CIVIC FEDERATION REPLY

Answer to Chief Eiel with Board Demands Vice-pres Action.

WANTS POLICE DUTY CLEARLY DEFINED

After Squeezing Lemon Juice on Donahue, Dahlman and Commission "Executive Committee" Palslates Chief's Course.

The Civic Federation Saturday morning filed with the secretary of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners an answer to Chief Donahue's statement regarding charges filed against him by the Civic Federation. Members of the committee filing the charges say they find much that is reassuring in the chief's statement, but they insist that the commission take such action as to leave no doubt in the minds of members that the fight against Sunday closing will be continued unless the police-board and chief adhere to the policy of enforcing the law regardless of orders from the mayor.

The hearing of the charges against Chief Donahue was continued from last Wednesday afternoon to next Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Modesty of Women

Naturally makes them shrink from the delicate questions, the obnoxious examinations, and unpleasant local treatments, which some physicians consider essential in the treatment of diseases of women. Yet, if help can be had, it is better to submit to this ordeal than let the disease grow and spread. The trouble is that so often the woman undergoes all the annoyance and shame for nothing. Thousands of women who have been cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will in appreciation of the cure which dispels such troubles. There is no other medicine so sure and safe for delicate women as "Favorite Prescription." It cures debilitating drains, irregularity and female weakness. It always helps. It almost always cures. It is strictly non-alcoholic, non-secret, all its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper; contains no deleterious or habit-forming drugs, and every native medicinal root entering into its composition has the full endorsement of those most eminent in the several schools of medical practice. Some of those numerous and strongest professional endorsements of its ingredients will be found in a pamphlet wrapped around the bottle, and in a booklet mailed free on request, by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y. These professional endorsements should have far more weight than any amount of the ordinary lay, or non-professional testimonials.

The most intelligent women now-a-days fasten on knowing what they take as medicine instead of opening their mouths like a lot of young birds and gulping down whatever is offered them. "Favorite Prescription" is of known composition. It is held in confidence. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription regulates stomach, liver and bowels.

entered a plea of guilty, coupled with a promise of reformation, the whole question of fact may be submitted on the complaint and answer. But upon the question of what action the board ought to take on the plea of guilty and promise of reformation, some observations may not be out of place. The chief says in effect that he is not a lawyer, and that until he has taken legal advice, which was after he had issued his order of January 12th, he supposed it was his duty to obey the direction of the mayor even to the extent of violating the law; but that he is now advised it is not his duty to obey the mayor's orders when such "expressly or by implication, direct or permit him to violate the law." His promise to enforce the laws in the future can be kept only by a continuous ignoring of the mayor's order of January 12.

Partial Eclipse of the Moon, January 29, 1907

A Moon enters penumbra 4:46 a. m. B Moon enters shadow 6:06 a. m. C Middle of the eclipse 7:33 a. m. D Moon leaves shadow 9:10 a. m. E Moon leaves penumbra 10:29 a. m. There will be a partial eclipse of the moon next Tuesday morning, January 23. It will be partial in a double sense, first because only 71 per cent of the moon's diameter will be obscured and secondly because the moon will set for us a few minutes after the eclipse is half over. The accompanying figure will enable us to observe the eclipse scientifically. The largest circle on it is the earth's penumbra and the one next in size, concentric with it, the earth's shadow at the place where the moon will cross them. N S E W are the cardinal points. The diagram must be held in such a way that the line N S points to the north star, when a point about half way between E and N will be on top. The long straight line A B C D E F is the moon's path and the five small circles on it represent five appearances of the moon at important moments. When the moon's center is at A, at 3:36 a. m., central time, the moon enters penumbra. When it is at B, at 6:06, the moon enters shadow and a very perceptible black notch will be cut out of the brilliant full moon. Some time before that even the part of the moon nearest the shadow will be seen to be considerably darker than the part furthest away. When the moon is at C, at 7:33 a. m., it has penetrated deepest into the shadow, and then begins to go out of it again. At this time 71 per cent of the moon's diameter will be in the earth's shadow. The moon will set at 7:45 a. m., seven minutes after the middle of the eclipse. It will then present the appearance shown in the small figure marked H. The sun will rise at 7:41 and interfere much with the brilliancy of the eclipse. The next eclipse visible in Omaha will be another partial eclipse of the moon of about the same magnitude as the present one. It will occur on July 24 between 5 p. m. and midnight. WILLIAM F. RIGGE, S. J.

