

Omega Oil

For Sprains and Bruises

For Sprains, Bruises, Strains, Swellings and all other bodily aches and pains, Omega Oil will be found invaluable.

It's an unusual liniment. It is antiseptic and healing in its action. It subdues inflammation and soothes and comforts any pain you may apply it to. You don't have to buy bottle after bottle to get relief. Usually a 10c. bottle is all you need. It has time and again proved a blessing to those whose pains are hard to bear.

The principal ingredient in Omega Oil is a pure vegetable oil, which does not evaporate like the turpentine and ammonia so largely used in other liniments.

Omega Oil comes in mighty handy for the many little aches and pains that most people suffer from occasionally.

Three Sizes 10c., 25c., 50c.

PURITY OF THE SYSTEM

Is the Secret of COMPLETE HEALTH.

Doesn't it stand to reason, that for perfect health, the human system must be kept pure and clean, inside as well as outside? Then take Cascarets, the world-famous Bowel Medicine and system-cleaners, that will help you KEEP CLEAN INSIDE.

The body of man is the most perfect and delicate mechanism in existence, and the least OBSTRUCTION or accumulation of filth in any part of it, will make it hobble, move IRREGULARLY and SPASMODICALLY, and if not attended to promptly may stop the machine altogether.

Isn't that plain common sense to any person that has had any experience with machinery of human invention, from the sewing machine to the triple-expansion engine? All the parts, joints, connections, gears, must be kept absolutely pure and clean to get the best results. A careless, untidy engineer is a failure and will lose his job.

Nature has been kind to us by handing over to us to be occupied during our earthly existence, an almost automatic, elastic mechanism, that will run itself off properly cared for. All that she asks, is that the body be supplied with "Pure Food" fuel of the right kind, applied in the right way,—that a lubricant be furnished for the joints, muscles, nerves through the marvelous distributing and collecting system of arteries and veins,—and that all parts of the engine be used for the purposes intended without undue strain.

But, when little mistakes are made in eating and drinking, with perhaps excessive exertion, there is a liability of a stoppage in the natural cleansing process, and you are liable to become UNCLEAN INSIDE.

That means obstruction, stoppage of the normal functions, fermentation, poisoning of the blood by your own decaying sewage, and a liability of the development of any of hundreds of serious diseases.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic are fragrant, sweet, mild but effective little tablets that were first compounded from pure, harmless, vegetable substances, under a Pure Drug of their own, in 1896. These tablets proved to be the greatest lubricators for the bowels ever discovered, and at the same time a destroyer of disease germs in the whole alimentary (food) canal.

They have now a sale of over a million boxes a month. They are a pure, reliable, means of keeping the system clean, preventing all diseases arising from accumulations in Constipation, and also relieving and aiding the cure of chronic conditions after they have developed from neglect.

Begin today to watch your conditions, be careful of your food and general methods of living and learn to take precaution of "Keeping Clean Inside" with Cascarets. Buy a little 10c. box from your own druggist TODAY, be convinced and join our MILLIONS OF FRIENDS. Be sure to "Get What You Ask For"—the Genuine, every tablet stamped "C. C. C."

FORMER CONSUL ON WAR TALK

General Bragg Says There is No Danger from Japan.

PRESIDENT HEARS FROM LOS ANGELES

Southern California Chamber of Commerce Says There is No Desire to Discriminate Against Japanese Children.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 6.—An Evening Wisconsin special from Fond du Lac, Wis., says that General William S. Bragg, former United States consul at Hong Kong, today said that there was no danger of a war between the United States and Japan. He said:

"A more insinuating, swell-headed class of people than the Japanese are at present would be hard to find. This is due largely to their recent victory over the Russians. While a break between Japan and the United States may come in time, the danger is not imminent. The Japanese have a heavy war debt to pay off, and although it has been in their contemplation to put a large army in the field, they have no visible resources to draw from.

The recent boycott of American goods in China was caused largely by the Japanese. The Japanese merchants certainly discovered that they could buy American goods in such large quantities that they could compete with American merchants.

The recent troubles in San Francisco over the Japanese school question, General Bragg said, should be settled by the state of California.

"I have always been opposed to an exclusion law," said he, "but in an event like this I am of the opinion that an effort on the part of the United States as a nation to interfere would be violating the constitution."

President Hears from Coast.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The president today received a telegraphic copy of the resolution adopted yesterday by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on the Japanese school question, which expresses the belief that the public sentiment of California, especially of the southern part, on the question of the exclusion of the Japanese from the public school system of the state has been to some extent misrepresented and is largely misunderstood. The sentiment is expressed that upon one main question, whatever may be the diversity of opinion upon the constitutional and legal phases, the board is assured that "the general trend of public opinion in southern California is decidedly adverse to any discrimination against the Japanese as a people in matters of public school privileges and they believe that this opinion is based upon consideration of equity and justice and is held altogether independently of any attitude which the Japanese government has assumed or may assume in regard to the question."

