Mr. McCulloch cited as one of the administrative follies of South Omaha the government of eighteen policemen by a board of five police commissioners.

"A square deal and a chance to vote h all the people of South Omaha want," Mr. McCulloch said in conclusion.

Dr. McCrann gently intimated that there was a political move behind the present agitation for consolidation.

"I understand that two Omaha lawyers are now preparing a new charter and have not finished it because they do not yet know whether the bill will be introduced with a direct legislative enactment clause or a provision to submit the matter to a vote of both towns," he said.

The talks were given before the Real Estate exchange, so that both sides of the question might be aired, the exchange taking no side of the matter.

Announcements of the Theaters.

Friday night one of the genuine treats of the winter season is promised at the Boyd. when McIntyre and Heath, the old minstrel and vaudeville favorites, come with their splendid company in "The Ham Tree," musical comedy that is said to be funnier than any ever sent out. It has but three darkey characters, the rest being white, but all take part in the proceedings. The chorus is advortised as the best singing and dancing organization ever gotten together. It is the pick of New York and the feature of the show. The engagement is for Friday and Saturday nights, with a mailnee on Saturday afternoon.

At the Burwood this afternoon the reguweekly shoppers' matinee will be given, "Madame Sans Gene" being the bill. This fine comedy is being produced on a magnificent scale and is attracting a great deal of attention. Miss Adams is more than making good in it, and the others in the gast are doing splendid work.

At the Boyd theater this evening Miss Lillian Fitch's pupils of the Boyd Theater School of Acting will present four one-act plays. It is one of the regular exhibitions of the school.

The midweek popular price matines at the Orpheum this afternoon is calculated to please the women and children especially. One feature in particular that was put on the program for the juveniles, who have no school this week, is Braats' troupe of acting dogs, pronounced one of the most entertaining acts of the kind on the stage. The excellence of the bill on this week has enlisted much admiration, and the women will find in it much to their special liking

INSANE MAN COMMITS SUICIDE

Fact Kept from Other Patients Over

Christmas. NORFOLK, Neb., Dec. 26.-(Special.)-The suicide of Frank Swoboda, an inmate of the Norfolk Hospital for the Insane. whose home is in St. Paul, Neb., was kept a secret from Christmas eve, when the tragedy occurred, until the day after Christmas, in order not to mar the joyousness of the occasion for the 220 other inmates. Dr. Young, the superintendent, withheld information from all save the coroner until after the Christmas festivities were over, because he knew that an announcement of the self-murder by one of the patients would so unstring the nerves of the other scores at the institution that the merry day planned for them would be turned into one of hysteria.
