

SOCIETY CLOSES SEASON

Brief Interval Before Enforced Calm Planned Full for Fashionable Set.

ONE MORE WEEK BEFORE LENT

Valentine Day and Washington's Birthday Come Too Late in Month to Contribute Full Possibilities.

The Debutante's Diary. Monday saw my real debut, Tuesday had a tea; Wednesday a dinner dance, Stayed from ten till three.

Thursday motored out to lunch, Then a matinee; Dinner and theatricals— Fearfully trying day.

Friday met a charming man, Knew he would propose; Accepted him and spent the day Buying wedding clothes.

Saturday we two eloped, Married on the way; He turned out to be a brute— Thought that I should die.

Sunday saw me home again, Mother mad, of course, But by evening I was free, Absolute divorce—The Bud.

Monday—Mrs. Lee Kennard, bridge for Mrs. Paul Werner; Mrs. W. P. Mikesell, bridge club; Mrs. John Baldwin, Monday bridge club; The Qui Vive club, dance at Chambers; Miss Henrietta Rees, handkerchief shower for Miss Elsie Welsh; Mrs. Frances Lightbridge, Capitol Hill Dancing club, dance at Chambers; Temple Israel Brotherhood, luncheon for members club meets with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Arthur.

Tuesday—Tuesday morning musicale at the home of Mrs. E. A. Cudahy; Miss Faith Potter, dance for Miss Harris; Miss Ethel Conant, card party for Miss Mae Welsh.

Wednesday—Mrs. Paul Werner, "at home"; Kountze Place Luncheon club, Miss Katherine Hamlin; Miss Ethel Tukey, bridge for Miss Mae McMenemy; Mrs. Arthur Gulou and Mrs. E. S. Gill, bridge party.

Thursday—Orchard Hill Card club, Mr. and Mrs. H. Fricke; Mrs. E. F. Kloke, bridge luncheon for Mrs. C. Davis; Mrs. Paul Patton, Kensington for Mrs. F. M. Findley; Mrs. Arthur Gulou and Mrs. E. S. Cowgill, bridge party at home of Mrs. Gulou; Mrs. H. W. Yates and Mrs. Rena Morgan, a luncheon at Hillside.

Friday—Captain Wildman, dinner at Omaha club for his ushers; Mrs. David Baum, luncheon; Miss Isabelle French, evening bridge.

Saturday—Stewart-Wildman wedding, Council Bluffs; Mabel Allison, card party for Miss Mae Welsh.

One more week and then— A very short mid-winter season now remains for the social world. Plans for gayety must now find culmination, for if not they will encounter the Lenten season and the unbroken law of no entertaining for six weeks. "Calls are simply out of the question," sighed one of this year's popular debutantes. "I was never more rushed in my life with engagements."

Unpopular, indeed, would be the debutante, matron, belle or bride who cannot command a list of no less than bridge luncheons, dinners, skating parties and theater, as they are decidedly numerous. "It is the informal doings that keep us up late nights and fairly give us nervous prostration, but they are so much more fun," added another charming bud. "Skating seems to be the favorite diversion at present, and many parties are being scheduled for its vigorous charms. Every bright-minded luncheon being enjoys a pick-up lunch, and it is this love of informality stronger than ever this winter that makes the Sunday night tea such a joyous meal, and it is almost an established custom among the fashionables to have at least one or two friends in informally.

It seems strange how time and custom revolutionize society. "Things were not like this when mother was a girl" has often been quoted to the twentieth century girl. Sunday was then considered the day for the family reunions and worship, and many other restrictions reigned which are enviable as ancient history, but if our esteemed ancestors stepped into these giddy times and failed to compete they would generally be treated as invalids with an incurable disease. Speaking of calls, that is one thing in which Omaha's smart set are very lax and one in which they should be more than particular—to calls of common courtesy, duty calls, calls of condolence and of congratulations. For the woman of few social obligations there is absolutely no excuse for ignoring the few rules to be observed in calling, and even the woman with a mad round of entertainments is not exempt. New Year's resolutions are all very well, but are more effective in realization than theory.

Valentine day and Washington's birthday, that usually afford such acceptable variations in the way of decorations and entertainment, come a little bit too late this year to help society, as they fall during Lent, when many of their most delightful possibilities will be forbidden.

Pleasures Past. The dinner bridge club met Friday evening with Mrs. Isaac Cole, when those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remington, Judge and Mrs. W. A. Redick, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Budge, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hull and Mr. and Mrs. Cole.

The N. N. club held its meeting Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. E. Ahlquist, 5812 Florence boulevard. Prizes were won by Mrs. Strand and Mrs. Neely. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Frank Carney, 1324 North Seventeenth street, on Valentine day.

