CHICKEN THIEVES GO OVER

Leader Gets Four Years, Pal Three and Dora Buffum One in Penitentiary.

Three chicken thieves who raided the hen coops of Charles Evans, a farmer near Benson about a month ago were sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Sutton Saturday. John Foster, the leader of the gang, pleaded guilty and was given four years. Frank Eastwa, who stood trial and was convicted, got three years, and Dora Buffum, the colored woman who was first suspected, pleaded guilty and was given one year. In sentencing them Judge Sutton referred to the fact that there have been numerous robberies of chicken houses near Omaha in the last few weeks.

Nettie Miles, charged with picking the pockets of a man named Sullivan, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. Judge Sutton said he would make her sentence light because he realized it was hard for a colored woman to make an honest living. The woman was very much pleased at the sentence, as she expected a long one. She declared all she cared for was to live to get out of the penitentiary so she could come back to Omaha and slaughter Lola Spencer, another woman who was implicated and whom she charged with being the real culprit, putting the blame on her.

TRAINOR'S PAPERS DOUBTED

County Commissioner Gets in Tangle as Witness for Naturalization Applicant.

The legality of County Commissioner P. J. Trainor's naturalization papers was questioned Saturday morning in Judge Troup's court during the hearing of petition for naturalization by prospective citizens. Mr. Trainor was a witness for August Helcke of South Omaha. District Attorney Goss, who appears for the state, cross-examined Mr. Trainor. The latter said he was born in 1866 and took out his papers in 1886. As the law requires the citizen to be 21 years old and witnesses must be citizens, Mr. Trainor's evidence was not taken. After he left the stand he decided the papers must have been dated 1887, as he is sure they were taken out after he became of age. He was kept busy explaining the situation to his colleagues, who threatened to refuse him his salary next pay day.

Seven new citizens were decreed eligible to receive their papers by Judge Troup. The hearing in each case was very thorough. District Attorney Goss was present for the government and each witness underwent a rigid examination as to his ability to know the facts he testified to and his own citizenship. The law requires that the material facts must be sworn to by two citizens of the United States. The process is in marked contrast to the old procedure, where citizens were turned out by the dozens under formal oaths.

Emoch Federic was the first to receive papers under the new law in Douglas county. The others were Hugh McCormick, August Helcke, Albert Bithell, Rudolph Schults, John P. J. Cronin and Herman Hakenholz.

UNIQUE POINT OF NEW LAW

Question Raised in Suit Over Death of Man Riding on Switch Engine.

In a suit for $5,000 damages filed Saturday morning in district court by Mrs. Annie Niles against the Union Pacific railroad for the death of her husband, William M. Niles, last October, while working as a switchman in the South Omaha yards, a point of great importance to railroad employees and companies will be determined. John M. Macfarland, her attorney, contends that under the new interstate commerce act both the roads and employees who are engaged in interstate commerce are subject to the act and not to the state law. Under the act the roads are subject to damages for accidental death in any amount the jury may fix. Under the state law there is a limit of $5,000 where death results from injury.

Niles was riding on the footboard of a switch engine when it struck an obstruction and dropped down, throwing him under the wheels. The coroner's jury held the road was negligent.

Peter Reed of Chicago, known to his friends in the Windy City as "Rye Terms" Reed, is in Omaha inspecting a lot of corn for the J. Rosenbaum company. Mr. Reed knows something about grain, having spent most of his life in the business and having worked for many years in the interests of exporting concerns, inspecting grain at New Orleans, Chicago, Port Arthur, Duluth and other markets.

"I am glad to see the Omaha market coming to the front," he said to some of the local dealers. "Keep at it and Omaha is bound to be one of the biggest markets in the country. If you are discriminated against by larger markets and transportation interests, remember that I have seen the time when Chicago was in the same position."

Mr. Reed has the grading of grain down to a fine point. It is told that he once had a row with Superintendent Smiley of the inspection department of the Chicago Board of Trade, refusing to accept the grading of Mr. Smiley. They were on a boat and the discussion became so warm that each threatened to throw the other into the water. Mr. Reed insisted the wheat was infested with weevil and to prove it showed one live weevil. Mr. Smiley declared it was the only weevil on the boat and dared Mr. Reed to find another. After hunting for a half hour Mr. Reed had to admit the other man was right and finally agreed to take the wheat if Mr. Smiley would throw the one offending insect overboard.
