LAWYER FOR DISTRICT CLERK

Such is Plan Determined on by Douglas County Bar.

GREAT SAVING POSSIBLE TO PEOPLE

Claim is Made that with Attorney There Many Lawuits Could Be Stopped Without Further Aid.

A lawyer for clerk of the district court in Douglas county. This is the object the Douglas County Bar association is aiming at and working for in a quiet way.

There is no question about the efficiency of service that would be rendered by a lawyer, said a man who is in a position to know what is being done in the matter.

The office of district clerk is, from the pecuniary standpoint, one of the richest political plums in the state. It carries a salary of $4,000 and fees add from $1,000 to $2,000 to this annually.

Frank A. Broadwell, the present incumbent, is completing his second term and the office will be open at the election of next November.

F. A. Brogan, president of the Douglas County Bar association, says the matter has not been discussed by the association.

APPROVE POLICEMEN'S BONDS

Three Fire and Police Commissioners Hold Session and Transact Routine Business.

Mayor Dahlman, J. W. Thomas and Lee Sprague met yesterday afternoon and transacted business as Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. For the most part routine matters were considered, the whole session requiring little more than half an hour.

One of the matters taken up was that of bonds for policemen, twenty of whom filed bonds taken out in the Metropolitan Mutual Bond and Surety company. These bonds are signed by R. J. Clancy, vice president, and A. R. Harvey, Mr. Clancy is assistant tax commissioner of the Union Pacific, while Mr. Harvey is clerk of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

In connection with the police bonds the Bankers Surety company presented in blanket form a bond in the sum of $50,000 to cover the police department and to be ratified by the board, but that bond was returned to the Metropolitan Mutual company.

These bonds caused something of a rumpus during the week, the allegation being that Clerk A. R. Harvey of the police board and secretary of the Metropolitan Bonding company, was using considerable effort to get the police bonding business, and that Commissioner W. J. Brostach was trying to get proxies of all policemen taking these bonds, that the proxies might be used later to further Brostach's efforts to get in as a director of the Metropolitan Mutual company.

The Metropolitan bonds were approved without particular comment, the sense of the board having been expressed at a recent meeting that the bonding business was open to any company.

The present delicate condition of the police board was in no way referred to at yesterday's meeting, unless it was a facetious remark of the mayor that the board at that time was a remarkably unanimous body.

W. J. Brostach was in Lincoln, for the purpose, it was reported, of making his peace with Governor Sheldon. Dr. George L. Miller intimated in the morning he would not attend.

The board will meet again next Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

WAR FOR GOVERNMENT BUSINESS FEARED

Omaha Officials Think Cut May Be Caused by Walver of Cost of Transport at Chicago.

BURLINGTON CUTS MAIL RATE

Rock Island Meets New Opposition in Contest for Business.

The Inter Ocean today says that in order to prevent the transcontinental mail from being transferred to the Rock Island system the Burlington railroad has notified the Postoffice department that it will cut its rates for this service about 7 per cent, equal to about $5,000 per annum.

This is the first time that a railroad has offered to cut the rate fixed by an act of congress for mail service. The Burlington's proposition caused amusement in rail way circles yesterday, in view of the bills which have been introduced in congress to lessen the pay to railroads for mail service.

The fear was expressed by officials of other railroads that the Burlington's action might lead to a rate war between the railroads for mail traffic between all competitive points, and might also be regarded by congress as the best of evidence that the price paid by the government for the transportation of the mails has been too high.

PEGG AFTER SHORT WEIGHTS

City Inspector Confiscates Some Measures Not Up to Proper Standard.

John Grant Pegg, city inspector of weights and measures, has confiscated three graduate measuring devices in local grocery stores to measure gasoline and kerosene, these measures having been found to be short one and a half pints on each gallon. Mr. Pegg has prohibited the sale of these measures in Omaha until they conform with the standard.

While making his rounds the inspector found two of these measures in the store of Lew Johnson, 1904 Cuming street, and one in C. P. Wilson's store at 305 Cuming street. These merchants said they bought the measure in good faith and were surprised to learn of the shortage.

In Mr. Pegg's office in the city hall he has sixty-four coal baskets stacked up, these baskets having been taken from the stores of M. Cohen, Sixteenth and Capitol avenue, and A. Brown, Sixteenth and Leavenworth streets.

