POSSIBLE COMPROMISE ON SHIP SUBSIDY

Only Stumbling Block Now Appears to Be Radical Advocates of the Eastern Senate Bill Program.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Some of the time of the senate and most of the time of the house during the present week will be devoted to the discussion of appropriation bills. The senate will conclude its consideration of the legislative, executive, judicial appropriation bill and may reach the Indian bill. The house will finish its work on the fortifications bill and will then take up the bill appropriating $10,000,000 for the District of Columbia and the diplomatic and consular service.

Before proceeding with appropriation bills the house will devote a day to miscellaneous bills in the interest of the District of Columbia, and Monday has been set aside for this purpose. It is expected that the appropriation bill before the senate will be temporarily displaced Monday by the Foraker resolution providing for an investigation of the Brownsville riot. Senator Fulton, who has charge of the appropriation bill, announces his purpose not to yield the floor again until this measure is disposed of, and if he persists in his determination consideration of the Brownsville matter will necessarily be deferred. The prospect of receiving Assistant Attorney General Foy's report on the subject on Monday adds to what already holds a keen interest, and a large attendance may be expected in the senate when it is under consideration. Speeches are to be made by Senators Spooner, Carmack and Stone, and it is expected that Senator Foraker will insist on the closing of the debate without further remarks.

The present prospect is for the practically unanimous adoption of a compromise resolution simply directing an investigation into the occurrence at Brownsville and remaining silent on the legal phases of the question.

Salary Grab Not Dead.

In the senate there will be an effort to incorporate a provision in the legislative appropriation bill increasing the salaries of senators and representatives from $5,000 to $7,500, and unless the proposition arouses debate, the legislative bill probably will be passed with but little discussion. There also will be an attempt to restore the house provision for an increase of the salaries of the vice president, the speaker of the house and the members of the cabinet.

Some of the members of the house committee on appropriations will try to secure the incorporation in the fortifications bill of an amendment looking to the creation of an island at the mouth of Chesapeake bay for an appropriation for that purpose about $1,000,000 when the bill comes up in the house. General Keller and Judge Walter Smith differed sharply over this point in committee and when Mr. Smith, who opposed the provision, prevailed there, the Ohio member announced his determination to appeal to the house.

The house will move forward with great expectancy to the decision of the committee on merchant marine on the subject of the ship subsidy bill. The committee will meet on Tuesday and members say that the question will be decided finally on that day. Representative Watson of Indiana, who has consistently opposed the subsidy bill, now announces his willingness to accept a compromise measure providing for both Atlantic and Pacific mail subsidies to South American ports and for an increase of subsidy to the Australian line, now in existence, as well as for assistance to a new line on the Pacific coast to Japan and China. It is now asserted by the advocates of compromise that only the opposition of the supporters of the full senate bill stands in the way of a report.

Smart Case Friday.

The senate probably will return to the discussion of the Smart case on Friday, when Senators Sutherland and Dillingham will speak in opposition to the unseating resolution. Later Mr. Smart will address the senate in his own behalf and the discussion will be under the direction of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation, which sent invitations to the governors of the various states and to numerous commercial bodies throughout the country.

Secretary Root will leave Washington January 17 for Ottawa, Canada, where he will be the guest of Governor General Grey.

CONFERENCES AT WHITE HOUSE

New York Political Leader and Commerce Commissioner See the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—James Wadsworth, Jr., speaker of the New York assembly, had a conference tonight with President Roosevelt, in which the New York political situation was thoroughly worked over for about two hours. Mr. Wadsworth would not discuss the conference further than to say that it related to the New York political situation and the New York legislature, but said anything further on the subject or any result of that conference would have to be given out at the White House.

Judson C. Clements of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Corporation Commissioner James R. Garfield conferred with President Roosevelt for two hours tonight. None of the parties would discuss the nature of the conference. Commissioner Clements returned yesterday from Chicago, where, with other members of the commission, he conducted the hearing relating to the merging of the Harriman lines.

