EVEREST REMAINS TRUSTEE

Judge McPherson Confirms Action of Referee Mayne.

BANKS MUST PAY INTEREST ON DEPOSITS

Court Rules that Those Who Do Not Cannot Carry the Cash of Bankrupt Concerns in His District.

Judge Smith McPherson of the United States court yesterday forwarded an order in the matter of the bankruptcy proceedings against the Union Transfer company conrming the appointment by Referee W. S. Magne of Frank F. Everest of this city ns trustee. The appointment was made by Referee Mayne after the creditors had falled to elect and the appointment was ontested by several of the creditors. A earing in the matter was held before Judge McPherson when he was in the city ast week. At the commencement of the bankruptcy proceedings Mr. Everest had been appointed receiver by Judge McPher-

Accompanying the order is a review by the court of several of the matters presented to him at the hearing. Relative to the opposition to the appointment of Mr. Everest, by some of the creditors on the grounds of his alleged close connection with the First National bank, Judge Mc-Pherson says:

with the First National bank. Judge McPherson says:

All parties before me in open court.
through their counsel, concede that Mr.
Everest passesses the qualifications that I believed him to have. But the objectors say that he ought not to act in this case because of the fact that he is a partner of a stockholder, director and vice president of a bank which, it is alleged, as a creditor of the bankrupt concern, has received unlawful preferences which should be recovered back by a trustee. And for this reason objectors say that he will not be efficient and prompt as to his duties.
In my opinion this places too low an estimate upon a man otherwise fitted for official position. An honest official is not controlled by matters of that kind. Of course, I do not know the merits, or lack of merits, of the question as to whether the bank has received these preferences or not. But I do know that the question will be investigated and be determined in the open, with the right to have the proceedings reviewed both before this court and higher courts. Therefore, the mere fear that an honest and capable man will not do his duty is not sufficient ground to require his condemnation in advance by a removal from an official position, and by the records of this court, thereby placing a stigma upon both his character and reputation. It was of but little importance whether Mr. Everset or some other suftinstance, but it becomes and is now of conwhether Mr. Eversal or some other suitable person was appointed in the first instance, but it becomes and is now of considerable importance whether he shall be removed without fault upon his part.

national banks willing to allow interest on them. On this point he says:

I fall to find any statute requiring interest on these deposits, but some time ago I reached the conclusion, and such is now the policy in this district, that deposits of any considerable amount, when likely so be left for any considerable time, must bear interest for the benefit of the creditors. Some banks have protested against this, but have been promptly informed that if they do not comply that they will not be allowed to act as such depositories, as other national banks in this district can be readily selected which will gladly pay current rates of interest on deposits.

Mrs. C. J. Christofferson, wife of a Hazel

Dell township farmer, living near Crescent, was instantly killed about noon yesterday by the accidental discharge of a shot gun in the hands of her 8-year-old son, Charlan. The boy had been playing in a store room, where he found the gun, which happened to be loaded. He took the gun out on the porch onto which the room opened and in some manner the weapon was discharged, the load passing through the kitchen window and striking the child's mother, who was working over the stove just inside the window, in the head, killing ber instantly.

Mrs. Christofferson was to have celebrated her 60th birthday anniversary today. Besides her husband and son, Charlan, she leaves a babe about a year old. Coroner Treynor was notified and after investigating the circumstances of the tragedy decided that an inquest was un-yesterday to make a declaration of sympathy with the people of Newfoundland in their troubles with the United States over the fisheries.

Premier Laurier said it was with some hesitation that he consented to make a pronouncement on the subject. The question is before the Colonial office, he said, and British diplomats are not handling the matter in a way satisfactory to Newfoundland. Bir Wilfrid briefly reviewed the fishery question and said the Newfoundland troubles might any day become those of Canada. The Canadian people therefore sympathize with the people of Newfoundland; but whatever difficulty there was to be settled, he said in conclusion, they would be settled by peaceful means and hever by the arbitrament of war.