Miss Bessie Brady was hostess this week at the meeting of the Friday bridge club, the young women present being Miss Helen Davis as guest of the club, Miss Ella May Jackson, Mrs. E. S. Westbrook, Mrs. Ben Cotton, Mrs. W. T. Burns, Mrs. Sam Burns Jr., Mrs. John L. Kennedy and Miss Brady.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Watties gave a delightful dinner Friday evening, the table being tastefully decorated with white lilacs and yellow jonquils. The place cards were white with the hostess' monogram done in gold. Covers were laid for twelve. Following dinner the evening was spent at the ever alluring game of bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Hebron entertained the North Side Whist club Monday evening, January 28, at their residence, 2115 Jackson street. The prizes were won by Mrs. G. N. Furker and Mr. West. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. King, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chumbley, Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Penick, Miss West, Miss Nelson, Miss Minnie Gutschire, Mr. Dunbar, Mr. Owen Van Housen and Mr. West.

Mrs. Joseph Barker was hostess Saturday at a bridge luncheon given in honor of Mrs. Clarke Powell and Miss Helen Davis. Her guests were Mrs. Clarke Powell, Miss Helen Davis, Miss Mona Kioke, Miss Marie Coffman, Miss Jeannie Brown, Miss Bessie Eddy, Miss Marion Chubb, Miss Hester Clark, Miss Genevieve Baldwin, Miss Marion Johnson, Miss Mildred Lomax, Miss Isabel French, Miss Louise Peck, Miss Marlon Hughes, Miss Phoebe Smith, Miss Faith Potter, Miss Mary Lee McNamee, Miss Lloyd of Butte, Mont., and Mrs. Robert Bell.

The annual birthday party of the Visiting Nurses, which is always conspicuous as one of the largest affairs of the year, was a brilliant success Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Joseph Metcalf opened her spacious home at 1234 South Tenth for the formal reception from 2 until 5. Mrs. Metcalf's artistic home was never prettier than on this occasion, when every room was a bower of blooms. Red roses and red carnations predominated in the flowers and quantities of palms were placed in every corner. The officers and directors of the association composed the reception committee. Preceding a musical program which was given, the guests were delightfully entertained by a variety of numbers played by an imported music box.

The musical numbers were given by Miss Mae Weaver, Miss Laura Goetz, Miss Estelle Brown, Mrs. J. M. Metcalf and Mrs. T. J. Mahoney. The accompanists were Mrs. L. H. Crofoot, Mrs. H. P. Whitmore and Miss Peterson. About 300 guests were received during the afternoon.

A notable event of Friday was the progressive dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Werner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kennard and Miss Ruth Dahlman, whose engagement to Mr. Austin Collett was announced a short time ago. Six tables seated the guests which were elaborately decorated with red and white flowers and apparatus for the dinner reflected a pretty light. Dinner was followed by a game of hearts at which the prizes were won by Mrs. Col Campbell and Mr. Gaylord Martin. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kennard, Miss Ruth Dahlman and Mr. Austin Collett, Mr. and Mrs. Col Campbell, Lucille Palmer, Washington, and Arthur Scribner, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Buck, Miss Laura Dale and Gaylord Martin, Mr. and Mrs. George West, Miss Ruth Moorhead and Richard Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Werner, Miss Marion Connell and Paul Beaton, Miss Mitchell of Council Bluffs, Miss Lorraine Comstock, Mr. Duval of Council Bluffs, Frank Pollard.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Noble made Dr. and Mrs. Palmer Findley and Miss Findley honor guests at a novel and most enjoyable party Friday evening. Progressive conversation was the feature of the evening. The house was attractive with red roses, carnations and red candles. The assisting women were: Mesdames Charles Belden, Charles Williamson, Frank Carpenter, George Ryan, George Lehnhoff, Maurice Hussie, I. W. Carpenter, J. H. Dumont, Misses Ryan, Curry, Dunton and White, and besides these, were present: Mr. Arthur Lockwood, Mr. Belden, Mr. and Mrs. Nezele, Miss Rhoades, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hussie, Mrs. Flaherty, Mrs. Mary Conrad Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Waterhouse, Dr. and Mrs. George Bicknell, Dr. and Mrs. Palmer Findley, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. George Lehnhoff, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Findley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Curry, Miss Curry, Mr. and Mrs. George Ryan, Miss Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Carpenter, Miss Carpenter, Mr. Carpenter, Dr. and Mrs. Schalek, Mr. and Mrs. Sype, Mr. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patton, Dr. Holinger, Mr. Dumont, Mr. and Mrs. Towle, Dr. N. B. Heaney, Mr. and Mrs. Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmelee of Plattsmouth, Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Schindel, Mrs. William Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. Caughey and Mrs. Grace Pennell of South Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Whitney and Miss Mamie Findley of Atlantic, Ia.

Cowgill will entertain at cards Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at the home of Mrs. Gulou. The women's auxiliary of the W. T. P. S. will entertain at cards Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. W. Kendall. Captain Wildman will give a dinner at the Omaha club Friday evening for the men who will serve as ushers and groomsmen at his wedding Saturday. Miss Mabel Allison will entertain at cards Saturday in compliment to Miss Mae Welsh, whose marriage to Mr. Paul Burley will take place February fourteenth.

