BROWN PLAYS NO FAVOR

Rapidly Getting Around to All the Saloon Men in the City and County.

FILES FOURTEEN MORE INJUNCTION SUITS

Summers that Number of Saloon Men Have Put Up the Twenty-Five-Dollar Fee and Costs and Made Their Peace.

Fourteen more saloon injunction suits. This was the record yesterday for J. Brown, the mysterious stranger from Kansas, who is filling an engagement in Council Bluffs in the dual role of plaintiff and attorney for plaintiff.

The fourteen original notices of injunction filed yesterday with Sheriff Cassing by Mr. Brown are against H. A. Larson and Martin Jensen, the Manhattan saloon and restaurant; Grand Hotel company, E. W. Hart, manager; Barnhardt & Klein, West Broadway; Fred Boekemper, South Main street; F. J. Boyd, South Main street; Max Olsen, North Main street; Clausen & Poor, West Broadway; Ed Murphy, West Broadway; A. Boyesen and S. Boyesen, Sixteenth avenue and Sixth street; Alexander Dobson and Paulina Dobson, Metropolitan hotel, West Broadway; Pat Donohue, Broadway and Tenth street, and E. H. Ellinger, Broadway.

With these the number of suits started by Brown to restrain the sale of liquor in saloons and other places now amounts to fifty-eight. There are still about ten saloons in the city, besides several in the country, awaiting the attention of the crusader from Kansas.

The Iowa statute provides for an attorney fee of $5 in each and every saloon injunction case, and it was stated yesterday that some of the saloonmen on whom Brown had served notices of suit had grasped old Father Time by the forelock and hastened to settle with Attorney J. Brown on this basis, with something extra for costs thrown in. The names of the saloonmen alleged to have stepped up to the captain's desk and settled could not be learned yesterday. The attorney fees in the suits already commenced by Brown are being deducted from the $500 he advanced to hold Martin for further investigation.

Car Line Extension Promised.

That the street car line on East Pierce street will be extended on Bennett avenue as far as the Great Western tracks was the assurance given the committee of property owners on McPherson and Bennett avenues which waited on General Manager Smith of the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company.

Mr. Smith told the committee that his company would make a double track extension out McPherson avenue past the Walnut Hill St. Joseph and Jewish cemeteries, where a "Y" would be constructed for the return. Mr. Smith said that he did not believe the company would build any further than the Great Western tracks this year, but might later extend the line to the Iowa School for the Deaf by that route.

While Mr. Smith admitted that he did not favor that route for the line to the School for the Deaf, he assured the committee that the extension past the cemeteries would be carried out. The committee was much pleased with the result of its conference with Mr. Smith and expect good results from it.

Picture Men in Trouble.

A. F. Martin and J. B. Walsh, itinerant picture enlargers, stopping at a Broadway hotel, were taken into custody yesterday by the police on suspicion of having stolen a fur overcoat in Omaha. Walsh early yesterday morning called up police headquarters over the telephone and complained that his suitcase had been stolen. Shortly after he telephoned again stating that he had recovered the suitcase, having found it in possession of his partner, Martin. The police, who had in the meantime looked into the case, found that Martin had pawned a fur-lined overcoat for $2. The coat answered somewhat the description of one reported stolen in Omaha, and the police decided to arrest both Martin and Walsh. At police headquarters Walsh claimed that the coat belonged to him, although Martin had pawned it without his consent. Later in the day Walsh was released, but the police decided to hold Martin for further investigation, as he was thought to answer the description of a man wanted at Vinton, Ia.

Boy Green Again in Tolls.

Roy Green, who is accounted by the police of this city and of Omaha one of the smoothest sneak thieves in the country, is behind the bars of the city jail again. He was picked up at the request of the Omaha authorities, where it was thought the fun was over for the overcoat. It is now said that the Omaha police are not at all certain that they want him. When taken into custody Green was found to be wearing a nice new overcoat, which was identified as one of two such garments stolen from the store of the John Egan company about a week ago. Since his arrest the police have learned that Green within the last week sold another overcoat to a man in this city. Green denied stealing the overcoats, but in the light of his past record the police are inclined to believe that he did, and are holding him for investigation.

Get Out of the Old Hat

Is an expression that can be applied to housekeepers as well as to business ventures. Surprise your husbands occasionally by experimenting with new dishes. For instance, have something new in the way of puddings, known as Fruit Pudding. It is of different flavors and is easily prepared. Then we have another known as Zertu Pudding. Then there are gelatinas, jelly-cakes, jellies and tapiocas, all of which can be made in a jiffy and makeable dishes. Try your luck in the whippers or apple dumplings. We have apples that will cook for pies we have canned blueberries, pumpkins, lemons and gooseberries. For cakes we have swan-down flour, used for angel food cakes. Make out a list of some of these articles for your Sunday dinner. Bartel & Miller, Tel. 223.

