PLANS FOR SCHILLER SHAFT

Park Board Appoints Committee to Select Site in Riverview.

MONUMENT WILL BE UNVEILED IN MAY

Association Having in Charge Memorial to German Poet Has Eighteen Hundred Dollars for Foundation.

The Park board held its January meeting Tuesday morning in the city hall, Commissioner Gernish being absent.

Deciding on Riverview park as a location for the Schiller monument was the principle business. A committee consisting of Members Mills, Gordon and Berryman will visit the park soon and select a site for the monument which will be unveiled next May under the auspices of the Omaha Schiller Monument association.

This association has $1,800 raised for this purpose, making the monument and base a slightly and permanent memorial to the great German poet.

The base will be of Berre granite from Vermont and the height over all will be about twenty-five feet. The monument was received here from Germany in the fall. Last May the Schiller association planted a Linden tree in Riverview park and the present plan is to place the monument near the tree.

Enlargement of Pavilion.
Bids were opened for the enlargement of the pavilion at Riverview park, the bid of H. R. Hormanson for $1,984.70 being accepted. This work contemplates adding to the present pavilion without destroying the architectural scheme. The work will be started during early spring. The band stand at Hansasom park is to be moved closer to the pavilion.

Superintendent Adams reported that the ice in the parks was well packed during January and was kept in condition for skaters.

A local taxidermist offered the board a mounted wild cat for $10, this animal being the one which died six weeks ago at Riverview park. The commissioners did not take kindly to the idea of starting a collection of dead animals. Mr. Berryman moved with much solemnity that the cat be returned to the category. The taxidermist gets the cat.

Secretary Jewett has prepared a record of the park and boulevard systems from the beginning of time in Omaha. The board will have this report published in book form within six weeks.

Anyone holding scrip issued by the Transmississippi Exposition commission of the state of Washington will find it to their advantage to communicate with C. C. Rosewater, general manager, Omaha Bee.

CONNELL IS FINED BY SUTTON

Convicted on Charge of Contempt of Court and Assessed One Hundred Dollars.

ATTORNEY WILL APPEAL CASE AT ONCE

Expected Judge to Give Him Jail Sentence and Was Ready to Go to Supreme Court Forthwith.

Judge Sutton on Tuesday afternoon imposed a fine of $100 and costs upon Attorney W. J. Connell, who has been on trial for contempt of court in the trial of a formal finding in the case pronouncing the attorney guilty on the first four of the six counts on which the information was filed. Before pronouncing sentence the court asked Mr. Connell whether he had anything to say in mitigation of the fine. He replied: "I have said all I care to say in my answer and my argument in this case."

The court room was filled with spectators. Before imposing the fine the court said it would try to lean toward leniency rather than harshness in view of the fact that Mr. Connell is an old resident of Omaha and has never before been cited for contempt. "Mr. Connell will remain in the constructive custody of the sheriff," said the court.

Connell Expected Jail.
Attorney W. J. Connell yesterday had the legal machinery all ready to spring in case Judge Sutton sentenced him to jail at the close of the contempt case. He was ready for a retrial of his procedure in the contempt case, where Judge Sutton sentenced the members of the council to thirty days in jail. Had the court imposed a jail sentence on Mr. Connell a man would have been in the supreme court at Lincoln within two hours. The check payable to the clerk of the supreme court for the supersedeas bond was signed by Mr. Connell before the sentence was pronounced and all the legal papers necessary were written so far as possible.

Mr. Connell's firm conviction that the court intended to send him to jail and not to the clerk of the supreme court for the supersedeas bond was signed by Mr. Connell before the sentence was pronounced and all the legal papers necessary were written so far as possible.

No Taint of Malice.
"There is not the slightest taint of malice in the trial of Mr. Connell for contempt. It is the court's sole object to see that order is preserved in the court and that the dignity of the court is preserved. I do not believe Mr. Connell knows how disagreeable his conduct is when he is in the heat of argument in a case. Once during the trial he overstepped the bounds, but on that occasion the court accepted his apology. Even now, at this stage of the trial, the court would accept an apology for what happened on Tuesday evening, if he thought that Mr. Connell would conduct himself more seemly in the court in the future."

The defendant would have had the right to take three days to file a motion for a new trial. He did not take advantage of this, however, and the formal motions preliminary to getting the case to the supreme court were made yesterday and overruled.

Mr. Connell stated yesterday that he expects to have the case in the supreme court by the end of this week. He will then try to have it moved ahead on the docket, so he will secure a retrial within the shortest possible time.

The proceedings in this case will not interfere with Mr. Connell's action as counsel in the "Coal trust" cases still to be tried.

