of the schools are supported by the Catholic church, with a history reaching back several decades. Some of these institutions teach English, although in practically all of them Spanish is the basis of instruction. The Filipino teachers, Dr. Barrows says, continue to gain in reliability, strength of character and moral purpose.

SCORE OF CHRISTMAS BRIDES

That Many and One More Given License in Douglas County Monday.

"This is certainly fierce," said Marriage License Clerk Harry Morrill yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, as he sat at his desk in the court house and wiped perspiration from his brow. In reply to a natural inquiry he pointed to the marriage license record. "Twenty-one Christmas brides, all today," he said weakly. "It's the worst I ever saw."

The Christmas bride is trying to crowd the June bride and the Ak-Sar-Ben bride from the fore, and from the record made yesterday she deserves the palm. All day happy couples thronged the county judge's office and other business was practically suspended. A number of them had the ceremony performed immediately by the judge and the others went away rejoicing in the possession of the precious document.

ONE YOUNGSTER MADE HAPPY

Dr. Archer Buys Guy Sillik of Detention Home Outfit of Clothing.

Surgeon Archer of the government veterinary service was an Omaha visitor Monday from Salt Lake City. The idea occurred to him to make some boy happy, so he made an inquiry at the Child Saving institute for a boy, the most forlorn in the school. Mr. Archer was referred to the Detention home as possibly the place for finding the boy he desired. He went there and 8-year-old Guy Sillik was pointed out to him as a good subject. Dr. Archer took the boy up town and dressed him completely with new togs, down to underclothes, hat and shoes, and brought the rehabilitated youngster back to the home in his new finery. Both were happy over the result. Dr. Archer in explaining his motive said: "Oh, I was alone in the city and did not know of any better way of making a good Christmas of it than by helping some unfortunate child. It didn't cost much, but there is lots of pleasure in it."

SPORTS OF A DAY.

EARLY START AT ICE SKATING

Rod and Gun Club is Making Big Plans.

The Omaha Rod and Gun club intends to get an early start on skating this winter, and to that end has arranged for a skating carnival at the lake surrounding the club house for Friday night. The club house will be heated, the ice skaters would visit with the rollers in turning out in the largest numbers.

Charles Comiskey, Herman Schaefer of the Detroit Tigers and Joe Cantillon, manager of the Washington Americans, who recently returned from a trip down the Mississippi on the good ship White Sox, are entertaining their Chicago friends with stories of some of their experiences while on the trip. It seems that Joe is an excellent cook. His friends say, none better. One day, while watching "Doug," the colored cook of the houseboat, preparing dinner Joe suddenly said: "Guess I'll make a couple of pies."

This was meant and drink for "Doug," who laughed in a happy way and said: "Go right ahead. Here are plenty of apples, and there's the rest of the stuff," pointing at the place where the flour, etc., was kept. So Joe, rolling up his sleeves, said in his preliminary work was so good that "Doug" opened his eyes and started to get jealous. This increased, and so did his wrath when the pies were placed upon the stove and came along nicely. "The worst was yet to come. It was enough for 'Doug' to find that there was another cook on the boat who knew the ropes, but when Comiskey said, 'Hurry up, Joe, I want to make a sponge cake, the real cook's dander rose sky-high. He began to fear for his job. To think that 'Canny' was also a cook in disguise was too much for him. The climax came, however, when Comiskey ordered 'Doug' to put on his coat and go up to the grocery store for some goods. The boat at that time was tied at the wharf at Helena, Ark. 'What do you want me to get, Mr. Comiskey?' said the disguised cook. 'Commy' laughed as he winked at Joe, and then remarked in a careless way: 'A couple of sponges for the cake.' This nettled 'Doug,' but he secured ample revenge by serving supper an hour late.

It developed during the conversation that Comiskey had a knack of seamanship that has not heretofore been divulged. He has solved the method of going away with untying hard knots by the simple process of cutting the rope with a knife. "But it's tough on the rope," says Cantillon. "We had to lay in a fresh supply at every town we struck." Comiskey has a peculiar way of making the boat fast for the night, too, continued Joe. "At that time the river was high and much of the land was flooded. When it was time to tie the craft up for the night, 'Commy' would get hold of a small willow and tie the craft around it. Then he would sing 'All set, boys!' and whoever would echo him with the exclamation, 'Aye, aye, sir.' Then they would dive into the cabin. The least jerk would pull the tree up, yet they thought everything was sound. What do you think of that?"—Globe-Democrat.

At the annual meeting of the directors of the Omaha Country club for the election of officers, held Saturday noon, J. C. Brady was re-elected president, Z. T. Lindsay was elected chairman of the golf greens committee. The positions of chairman of the house committee and of the golf tournament committee were not filled, action being postponed until the next meeting.

Riders who have been faithful to the wheel for the last ten years or so are finding much amusement as well as satisfaction in welcoming back their former comrades who are taking up the sport again. The ranks are filling up rapidly and the coming season will see more riders than have been witnessed in any year since 1891 cannot be doubted. One indication of the renewed interest in the wheel is to be found in the large number of bicycle clubs that have taken on new leases of life and the formation of new clubs in different parts of the country. The club organizations, in many cases, have been continued, because the organizations were easily adapted to winter pleasures, especially where club houses and rooms were retained that possessed dancing floors. But careful readers of the daily press must be struck with the number of new clubs that are being organized in most of the leading cities, according to the notices which are appearing on the various sporting pages.

WITH THE BOWLERS.

Carman's Colts won three games from the Daily News team last night on the Metropolitan alleys. The Colts bowled good figures, all going over 90. The old reliable Ben Hull had high single score with 211, also high three games with 684. Dudley was close behind with 178. Captain Carman says the Colts are going to make the Life Maltis go some to hold second place. The score:

Fine Double the Theft.

Charles E. White, a young "cocke fender," who was employed as a messenger boy by a local company, was fined $10 and costs in police court Monday morning for stealing $7 from the O. M. E. company. White was charged with larceny as he had, having collected the money and then failing to return it to the office. As is his custom in many larceny cases Judge Crawford fined the defendant just twice the amount that had been stolen.

TO SET DATES OF MEETINGS

Time for Merchants' Gatherings in Omaha Will Be Set in January.

Dates for the spring merchants' meetings at Omaha will be set soon after the holidays are over. A meeting of the Jobbers and Manufacturers' association was held at the Commercial club rooms Monday, but no dates were decided on owing to the fact that some of the largest jobbing houses of the city had no representatives at the meeting. Because there has been some doubt in the minds of country merchants as to whether the meetings could be continued after certain recent rulings by the Interstate Commerce commission the jobbers wish to send out their announcements as soon after New Year's as possible.

Thirty Thousand Wanted.

Suit for $30,000 against the Union Pacific and the crew of a switch engine in the yards was begun in district court Monday by Charles A. Anderson for injuries he received January 15, when he was run down during a blinding snowstorm and badly injured. He was employed to sweep off what is known as the "puzzle switch," which connects thirty or forty tracks in the South Omaha yards. He says the switch engine crew did not ring the bell or blow the whistle and as he was busy keeping the snow off the tracks he did not see the engine until it had struck him.
