Cured of Piles by Pyramid Pile Cure

Il You Suffer, You Can Be Cured. Costs Nothing to Try.

If you think that you must be operated upon to be cured of piles, you are wrong. Thousands of cases of piles of excrusiating severity-worse no doubt than yours, have been cured paintensly, quickly and permanently, while the patient has been at his work without the loss of time necessitated by an operation. In fact, many a sufferer has not been able to reach his work or even move across the room until after using the home remedy prepared by the Pyramid Drug Co.

He More Piles! One Box Cured-Only 50 Cts

Such was the condition of an Indiana business man, as shown in a recent let-"Received your sample of Pile Cure and

"In his eightieth year he was welcomed back into all communion with the Presbyterius church, and when the venceable gentleman presented himself the general assembly received him standing. It was undoubtedly a great triumph." But perhaps a greater triumph is the fact that his children and his children's children have achieved such distinction in the intellectual world. It is no slight thing that the descendant of the one man who withstood Castlereagh to his face should be chief secretary for Ireland and leave that post to become ambassador to the United States.

It may lack in polish, and it may be devoid of subtlety, life at the time, exaggerated, but not a bygone day, but withal depending on the ever new and never falling willingness of people to laugh at others when they are nwittingly placed in embarrassment or made to appear ridiculous. Oliver Goldsmith's humor was of that healthy, robust sort that amuses without vexing, and endures because it does not delve deeper than the surface. The good doctor knew what he was prescribing when he took his pen in hand to give us this story of how Tony Lumpkin got even with his father-in-law. The company which presented this classic at the Boyd last night is one of the most notable ever assembled to enact its roles. The pleasure afforded by the intelligent exposition of the idea is such as can only "Fainting Bertha" Liebecke and her be understood by those who faced the sleet opinion as to her true ability can hardly though, for a glimpse of her in a part that makes a more serious demand on her

From first to last, Hardcastle is a fine old figure of a man, and Mr. Crane makes him so. Mr. Giddens takes hold of Tony Lumpkin with gusto and seems to enjoy the part as much as does the audience, which ought to be praise enough. Fannie Addison Pitt is a real delight as Mrs. Hardcastle, and Miss Dale, Mr. Hale and Mr. Sleath are well fitted in their parts. The performance was most enjoyable.

The audience present last evening was far from large, but it was appreciative to the extent of requiring curtain calls as the comedy progressed. "She Stoops to Conquer" will be presented at a matinee this afternoon and again this evening.

OLD GUN WILL NOT GO OFF Frightens One Burglar, but Other Laughs When It is Snapped at Him,

Two burglars were detected early Saturday morning in the act of robbing the sa loon of H. C. Harm, 1002 Vinton street, and succeeded in making their escape with about $4 from the cash register. The proprietor of the saloon, who lives on the second floor of the building, was aroused by the noise of someone breaking a win dow in the saloon and proceeded to make an investigation, with the assistance of a revolver that had not been fired for a century. Mr. Harm went to the front of the saloon and saw a man standing inside tampering with the cash register. pointed his revolver at him and the burglar jumped behind the bar. Harm tried to fire the revolver at the man, but he could not even pull back the hammer of the weapon and the man made his escape by jumping over a fence. Mr. Harm then went to the front of the saloon and confronted the burglar who had been inside the saloon and who had evidently witnessed Harm's experience with his partner, as he coelly walked off when

Harm pointed the revolver at his head and said: "I want you." The frightened proprietor did not follow the nonchalant burgiar, as his revolver was useless, but notified the police and several officers were hurried to the scene. The birds had flown by the time the officers had arrived and Harm was not even able to give a good description of the men. The saloon of Louis Nelson, 1102 South Sixth street, was also entered by burglars Friday night, who gained entrance by breaking a window and stole $5 in change.

M'CORD LOSES LORD CECIL

Valuable Horse Dies in Chicago, but Owner Gets One from Lawson.

Lord Cecil, the beautiful bay gelding belonging to W. H. McCord and which won the highest honors of the Chicago Horse show for him, died at the Chicago stables of Tichenor & Co., of an abscess in the head. This horse was the pride of the Mc-Cord stables and his loss was a hard blow to the owner, who had figured on great things for him for next year. The Tichenors were also quite put out over having such a splendid horse lost in their stables and they have done everything possible as restitution. They have Mr. McCord secure Glorious Whirling Cloud, the famous horse of the Toni Lawson stables. Mr. McCord will rename the horse Don Edward. He is a high stepper of the first order and has conformation similar to Rustling Silk, the horse Mr. Mc-Cord sold to Mr. Vanderbilt and which to now in the lead of Mr. Vanderbilt's famo