POPE PRAISES AMERICANS

Uses Strong Language in Speaking of the Present Conflict with France.

ROME, Jan. 13.—Pope Pius today received the students of the American college in this city, who were presented by Mr. Kennedy, the rector of the college. Mr. Kennedy said the American students were more numerous than those of any other nationality here, there being 120 at the college. Pope Pius, after praising the students for the success they have attained in their studies, spoke to them about France, saying:

"In the war that is being waged between the clergy and hell, the expression of unity and sympathy from Catholics throughout the world is the greatest consolation. America especially has distinguished herself in this way; indeed, America is a great credit to the world. When you return to your glorious country follow with the clergy and the people this luminous example of solidarity in the tremendous conflict against the church."

SHIP LOST, CREW DROWNED

Men on Board Save Their Dog, but Lose Their Own Lives.

CUXHAVEN, Germany, Jan. 13.—The British ship Frederick, Captain Williams, from Talait, Chile, October 27, for Falkland, with a cargo of saltpeper, grounded off Scharnhorn, about ten miles northwest of Cuxhaven, today. Twenty-four men comprising the crew were drowned and the cargo a total loss.

The tug Vulker went to the assistance of the stranded vessel and passing closely to it, the crew of the Penguin threw a live dog and a bundle of clothes aboard the tug, but disregarded the appeals to jump into the water, so that they might be rescued. The tug made repeated attempts to reach the Penguin, but a heavy sea broke over it and it disappeared from view.

PAPAL DELEGATE NOT WANTED

Italy and France Object to Vatican Being Represented at The Hague.

ROME, Jan. 13.—Unofficial advances made in an endeavor to ascertain Italy's attitude concerning a representative of the Vatican at the coming peace conference at The Hague have found no encouragement. Although the relations between Italy and the church are now of the best the Italian government does not think it can abandon the principle established in 1899 when the papacy was excluded from the first conference. Besides this, there is now another country that would strongly object to a papal representative—France.

Wellman Balloon Indicated.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Walter Wellman's enlarged balloon, in which he hopes to reach the north pole and which is now inflated for the purpose of testing the impermeability of the envelope, was exhibited to a number of French aeronauts today. M. Santos-Dumont, M. Deutsch and Count de La Vaulx and other men prominent in aeronautics, were present and showed great interest in the explorer's plans. Mr. Wellman considers his balloon in perfect condition.

French Cardinals Confer.

PARIS, Jan. 13.—Three French cardinals, Richard, archbishop of Paris; Leont, archbishop of Bordeaux, and Coullie, archbishop of Lyons, are holding daily meetings preparing for the coming general assembly of bishops. It is stated that these dignitaries are in full accord with the encyclical of Pope Pius on the church question in France.

LID TILTS HALFWAY OPEN

Omaha No Lamer a Thrifty Sahara on the Sabbath Day.

SALOONS OPEN BACK DOORS TO PUBLIC

Many Places Keep Shut Tight and Those that Do Run Keep Very Orderly During the Day.

"As far as I have observed everything seems to be quiet and orderly," said Chief of Police Donahue Sunday when asked how the elusive saloonkeeper was behaving himself after the publicity given to the recent orders of Mayor Dahlgren. "I have nothing to say for publication regarding the alleged raising of the lid, except that the saloons will not be molested on Sundays pending order to the contrary; otherwise, the saloonmen will have to answer to the court."

Chief Donahue and the mayor had a heart-to-heart consultation Sunday morning in the office of the chief, presumably the re-opening of the saloons on the Sabbath after the recent thurf.

While the front doors of most of the liquor emporiums were scrupulously closed Sunday, the popularity in certain quarters of the orders issued Saturday by the mayor and chief of police was amply attested by the constant opening and closing of the back doors to the places of refreshment to thirsty motorists.