House Finds Itself with Little Business Before it for Consideration.

LEGISLATORS DECLARE FOR SWIMMING HOLE

Boys at Soldiers' Orphan's Home to Take a Plunge in the Creek in the Good Old Summer Time.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The house today passed six bills and cleaned up the calendar, and Speaker Kendall again took occasion to call attention to the fact that there are over 100 bills in the hands of the committees and that when the house assembles tomorrow it will have little or nothing to do. An attempt is to be made by a large number of committees this evening to get bills out of the road and give the house business to handle.

When taken into custody Green was found to be wearing a nice new overcoat, which was identified as one of two such garments stolen from the store of the John Egan company about a week ago.

The bills passed by the house were McElrath's bill fixing a penalty for lewd and lascivious acts not otherwise provided for by the code; the Brandes bill fixing dates for regular meetings of the boards of supervisors; the judiciary committee bill amending the code relative to the time of qualifying for office; the Brandes bill allowing boards of supervisors to fix a bounty not exceeding 75 cents a head for pocket squabs.

The weeks bill making actions in manumission equitable cases; the insurance commission bill requiring fraternal insurance companies maintaining reserve funds to deposit securities with the state auditor and limiting the investment of such funds.

Ritter, in the house, introduced a bill appropriating $500 for a building and $150 for the maintenance for the School of Ceramics at the Agricultural college, a school for experimentation in clay and cement; McAllister a bill providing for the assessment of rural and farm telephone lines; Thomas L. Smoos a bill providing for the employment of railroad men; Teter a bill requiring mine operators to furnish the shot-drills; Sparks a bill prohibiting corporations operating benefit insurance companies for the benefit of their employees from withholding payment to force settlements between the company and the employee.

The hearing in justice court of Mrs. Fred West, charged with the murder of a baby born at her maternity home, opened today in the court room of Justice of the Peace Zell Roe. The bond of Mrs. West was returned and she was again ordered into custody. All persons, including newspaper men, were excluded from the court room, the witnesses were kept separate and only the one testifying admitted to the room. The hearing today developed testimony for the state showing that the baby called "Baby Jim" was born at her home, and following this the testimony of Flora Globie that the child was killed by Mrs. West giving it laudanum.

ICE CUTTERS GO ON STRIKE

Creation Fees High Prices Will Prevail Again Next Summer.

CRESTON, Ia., Feb. 8.—(Special Tele.)—Ice cutters of this city went on a strike today alleging unfair treatment by the ice company.

The men have been docked every time the machinery broke down and they were forced to idle. Little ice for home use has been put out yet, and it looks as though high prices will prevail again next year.

The ice company announces they will secure new men, but it is believed they will be unable to secure men enough to help matters much.

SIXTEEN colleges submitted gradations.

CRESTON—Colonel James Wiseman, a prominent railroad man of this city, is one of the patients of a new catarrh medicine which promises to be a very practicable article and one far superior to the old guards now in use on the roads of the country.

CRESTON—Officials at the Burlington depot in regard to the loaders who frequent the station. They have determined to prosecute anyone found abusing his privileges in the station, and from now on no one will be allowed there unless he has some good reason.

CRESTON—Marion Roach, the colored man who was declared guilty of perjury by the jury several days ago, was today sentenced by Judge Tower to three years' hard labor in the penitentiary. Attorney Higbee, for the defense, entered an application for a new trial, but this motion was overruled by the court.

CRESTON—Company K of Corning and the girls' team of Corning academy played the Tabor college boys' and girls' teams each game of basket ball at the Corning team here last night. The girls played a close, interesting game, resulting 8 to 1 in Corning's favor. The boys' game was fast from the start, but the Tabor boys were too many for the soldiers. Score: Tabor, 85; Corning, 15.

ATLANTIC—Floyd Neff of this place had leg dislocated in a game of basket ball played here with the Corning team. He fell with his leg outstretched and another player fell on him. McElroy of the Corning team also suffered a broken nose in the last few minutes of play by running into another player. The Totum basketball team of this city defeated the Corning boys by the score of 24 to 15.

CRESTON—John Reid, a farmer who lives several miles south of the city, met with an accident yesterday which nearly proved fatal. He was engaged in drawing water from an open well on his farm when he lost his footing and fell headlong into the icy water. He seized a projection on the well and supported himself for nearly half an hour until he was rescued by neighbors, who had noticed him near the well shortly before the accident took place.