Karino Denies Report. The Japanese minister, today formally denied the report that Japan had presented an ultimatum to the United States on the San Francisco school matter. The minister declared Japan was satisfied with the attitude of the United States government and was satisfied that the whole question would be amicably settled.

Paris, Feb. 6.—M. Kuruy, the Japanese minister, today formally denied the report that Japan had presented an ultimatum to the United States on the San Francisco school matter. The minister declared Japan was satisfied with the attitude of the United States government and was satisfied that the whole question would be amicably settled.

NEW TACK IN THAW DEFENSE

Evidence Introduced to Show That White Threatened to Kill Prisoner.

DELMAS TAKES CHARGE OF THE CASE

District Attorney Jerome Finds in the San Francisco Man a Foreman Worthy of His Best Efforts.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The defense of Harry K. Thaw, under the direction of Attorney Delmas M. Delmas of California, began to assume definite shape today. When court adjourned testimony had been placed before the jury to the effect that Stanford White had been heard to make a threat to kill the defendant, coupling the threat with the display of a revolver; that Thaw's action following the killing of White on the roof of Madison Square garden was considered by several eye witnesses to be "irrational"; that an uncle of the defendant was insane; that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw passed a note to her husband during dinner at the Cafe Martin the evening of the tragedy; that District Attorney Jerome has this note and refused, on demand of the defense, to introduce it in evidence.

At the close of today's proceedings it was announced by Mr. Delmas that either the wife or the mother of the defendant would be the first witness tomorrow morning. The alleged threat against Thaw's life was made two years and a half before the tragedy occurred. District Attorney Jerome objected to the evidence, claiming the defense was not understood by him to be one of self-defense.

Mr. Delmas replied that the defense intended to take advantage of every legal defense allowed in the state of New York, be it insanity, self-defense or any other legitimate justification of the taking of a human life.

This was but the first of a series of interesting tilts between the district attorney and Mr. Delmas during the day, and it was agreed that Mr. Jerome had found in Thaw's leading counsel a foreman worthy of his best efforts. The men are of widely different types. Mr. Jerome is a stout, portly, sarcastic and brilliant at ridicule; Mr. Delmas, calm, courteous, resourceful, witty, crafty and ethical, to whom the district attorney was always "the learned district attorney." There was never a deviation from this method of address.

White Threatens to Kill Thaw.

Benjamin Boman, formerly a stage doorman at the Madison Square theater, was the witness who told of White's threats. Boman was offered as a witness yesterday, but the district attorney was successful at that time in blocking the evidence by objections.

Boman declared that on Christmas eve, 1904, Stanford White called at his stage door about 11:15 p. m. and asked for Miss Nesbit. The doorman told him the actress, who was then playing in "The Girl from Dixie," had gone home. White at first accused him of a falsehood, and then asked who had been her escort.

"Mr. Thaw," he said, "is the actress's architect, who, to make sure the actress had gone to her dressing room on the stage. Not finding her there, White, according to Boman, walked rapidly out of the theater, with a revolver in his hand and muttering, 'I'll kill that fellow if he comes before daylight.'"

The witness said he believed the threat to be directed against Harry Thaw and told him of it several days later, when they chanced to meet on Fifth avenue. He also told a detective sergeant about the incident during that period. The witness denied having been paid or promised any money by Thaw or his attorneys.

Jerome Refuses to Produce Note. Thomas McCaleb, the Californian, who was with Thaw's party the night of the tragedy, testified that at that evening Mr. Thaw had suddenly produced a note and passed a folded piece of paper to him. What was in this note the witness did not know, and he was not allowed, because of an objection by the district attorney, to testify to the contents of the paper, if any, it produced in Thaw. It was in this note that young Mrs. Thaw, referring to White, wrote to her husband: "That (blackguard) is here."

"We understand," said Mr. Delmas, "that this note is now in the possession of the learned district attorney. We want to get at the contents of that slip of paper, believing it to be material evidence. We demand that the learned district attorney produce it."

Mr. Jerome sat silent. There was absolute and dramatic stillness in the court room and Mr. Delmas stood waiting and all eyes were turned on the district attorney. After waiting some time, Mr. Delmas resumed:

"I take it that the silence of the learned district attorney is not intended as a discourtesy, but a conception of what he feels to be his duty in this matter. We will attempt later to prove the contents of the note."

McCaleb detailed, so far as he could, the incidents of the night of the tragedy. He was leaving the roof garden with Mrs. Thaw and thought Harry was following, when the three pistol shots were heard. Mrs. Thaw exclaimed: "My God, he's shot," and then, "Oh, Harry, what have you done, and why did you do it?" Thaw replied: "I have saved your life," and kissed her.

On cross-examination Mr. McCaleb said he knew Thaw some years ago in Paris and subsequently in California.

"Did you ever try to borrow any money from him?" demanded the district attorney. "Never," the witness replied.