In fact, the "lid" was knocked higher than Gilderey's kite, and the man clad in the snowy white apron behind the highly polished mahogany was one of the busiest men in Omaha Sunday.

Some Take no Chances.

After six weeks of Sunday closing, many of the saloonmen have gotten into the habit of having one day of rest in the week, and, although the bars were raised Sunday, at least one-third of the saloons in the city were as tightly closed as even the heart of a miser.

Most of the hotel bars were open for business, with the exception of the Murray hotel, where it was said that no chances would be taken, even if the Sunday opening did have the tacit sanction of Mayor Jim.

The popular downtown resorts all did a rushing business, and the Sunday opening was as successful as the periodical "openings" that delight the heart of the feminine bargain hunter.

It was noticeable that the drug stores did not appear to be as popular resorts as they have been for the last few Sundays. Fewer "bug juice" for "medicinal purposes only" were recorded at the fifty-seven drug stores of the city where fifty-seven different varieties of concoctions of vinegar and red pepper had heretofore been dispensed to a thirsty public.

"Whisky Brigade" Out of Commission.

On the mourners' bench over the broadcast elevation of the lid were Officers Waters and Trobey, the faithful members of Chief Donahue's "whisky brigade," who had for weeks done such valiant duty in seeing the doors—back, front and side—of saloons kept closed and the recent "closed season." No more were they allowed to pass the streets in search of saloons bidding for Sunday trade, but were ordered back to patrol their respective beats, as Mayor "Jim" had said that they were sadly needed to assist in the protection of the city instead of wasting their strength on the desert air in an effort to make the saloomen walk in the way they should go according to the Slocumb law.

Few arrests were made Sunday for drunkenness, and even those arrested were not charged with carrying concealed weapons in the guise of partially drained whisky flasks, as has been the case on recent Sabbaths.

JEROME MOVES ON GAMBLERS

Proposes to Eliminate Bookmaking on Race Tracks and Elsewhere.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—District Attorney Jerome has started a campaign to eliminate betting in this state. He will go to Albany tomorrow and ask the legislature to wipe out certain sections of the Percy-Gray law. In one bill he seeks to deliver a death blow to that section which says that the only penalty for bookmaking at the track shall be recovery of the bet by a civil suit. In another bill he proposes to amend the penal code so as to make bookmaking at the track or any other place a misdemeanor instead of a felony, the punishment to be not more than one year in the penitentiary, or a fine of $500 or both.

Relating to these two bills, District Attorney Jerome has drawn a bill to provide for the income which agricultural societies throughout the state receive through the provisions of the Percy-Gray law. Instead of getting a percentage of the receipts, he provides that a certain fixed sum, not designated in the bill, shall be appropriated out of the state treasury for agricultural purposes.

MINE WORKERS' CONVENTION

No Labor or Other Issues to Occupy the Attention of the Body.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 13.—The sixteenth annual convention of the United Mine Workers of America will convene here next Tuesday. The convention is expected to be in session eight or ten days and about 60 delegates are expected.

W. B. Wilson of the Mine Workers said: "Never in the history of the body have things been so quiet as they are now. Although there are a few strikes in the country, none of them is of much more than local importance, and none will require much of the time of the convention in discussion. Upon the whole the miners are prosperous and we anticipate no discussion of a sensational nature in the coming convention."

Old Town Is Moved.

ARBORVILLE, Neb., Jan. 13.—(Special.)—It is with regret that the oldest settler has to see the town of Arborville move, and it is hard to believe that those who stood up for Arborville in the past should load their business houses on wheels and move to the new town of Polk, on the Union Pacific extension from Stronburg to Central City. At first the business men resolved that they would stay by Arborville to the last, which meant that Polk would have considerable competition. The City Improvement company of Polk has made some flattering offers to owners of business property and in many cases donated lots and paid for the moving of the buildings and stocks, and one by one they have left, until all that is left in Arborville, the inland city of York county, is a postoffice, blacksmith shop and meat market, and the town is liable to lose them.

