> SIX MONTHS AT HARD LABOR This and Fifty Dollars Fine for Youth Who Helps to Rob

Postoffice.

J. Floyd Langdon, a youth of 20 years, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Munger in the United States district court Monday morning to being a participant in the robbery of the postoffice at Seneca about a year ago. The maximum penalty is a fine of $1,000 and five years imprisonment at hard labor. Judge Munger deferred passing sentence until late Monday afternoon in order that the question of a minimum sentence could be looked into and finally fixed the sen

The amount of plunder obtained was trivial, including $1.14 in postage stamps. Langdon was arrested, escaped from the ustody of the sheriff, was again appreended in Pleasanton, Kan., brought back to Nebraska and lodged in the Douglas sounty jail, where he has since been confined. His father came to Omaha Saturday and after a consultation with the boy per suaded him to enter a plea of guilty anthrow himself on the mercy of the court. It was shown in the hearing before the grand jury which indicted young Langdon that this was his first offense, and the court is disposed to deal with the lad