that that was the opinion of Mr. John P. Breen, city attorney, on file in the office of the board, and that the same opinion had been given to the governor by the attorney general? Was he without notice that the judge of the district court, who had denied a writ of mandamus commanding your honorable body to take certain specific steps for the enforcement of the law, had issued such a writ against himself, and had publicly declared that it was the duty of your honorable body to discipline any police officer who failed to do his local duty? All of these are proper questions for determination by your honorable body in deciding the degree of culpability of the chief of police in issuing the order of which we have complained.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty. Costs 17¢.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purposes. Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better. It is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system. Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion. It whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic. It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of tartar. All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey. The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit. A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets." OMAHA LOSE PRIMARY MART

July Market in Country that is Absolutely of This Nature.

CHICAGO NO LONGER COMPLETE GUIDE

In Corn and Oats Windy City Loses Prestige for Setting the Mark that Others Must Follow.

Time was when Chicago set the mark for the price of oats and corn in Omaha. The Omaha market kept the price of these commodities about 2 cents a bushel under the Chicago price, the freight from Omaha to Chicago being about that amount. The growing southern market for these grains has almost eliminated Chicago as a factor, and very frequently the farmer can actually get more cents a bushel for his grain in Omaha than he can in Chicago. Just at present the Omaha price of oats is 14 cents under Chicago. Corn is similarly affected by the southern trade. As far as wheat is concerned Minneapolis and Chicago are still influential factors in making the Omaha price.

FINGERS ARE BADLY FROZEN

Two of Them May Have to Be Amputated from Hand of Tramp.

Jene Dewald, who says he has tramped the continent from Canada to Mexico and Maine to California, went to the police station Saturday morning to secure medical treatment for a badly frozen hand. Dewald came into Omaha Friday night on a fast freight train and had ridden for miles in the chilling breezes on the brake beams under a freight car. Two of the fingers on his left hand were so badly frozen that they may have to be amputated and the rest of his hand was frozen, but not so severely as the fingers. He was treated by Police Surgeon Heine. The man said the life of the genus homo was anything but a bed of roses at this season of the year and that he became so numbed with cold during his ride to Omaha on the brake

With scores of physicians in attendance and the Creighton Medical college closed for the day in honor of the late member of the faculty whose labor in the field had ceased forever, the obituary of Dr. B. F. Crummer, who died early Thursday morning, was held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at the family residence, 2503 Dodge street, and was in charge of Rev. John Williams, rector of St. Barnabas' Episcopal church. The services were brief and simple, but impressive, the burial ritual of the Episcopal church being performed with its natural solemnity. Flowers were conspicuous by their absence, which was at the special request of Dr. Crummer, made shortly before his death.

CHECK THAT LOOKS BOGUS

Paper Found in Prisoner's Pocket Suggests Possibility of Him as Forger.

Among the personal effects of John Doran, a visitor from Germantown, Pa., who was arrested Friday night by Officer Reigleman on the charge of drunkenness, was found a check, which is believed by the police to be a forgery. It is thought Doran may prove a valuable discovery and he will be held for investigation to ascertain if anyone reports being his victim. Doran was so intoxicated Friday night he could not sign his name, but did so Saturday morning at the request of Chief Savage and his handwriting is identical with that of the check. The check is for $50 drawn on the United States National bank by W. H. Russell and payable to John Doran. The signature of the maker of the check and the payee appears to be in the same handwriting.