Mr. Pegg contends that each basket holds but three pints and was represented as a bushel basket. There is an ordinance on this, but complaints have not been taken out in these instances yet.

SMALL MAN SELLS SMALL PETS

Smallest Sized Business Man in the Country Sends His Ad to The Bee.

A peculiar feature of "Live Stock for Sale" classification on the want ad page of The Bee this week is that in this classification, under the heading of "Cows, Birds, Dogs and Pets," is an advertisement from Col. Joseph Letford of Springs Field, O., advertising Shetland ponies and other small pets for sale. Col. Letford is reputed to be the smallest business man in the world, as well as one of the oldest, being only 56 inches tall, weighing 65 pounds and is 73 years old; here we have the smallest business man advertising the smallest and most valuable thing that one could think of to advertise, such as Shetland ponies, pheasants, etc.

All this simply goes to show that there is absolutely nothing that cannot be converted into money, through advertising, and there is no better medium in this western country than the want pages of The Bee.

Since announcing the change of rates, which are now so low that advertising is within the reach of everyone, ads are pouring into The Bee office from all sections of the country.

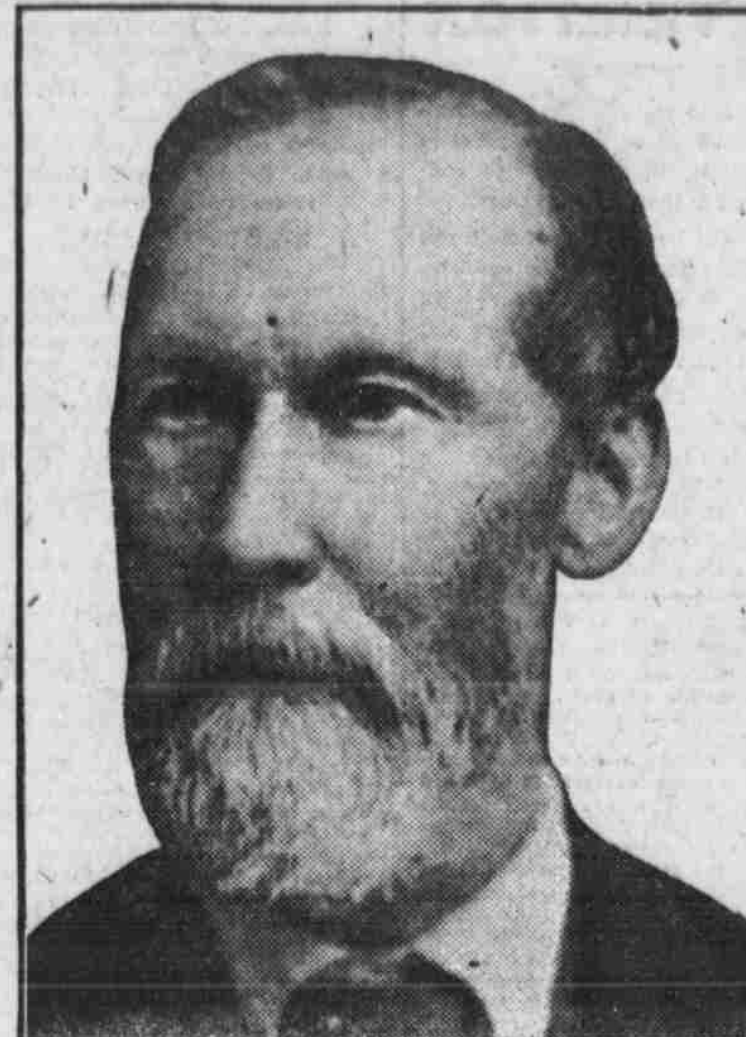

Farmer is Bound Over. Deputy Marshal Proctor returned from Holdrege Wednesday evening, where he recently arrested R. B. Howell, local agent for the Bankers Surety company. The twenty Metropolitan Mutual company's bonds were all approved.

These bonds caused something of a rumpus during the week, the allegation being that Clerk A. R. Harvey of the police board and secretary of the Metropolitan Bonding company, was using considerable effort to get the police bonding business, and that Commissioner W. J.
