Clearing house totals of almost $19,000,000 week; manufacturing output of nearly $4,000,000 a week; jobbing business of more than $1,500,000 a week; real estate transfers amounting to almost $1,000,000 a month; stoffice money order business of more an $25,000 a day; stamp sales of nearly a day; building operations of morethan $82,000 a week; grain receipts of 45,000,000 bushels and shipments of 39,943,900, and receipts of cattle, hogs and sheep to the number of 5,638,140. These are the salient points of Omaha's business during the year 1906. It is a record to be proud of. An increase is shown in every line of activity and industry. The commercial life of the city was never so vigorous and healthy as during the last twelve months CHERBOURG and the promise for the next year is ST. brighter than ever.

Manufacturing and Jobbing. Omaha's total manufactured output in 1906 was approximately $195,460,600, as compared with $175, 69,000 in 1905, an increase of $19.991.600, or 12 per cent. These figures repesent the total output of upwards of 240 gras, more than 200 of them being com-

Figures on Manufacturing. Packing house products make the largest item in the manufacturing business. While night the American Association for the Adthe actual increase by pounds in the output of the South Omaha packers was only about s per cent, yet the phorease in value was about 15 per cent. The figures are approximately $123,050,000, as compared with $107,-000,000 the previous year. Next comes refined metals, of which the output was $44,-650,681, as compared with $40,559,400 in 1906. Brewery and distillery products figure $4,500,000, an increase of 20 per cent; soap, $2,000,000, an increase of 15 per cent; output of Union Pacific shops, $2,545,000; men's gar-ments, $2,400,000; boots and shoes, $500,000; bag factory products, $1,325,000; dairy products, $3,200,000; white lead, $750,000, a decrease from 1905 on account of the factory being out of commission one month for repairs; structural steel and cast fron, $425,000; stock foods, $625,000; planing mill products, $400,these are 215 concerns BURIAL IN WESTMINSTER ABBEY 000. LINCOLN, Dec. 31 .- (Special Telegram.)-The first skirmish in the legislative battle of 1907 resulted in a signal victory for the square deal and a telling defeat for the railroad combine by the election of Dan M. principal competitor was McMullen of Gage, behind whom the rallroad element attempted to take a stand. It was a joit welcomed 1307. This was followed by "Red. from the shoulder that knocked the railable to climb "out of the snowbank," As McMuilen facetiously termed it.

The skirmishing was started bright and early in the morning, when a conference was held, attended by all the speakership candidates, to discuss the caucus call. At the conference, which was attended by ten andidates, it was agreed that the caucus paper should call for an open ballot, with a two-thirds vote to nominate and fifty-one signatures to make effective. In this conference McMullen at once tipped his hand, if any further disclosure were necessary to show that he was counting on the support of the railroad combine. He strenuously opposed the two-thirds rule and the open ballot, but finally affixed his signature to it along with all the others.

When word got abroad that these condifurious. They sent word to their agents and emissaries that this would never do: thing more than a majority in a speakership caucus and that the right and privilege

He mounted bers of the house to enter into caucus on by McMullen himself, who explained that while he had signed the original caucus paper, he had done so under duress and did not propose to abide by it. Nettleton Dodge and others followed, insisting that the caucus rules were meet and proper and inviting the members to sign up. The caucus paper got as far as thirty-six signatures and then hung fire while the coun-BLACK HILLS MINES CLOSE ter call circulated by Wilson was deco-

The contention waxed faster and more furious while the corporation messengers, under direction of Burlington Lobbyists Dilworth and Young and Union Pacific Lobbyist Clancy were dispatched in all directions to bring pressure upon members in behalf of McMullen. To stop the tumult a second conference of the candidates was brought into action about 5 o'clock which was edified by an-