MRS. LILLIE AGAIN IN COURT

Suit for Life Insurance of Husband is Transferred from Butler County.

The case of Mrs. Lena Margaret Lillie against the Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur has been transferred to the United States circuit court from the district court of Butler county.

Mrs. Lillie states in her petition her husband held two benefit certificates in the Tribe of Ben Hur at the time of his death, October 24, 1905. One of these was for $1,500, in which she was named as the joint beneficiary with Mary E. Lillie. On March 7, 1906, Mary E. Lillie was paid $750 as her part of the certificate, but the other $750, of which the plaintiff was the beneficiary, has never been paid. January 23, 1907, Harvey Lillie took out another certificate in the Ben Hur order for $1,500, of which Mrs. Lena Margaret Lillie says she was the sole beneficiary. All the payments, assessments, dues and fees upon this certificate were promptly paid up to the time of the death of Mr. Lillie, the petition states, but payment on this benefit has also been refused by the Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur. Mrs. Lillie now brings suit against the Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur for the amount alleged to be due her on both certificates, $2,250, with interest from February 28, 1906, at 7 per cent.

Mrs. Lillie was recently pardoned from the Nebraska penitentiary by Governor Mickey, where she was serving a life sentence on the charge of causing the death of her husband.

WAREHOUSE FOR HAYDEN BROS.

New Home for Wholesale Dry Goods Department is Under Consideration.

Hayden Bros. are contemplating the erection of a home for their new wholesale dry goods department and are thinking seriously of building it on the site of their old warehouse at the southeast corner of Tenth and Dodge streets. They have here a three-story building on a lot 62x112 feet and own the next twenty-two feet south. The firm is contemplating the purchase of another forty-four feet, which will bring its property to the alley and give it plenty of trackage, which at present it has not. Hayden Bros. now have seven salesmen on the road and the increasing business calls for more room. It is said the plans are to be drawn this year, but the firm says the structure probably will not be erected until next year.

The foundation has been completed on the eight-story warehouse of the Standard Distilling company at Fourth and Pierce streets. This building is 132 feet long, sixty feet wide at one end and fifty feet at the other.

His huge bulk completely filled the door to the theater and awed the officials and patrons into submission until the arrival of Officer David Herald, who took the playful Goliath to the city jail. He was fined $1 and costs in police court Tuesday morning for his prank, but said it was worth the price.

ROUTE OF NEW CAR LINES

Three Extensions Are Positively Decided on by the Directors.

WILL BE CONSTRUCTED IN THE SPRING

Cuming to Leavenworth on Twenty-fourth, Cuming to Dodge on Fortieth and I Street in South Omaha.

Three new street car extensions were decided upon at a meeting of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company directors held Tuesday morning at the headquarters in Omaha and will be built in the spring.

A line will be built on Twenty-fourth street from Cuming to Leavenworth, provided the city will cut through and grade the street from Burt to California. A line was decided upon from Fortieth street from Cuming to Dodge and another line in South Omaha on I Street from Twenty-fourth to Thirty-sixth street, provided the L street viaduct is strengthened sufficiently to carry the cars.

The Twenty-fourth street line is the second cross-town line decided upon and will be a close connecting link between all southern sections of the city and the northern parts. The line is now being built on Twenty-fourth street from Vinton street to Leavenworth street and these cars probably will be run right from South Omaha to Twenty-fourth and Ames avenues, making a direct line from the Sarpy county line to Florence.

BLANKET THIEF IS FINED

Man Who Makes Life Miserable for A. E. Cooper Caught and Pleads Guilty.

A. E. Cooper, 816 North Twenty-first street, feed dealer, got even with one member of a tribe of beings who have made life miserable and expensive for him during the winter. Monday evening, for a long time Cooper has been greatly annoyed by the operations of persons who steal blankets from his wagons. As he alighted from one of his wagons Monday evening he saw three men approach, and one of them grabbed the blanket from the seat and ran for the alley. Cooper gave hot chase and succeeded in capturing the one with the blanket. He held the fellow for the police. At the station the thief gave his name as Patrick Carroll, living at 920 North Sixteenth street.

The prisoner pleaded guilty in police court Tuesday morning to the charge of petit larceny, although Cooper did not appear against him, and was fined $10 and costs. Carroll said he had worked as a teamster for the Expressman's Delivery company until he sprained his ankle about a month ago and that he thought the blankets were of no value and intended to sell them to a junk dealer.

Ten years ago the amount of money deposited in its various banks was $5,000,000; in the year just past, it amounted to $45,000,000—making an average of $93 for each man, woman and child in the State.