Court Caustions Witnesses. It came out during the red-hot examination that Mr. McCaleb had met Mr. Jerome some months ago and discussed the case with him. The witness answered a question to which the district attorney had taken exception and in which he had been upheld by the court. "Why did you do that?" demanded Jerome. "I call the court's attention to this man, this literary person coming here and answering questions to which there is objection. It is indecent."

Mr. Delmas said it was unfortunate to a man to have to testify in such a case, but he thought the witness was entitled to courtesy. Justice Fitzgerald agreed, but admonished the witness to be more careful.

"You say you met me at the Union club," said Jerome to the witness. "Now how many drinks has you had that night?" "I don't know; I had one with you," came the reply, and it was some time before the balliffs could restore order. The court room was crowded at the time, many gaily dressed women having been admitted during the luncheon recess.

Thaw's Uncle Was Insane. Dr. John E. Decker was recalled today and testified that Henry W. Copley, the defendant's uncle on the maternal side, had been insane.

Mr. Jerome had declared early in the day that he would not object to the testimony of the family provided the proper foundations were laid. When, however, Dr. Doerner started to testify as to Thaw's cousin, Mr. Jerome said he must object again. He declared it should first be shown that Harry Thaw was insane by competent evidence and it must further be proved that the character of his insanity was hereditary. Then could the corroborating testimony as to insanity in the collateral branches of the family be placed before the jury. Justice Fitzgerald sustained the objection and Mr. Delmas said he would conduct the case accordingly.

"The Editor" Takes a Stand—The astute presumption of some foreign advertisers is monumental. AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid-charged condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that quick relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. General Allen Gets Ready to Experiment with Balloons at Omaha.

HOPES TO HAVE BEST CORPS ON EARTH

Inventors Will Be Given Opportunity to Show Their Devices, but None Will Be Bought Without Trial.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Quietly, but with a determination to thoroughly satisfy himself on the subject, General Allen, chief signal officer of the army, has been making preparations for most extensive experiments with balloons, airships and aeroplanes, with the view of settling upon some system of aerial navigation for use in operations of the army, either in times of peace or war.

Recently there arrived in this country from France a type of balloon used by the French army which was purchased by the signal corps in order that its merits might be tested in competition with balloons of American make, while in New York there is being constructed an immense balloon in which it is proposed that the men of corps shall make their trial ascents.

It is the intention to conduct the experiments at Fort Omaha, just outside of Omaha, Neb., and for this purpose $50,000 of money already appropriated has been allotted for fitting up the fort with all the necessary appliances, including gas tanks, repair shops, etc.

All Machinery May Be Tested. General Allen said today that he will be prepared to conduct experiments with every conceivable kind of machine offered and all will be given a trial before a board of officers, but the department under no circumstances will purchase plans of balloons or machines not already put to practical tests.

General Allen said today that he believed this country was far ahead of any other in the matter of flying machines. Already he said, the department under no circumstances will purchase plans of balloons or machines not already put to practical tests.

It is stated that the balloon corps of the French army numbers at least 600 men, all expert aeronauts and it is expected by the department that before long the American army will have an equivalent superior to that of any other army in the world.

Just how soon the experiments will be made is not known, but General Allen proposes to lose no time in completing his plans and he hopes that before many months to have the tests under way.

COINCIDENCE IN WORLD'S SERIES.

Comiskey Wins with Browns and White Sox Twenty Years Apart. It is a fact well worth remembering and one which, in the turbulence and din of excitement over victory or defeat the fans forget to look up, that October 14, 1886, Charles A. Comiskey's famous St. Louis Browns won the championship of the world over Adrian G. Anson's famous Chicago White Sox and October 14, 1906, twenty years later Charles A. Comiskey's great Chicago White Sox won the championship of the world over the Chicago Nationals. Stopping right there that is more than any other individual has ever accomplished in base ball. But Comiskey's achievements as a championship manager do not end there. The world's pennant won last fall was the third the Old Roman had won. The great Von Ezer Ahe aggregation got it over Chicago first in 1884 and again in 1886. But that's not all. Comiskey has won seven of the league pennants, four times straight in the old American association, with the Browns, 1885, '88, '89, '90, and three times with his Chicago White Sox. The team in play October 14, 1886, for the Browns, was, according to records: Latham 2b, Gleason ss, O'Neil 1b, Comiskey 1b, Welch of Robinson 2b, Caruthers rf, Poutis of Bushong of. Four players had been alternating between the box and right field in this series. The Browns didn't have a long list of pitchers, as was the case with the two Chicago teams last fall, when Frank Chance was criticized by some people for putting Brown in "once too often." For Chicago: Dalrymple lf, Gore lf, Kelly c, Anson pitcher 2b, Williamson ss, Burns 2b, Ryan (Jimmy) rf, Clarkson p. The score was 4 to 3. Ten innings were played.

A wise man in writing in his Sunday paper a history of the old St. Louis Browns tells the world that old Bill Gleason played third base for the Browns. That will be a terrible shock after these twenty years