DAWSON TO RESCUE OF PEARL BUTTON

Iowa Congressman Trying to Find a Way to Increase the Production of the Fresh Water Clam or Mussel.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(Special.)—The house of representatives has gone on record in opposition to the grade abrogation bill while the army appropriation bill was under consideration this week in the lower branch of congress. Representative Dalsell of Pennsylvania, in reporting a rule permitting the house to vote on the question whether the grade should close with the present holder of the distinguished rank, General Arthur MacArthur, said:

"I believe that there is an opinion prevailing that it was a mistake to create the rank of lieutenant general for any officer after the death of General Sheridan; that the distinction should have been confined to Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan. But as often as one officer after another of the civil war attained to the position where he would be entitled to this rank, it was to be created, congress felt it would be unfair to deprive him of what his predecessors had had. The reason that existed for giving this distinction to these officers has now ceased to exist. All the officers of the civil war who would be entitled by reason of their seniority to become lieutenant generals have been provided for, and if the office is to continue it will be conferred hereafter upon those who have no connection with the civil war."

"I want to say here it is a great mistake to assume as I have heard it assumed on the outside, that this measure is aimed at the interest of some or any army officer. The measure is intended, I think, by the house to be passed as a measure of justice, because the reason has ceased for the creation of the office has ceased and the office should likewise cease with the reason. The legislation has no particular party or parties in view."

It is generally understood that Mr. Dalsell was referring to General Leonard Wood, now in the Philippines, but shortly before the creation of the rank of lieutenant general he had been promoted to the rank of "general of the armies" was created by congress, but the act did not take effect so far as Washington was concerned, because he died a few months after the passing of the title and before the law became effective.

Scott was made a lieutenant general by brevet in 1862. The grade was revived in 1894 with Grant, who became "general of the armies" in 1898. Sherman was made lieutenant general in 1869 and Sheridan in 1869. Among the "whisky brigade" were General and lieutenant general, became lieutenant general in 1866. In 1900 congress enacted that the senior major general should have the rank of lieutenant general, which is now the law.

When the rank of lieutenant general, however, abolishes the rank of lieutenant general, the grade ceasing with the retirement of the present holder of that rank, Arthur MacArthur, who retires in 1909. The legislation in nowise affects those on the retired list holding the grade.

Dawson Promises Well.

Albert F. Dawson of the Second Iowa district bids fair to become one of the leading members of the house of representatives. If there is anything in training, Albert Dawson has every reason to expect a useful and maybe distinguished career in the lower branch of congress. For several years he was the confidential secretary of William B. Allison, one of the great leaders of the republican party in the United States senate. Dawson took the nomination for congress in the Second Iowa district, which has been looked upon as safely democratic, but in the Roosevelt landslide of 1904 he beat Judge Wade by 198 votes, the then only democrat in the Iowa delegation. Mr. Dawson was renominated by the legislature and considerably increased his majority. During the first session of the Fifty-ninth congress the young congressman from the Second Iowa district made his speech on the "American Hen," which attracted nationwide attention, and now he is directing the gambling houses, was "too tip Homans and the physician off on the run of the cards in a faro game."

STEAMER FAST ON THE BEACH

Strays Two Miles from Its Course During Comparatively Clear Weather.

CHATHAM, Mass., Jan. 13.—Straying from the beaten track, the Clyde line freight steamer Onondaga, Captain Bunnell, bound from Boston for Charleston, and Jacksonville, struck on Orleans Beach early today and is in a dangerous position. The chances of saving the steamer are considered about even.

Two tugs arrived at the scene this afternoon, but no attempt was made to float the vessel. It is expected that the greater portion of the cargo will have to be lightered before the vessel can be floated.

At dark tonight the captain shouted ashore that his vessel was still tight and showed no signs of breaking up, although it had been hammering steadily all day and spray was continually flying over it.

