

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS

Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble. Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, etc., etc., etc.

PASS FORAKER SUBSTITUTE

Senate Orders Investigation of Discharge of Negro Troops

THREE OTHER RESOLUTIONS REJECTED

Legality or Justice of Any Act of the President Relative to the Affray is Not Questioned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The senate today passed the compromise Foraker resolution authorizing the committee on military affairs to investigate the discharge of the Negro troops at Brownsville, on the nights of August 13 and 14 last, without questioning the legality or justice of any act of the president in relation to or connected with that affray.

Before the adoption of the resolution several amendments were voted down. One by Senator Mallory, declaring that the president had authority for his course and acted justly, which was tabled by a vote of 43 to 22.

Another, by Senator McCumber, simply providing for an investigation without reference to the president in any manner, was defeated by a live voice vote.

A third, by Senator Culbertson, simply endorsing the president's action and providing for no investigation, was tabled by a roll call vote of 45 to 19.

There was no record vote on the resolution adopted. Senator Sutherland occupied the first three hours of the day's session delivering his first speech in the senate. It was in behalf of the right of Reed Smoot of his own state to a seat in the senate.

The Brownsville debate then followed, senators taking the opportunity to explain the vote they should cast on the resolution.

Mallory Offers Substitute. Mr. Mallory offered a substitute for the Foraker compromise Brownsville compromise resolution.

Mr. Foraker immediately moved to lay the substitute on the table. Before this was done he drew his motion to permit senators to speak. The resolution of Mr. Mallory provides for an investigation, after resolving as follows:

That in the judgment of the senate, the recent action of the president in discharging without honor enlisted men of companies B, C and D of the Twenty-fifth Infantry within the precincts of the city of Brownsville, Texas, was a gross violation of the laws and the proper exercise thereof.

Mr. Mallory said he could not support the Foraker resolution because its language as to the president's power was equivocal.

Senator Teller opposed the idea advanced in a recent speech by Senator Lodge that the president "inherited" power from the king. This was a new doctrine and the Colorado senator said he could not see how it might become popular in some localities.

Senator Bacon of Georgia supported the Mallory substitute. He characterized the agreement among the republicans on the Foraker resolution as an illustration of the extreme dexterity in forming compromises for which they can all vote, although some of them are directly opposed in sentiment, as in the matter to which that resolution relates.

Mr. Foraker, replying to Mr. Bacon, reviewed the history of the Brownsville controversy in the senate to show that the question of the president's power had been raised by the message the president had sent to the senate on December 17 last.

Mr. Foraker maintained from the beginning that all he had contended for was the fact that the president had acted while he was far from being an advocate of the president, he yet believed the language proposed in the Foraker resolution was an injustice to the president.

Mr. Bacon wanted an opportunity to vote directly on the question, whether the president had the legal power to discharge the negro troops and not on the question of tabling the resolution. He spoke of the affray at Brownsville as "an unspeakable outrage."

A roll call was then taken on Mr. Foraker's motion to lay the Mallory substitute on the table. This motion prevailed 43 to 22.

Messrs. McCumber, Warner and LaFollette voted with the democrats and Messrs. Teller and Tillman with the republicans.

Other Substitutes Tabled. Mr. McCumber, criticizing the language of the Foraker resolution offered a substitute in which neither the legality or the justice of the president's action was brought into question. It was, he said, simply an authorization for an investigation.

Mr. Foraker at once moved to lay the substitute on the table. Before this was done he asked Mr. Heyburn briefly explained his opposition to any expression regarding the president's authority.

INTENDED AS FUNNY

His majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs that his majesty's government is conducting official inquiries to be made as to the authenticity of a letter which appeared in the public press this morning and purporting to be written by the governor of Jamaica and addressed to Admiral Blandford, commanding the British States squadron lately in Jamaica waters.

Sir Edward Grey desires me to say that, while he is so far from being satisfied only for information with regard to this incident, he deeply regrets, if the published text proves correct, that he should have addressed such a letter to the gallant admiral who had rendered valuable assistance to British subjects at the time of great suffering and distress, and that he is certain the feeling of regret is shared by everyone in Great Britain.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, your most obedient humble servant. (Signed) ESSME HOWARD.

Through the wireless telegraph station at Key West Admiral Blandford reports the arrival at Guantanamo today of the supply ship Celtic. The vessel left Kingston Sunday upon the arrival at that port of the British cruiser Indefatigable. The commander of the Celtic reports that Plum Light, at the entrance to the harbor of Kingston, by reason of the earthquake, is no longer to be relied upon as a safe aid to navigation.

British Officials Condemned. NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—American refugees from Kingston, Jamaica, arriving here today on board the steamer Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which sailed from the stricken city on Thursday afternoon last, the third day after the earthquake, were unanimous in condemning what they termed the "inactivity and utter inefficiency" of the English authorities on the island during the first days following the disaster.

For three days, they said, there was no semblance of order and nothing definite done in the matter of relieving the suffering of many of the wounded.

It was asserted that men and women sought shelter on board the British steamship Port Kingston, which was chartered for Sir Alfred Jones' party from England, were put ashore and that the plea of the American refugees that the women of their party be allowed at least the privilege of stepping on the open decks of Port Kingston was refused "with great

Heart of the Tree

Is Cut into Small Blocks

This is the method pursued by a prominent physician in his process of obtaining what is known to druggists and doctors as Concentrated Oil of Pine.

After the heart of the tree has been sawed into small blocks the vital juices are extracted by hydraulic pressure, and yield this wonderful curative oil of which a great deal has recently been written. It has proven a most certain remedy for lumbago and uric rheumatism. It also makes a splendid salve to be applied externally by mixing it with vasoline. But for the quick cure of coughs and colds it has no equal.

For this purpose one-half ounce of the Concentrated Oil of Pine is mixed with two ounces of glycerine and half pint of good whiskey. Must be well shaken and used in tablespoon doses every four hours.

It should be borne in mind that the real Concentrated Oil of Pine comes in small half-ounce bottles, each enclosed in a round screw-top case and sealed. The case is intended to protect the contents from the atmospheric changes. There are various cheap preparations called oil of pine put in wooden boxes also sold in bulk but owing to their impurities usually produce vomiting and kidney disorders. The Concentrated Oil of Pine is produced in the prescription department of every druggist.

NEW TRANSPORTATION RULING

Men Employed on Newspaper Trains Must Pay Fare.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—The Interstate Commerce Commission in an opinion by Commissioner Harland holds that men employed by newspapers on newspaper trains on special trains may not lawfully be granted transportation. The decision follows:

Where Congress has expressly enumerated the special newspaper trains which may be exempted and excepted from the operation of general provisions in a law, it is interested for more than 10 per cent of the combined capital and surplus, nor will it accept bonds of companies that carry lines for more than 10 per cent of the combined capital and surplus unless the excess is reinsured in acceptable companies. A similar rule had been previously adopted by the Postoffice department.
