H. R. 169—Providing juries in justice of the peace courts shall consist of six men chosen from a papel of eighteen. Was passed.

Among the bills reported for the general

ing introduced the following:

Be it resolved. That we the mayor and council of the city of Holdrege. Neb., hereby memorialise the state legislature in opposition to the so-called county spiton bills introduced; therein, and that in support of such opposition we urge the following reasons:

1. That such bills, while in respect to a matter of great political importance and division, are not the reflection of any majority sentiment expressed in the last election; that they were not made an open or legitimate issue in the state campaign, and that to enact the same into law at this time is not only to betray an honest trust and confidence reposed by thousands of voters throughout the state, but to give effect to the dishonest and dishonorable methods of designing or unacrupulous politicians and partisans.

2. That the manifest purpose of such bills is to give unfair advantage to one division of our citizens over another, and not an open or control of the desison, and at their request the bill was referred to the judiciary committee.

At the afternooh session the following bills were piaced on general file:

S. F. 134—By Hanna of Cherry. Allowing county treasurers $30 additional clerk hire for collection of educational land funds in counties having 100,000 acres of school lands.

2. That the manifest purpose of such bilis is to give unfair advantage to one division of our citizens over another, and not an honest reform of the present liquor laws of the state, and that the inevitable result of enactment would be to weaken and inpair such laws, by making them less effective and more difficult of enforcement, by separating political power from official, and by developing the issue of license upon a suffrage unresponsive and alien to the locality and interests involved.

3. That said bills are in derogation of the principles of home rule and municipal autonomy, and of the just, salutary and necessary rights, powers and duties of the cities, towns and villages of the state, which in the free exercise of their functions are doing more than the state itself, for any other political subdivisions thereof, to protect persons and property and personal and property rights, to preserve order, peace and health, to effect sanitation and contagions, to erect and maintain public works and buildings and make public highways and other improvements, to build up and maintain an efficient system of education, and to promote our general weifare and progress.