The Onondaga is 2,125 tons net burden and carries a crew of twenty-eight men.

ANTI-CLERICAL DISORDERS

MADRID, Jan. 13.—There was a gigantic anti-clerical demonstration at Bilbao today which was attended by some riotous. The government's precaution in holding the garrison in readiness prevented serious disturbances.

There was a similar manifestation at San Sebastian, where 30,000 persons paraded about the town, but no clash with the police resulted.

MORE PRIZES FOR BALLOONS

Nine Contestants Assured as Starters in the International Race.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Cortland Field Bishop, president of the Aero Club of America, has announced a list of five supplementary prizes amounting to $5,000, to be offered in connection with the coming international cup balloon race on October 19 next in St. Louis. Under the rules governing the race James Gordon Bennett gives $2,000 to the winner.

The following supplementary prizes were announced: $1,000 to the second balloon in the race; $500 to the third; $250 to the fourth; $100 to the fifth; $50 to the sixth.

These prizes are for balloons "traveling the greater distance. In addition, the Aero club has decided to offer a supplementary prize of $500 for the balloon staying longest in the air. Up to this time, of the eight countries eligible to enter the race, only Great Britain, France and the United States have forwarded their entries, which guarantee that at least nine balloons will start in the contest.

FRENCH LINER HAS ROUGH TIME

Last Tuesday Night Especially Tempestuous, According to Passengers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The French liner Le Savoie, from Havre, arrived in port today after a stormy voyage.

Among the passengers were E. E. Mackintosh, former mayor of Cleveland, O., who said he had crossed the Atlantic many times, but last Tuesday night was the roughest night at sea that he had ever experienced.

Major W. Cook Daniels of Denver, also a passenger on the steamer. He had been away from home for six years, much of which time he has spent in New Guinea. Major Daniels is a student of anthropology at the University of Chicago.

Major Daniels has brought much valuable data regarding the natives of New Guinea as well as a number of skulls and a large collection of photographs. He will remain in this country for a few months and then return to follow up his researches. He left today for Denver.

SWINDLE SCHEME UNEARTHED

Either Doctor or Gambling to Be the Victim of a Plot by Pair of Sharpers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—What is charged by the police to be a scheme to defraud a Washington physician out of $5,000 led to the arrest today of Frank F. Homans of Paris, France, and David T. Tanner, alias Townsend, of White Plains, N. Y., on the charge of conspiracy. The men were arrested after Dr. Thomas J. Kemp of this city had told the police that Tanner had made a proposition to him to enter a deal "to put a New York gambling house out of business."

Dr. Kemp declares the men assured him that by investing $5,000 he could easily win from $300,000 to $300,000 within one week. "Get rich quick" scheme according to Dr. Kemp's report to the police, was that Dr. Kemp was to pay $5,000 and Tanner, who claimed to be manager of the gambling house, was "to tip Homans and the physician off on the run of the cards in a faro game."

TRACK SLIPS UNDER TRAIN

Quick Action of Engineer Saves Wreck from Being More Disastrous.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 13.—Early this morning a tremendous slip occurred on the main line of the Washburn railroad on the West Virginia side of the Ohio river at the bridge opposite Mingo Junction, O., which put the road out of commission for several days, and in the meantime trains are being operated via other lines.

Just as the slip started a westbound freight train in charge of Engineer Charles McCabe was passing the bridge. The engineer felt the track colliding and opened the throttle wide. The caboose and six freight cars of the train were demolished by the avalanche of earth.

NEW INDUSTRIAL RECORDS

Value of Manufactures Far Exceeds That of Any Previous Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—That 1906 was a banner year in the history of the United States industrial activity, far outdistancing any previous record, is the deduction of statistical experts of the bureau of statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The value of manufactures, raw materials imported in eleven months in the last year, was $422,000,000, against $270,000,000 in the corresponding month of 1905. The total value of manufactures exported during the year will exceed $700,000,000.