Water Main Breaks. A large water main at the corner of Fourteenth and Jackson streets broke late Saturday afternoon and flooded the vicinity for several blocks. A street sewer of the entire width of the street flowed eastward to Thirteenth street and then south to Fifteenth street. The break was repaired by employees of the water company. When the main broke several yards of pavement were forced upward as if by the force of an earthquake.

Divided on Baxter Mining Stock. A 10 per cent monthly dividend has been declared and paid to the fortunate owners of Baxter Mining company stock. This dividend, we are informed, will be regularly paid on the first of each month. Owners of this stock are to be congratulated. The property of this company lies in the new wonderful lead and zinc district known as the Baxter Springs camp. The officers are E. T. McCreedy, president, and W. W. Bailey, secretary and treasurer. A number of other Omaha citizens are interested.

WEDDINGS AND ENGAGEMENTS. Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kloke have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mona Marion Kioke, to Louis Samuel Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rehfeld have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Hattie Rehfeld, to Nathan Mantel. They will be at home to their friends Sunday, February 19. Announcement has recently been made of the engagement of Miss Margie W. Prince, formerly of Omaha, to John W. Riley of Brunswick, Me., the wedding to take place in the fall.

Cards were issued last week for the marriage of Paul B. Burley and Miss Mae Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Welsh, which will take place Thursday, February 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welsh on Dewey avenue. A pretty home wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Norwall, 804 Bancroft boulevard, when their daughter, Miss Henrietta Granbeck, was given in marriage to Harry Rasmussen. Rev. Mr. Hunsdon of Kountze church officiated. The bride, a beautiful, tall brunette, entered with her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Caroline Nielsen. The ceremony was performed in the west parlor, beneath a huge bell of pink and white carnations. George Rasmussen, brother of the groom, was best man and Anna Granbeck attended the bride. A wedding supper was served to fifty guests and immediate friends of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen will reside at 1112 South Eighteenth, where they will be at home after March 1.

SCHURMAN AT OMAHA CLUB. President of Cornell Will Be Guest of Dinner on Washington's Birthday. President J. G. Schurman of Cornell university is to be the guest of honor at the Washington birthday dinner of the Omaha club Friday evening, February 22, and will be the principal speaker of the evening. He is to be the guest of the Omaha club and the Omaha Cornell alumni during his visit to Omaha. He will reach Omaha February 21 and in the evening he will meet the Omaha Cornellians at a smoker at the Omaha club. A committee from the Omaha alumni of the Cornell university will cooperate with the Omaha club in preparing for the birthday dinner. Mr. Schurman will not visit the University of Nebraska on this trip as has been his custom on former occasions, as time will not permit. Immediately after the birthday dinner Mr. Schurman will leave for Chicago where he will be the guest of the Chicago Cornell Alumni association.

SCORES OF FRIENDS MOURN Large Number of People at the Funeral of Charles C. HUNGATE. One of the largest funerals in point of attendance held in Omaha for some time was that of Charles C. Hungate, secretary and general superintendent of the Omaha Ice and Cold Storage company, who was killed Wednesday afternoon by being caught in the hoisting machinery at the plant at Cut-Off lake. The funeral was held Saturday at 2 p. m. at Knox Presbyterian church, Nineteenth and Ohio streets. The floral tributes were numerous and were banked around the casket of the deceased. The music was in charge of Walter Wilkins of Trinity cathedral and consisted of several favorite hymns of Mr. Hungate. The pastor of the church, Rev. M. V. Higbee, had charge of the ceremonies at the church, as well as conducting brief services at the family residence, 203 North Twentieth street, before the body was taken to the church. In his address at the church Rev. Mr. Higbee referred to the universal esteem in which Mr. Hungate was held by his friends and business associates and of the loss sustained by the community in general by his untimely death.

At the conclusion of the services at the church the body was taken to Forest Lawn cemetery and was there laid to rest after fitting services. The pallbearers were: H. B. Noyes, Charles Hopper, George B. Haynes, who had come out from Chicago; Oliver Anshelmy, Ernest Hole, W. R. McFarland and Bryce Crawford. Mr. Hungate is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Perle Oehlert of this city, two children, a boy and a girl; his father, J. H. Hungate, five sisters and a brother. Four sisters, Mrs. Robert White, Mrs. Zenas M. Forcett and Misses Anna and Bessie Hungate are residents of Omaha. Mrs. Homer Ashbaugh, a sister, who resides at Kansas City, and a brother, Richard C. Hungate of Chicago, were in attendance at the funeral.

Among those who were in attendance from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. House of Blair, uncle of Mr. Hungate; Mr. Wallace Cook of Hastings, also an uncle; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wallace of Villisca, Ia., uncle and aunt of Mrs. Hungate; Mr. and Mrs. George B. Haynes of Chicago and Mr. Ernest Coy of Paxton, Neb.

After the funeral Mrs. Hungate had the flowers sent to the hospitals of the city, except one bouquet, which she sent to the widow of Samuel Thomas who was killed in a motor car accident on Thursday morning.
