ALEXANDER SWETTENHAM,

When Rear Admiral Davis called at the Headquarters bouse this morning to bid farewell to Governor Swettenham he waited fifteen minutes. He then informed the governor's aide that he would wait no longer and requested him to tell the governor that in consequence of his attitude in not desiring American aid he had countermanded President Roosevelt's order despatching the supply ship Celtic, laden with beef for the relief of Kingston.

Governor Swettenham arriving at that oment, there was a brief private meeting and the governor escorted Rear Admiral Davis to his carriage.

Salutations were exchanged and the governor replying to Real Admiral Davis' regret that he was unable to do more for Kingston, said: "All the more to your honor," adding a deep bow, evidently in reply to Admiral Davis' reference to his departure and meaning he would do the me if in the admiral's place.

Unable to Care for the Injured. Real Admiral Davis told the Associated Press he deeply regretted the governor's attitude. He was still convinced that the governor was unequal to the task of relieving distress-that this was evident from the fact that the American field hospital had tended many sick and wounded and others were constantly arriving, having Systematic efforts to relieve the sufferers, who are estimated at nearly 20,000 in Cincinnati and the nearby cities on both sides of the river, were under way all day, the appropriation by the city council being supplemented by special funds to which all the churches contributed today.

Part of Parkersburg was under water and the railroads were in trouble. Almost the entire business sections of Portsmouth and part of the residence district was flooded, while 50,000 people driven from churches. The city was without gas or water service. At Madison, Ind., hundreds have been driven from their homes by water. While the low-lying sections of Huntington, W. Va., are flooded, it is not believed the damage there will be heavy.

Portsmouth Levee Breaks. PORTSMOUTH, O., Jan. 20 .- A terrific storm and the sudden breaking of the levees caused Portsmouth a night of terror and today found only a few scattered portions of the city had escaped the flood. Hundreds of people were asleep when the rush of the waters of the Scioto came and scores had remarkable escapes from drowning. The water rose so rapidly that people had no time to save anything. Few could render any assistance to the helpless. It was necessary to chop in roofs to rescue

The men in charge of the pumping station were forced to desert their posts and fiee for their lives, leaving the structure in flames.

The river has reached 61.3, which is the highest record since the flood of 1884, but it is now about stationary. It is estimated that 10,000 people in this city and suburbs have been driven from their homes. A bread framine and a lack of water, gas and light supply combine to make the situation extremely critical.

Gale Sweeps Lake Erie. BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 20.-A terrine gale, which blew ninety miles an hour at times, has swept this city for eighteen hours and has done $1,500,000 damage to shipping.
