Pope.

ROME, Feb. 10.-Primo Levi, who was secretary to the late Premier Crispi, adds the memoirs of the late Prince Hohenlobe by publishing letters written by Cardinal Hohenlohe, a brother of the chancellor, who lived in Rome. From those letters it appears that Cardinal Hohenlohe suspected the Jesuits had tried to polson him because he was too liberal in endeavoring through his intimacy among leading statesmen, chiefly with Crispl, to bring about an understanding between the vatican and the spoken of owing to friction over the monument to Giordano Bruno, the philosopher Flori at Rome as a heretic. Cardinal Hoheniohe wrote to Pope Leo: "Crispi has asked me to inform you that if you wish to leave he will not oppose it, and will have you accompanied with all honors, but that your holiness will never be allowed to re-

Cardinal Hohenlohe also discussed with Crispi and Foreign Minister Bianc the best way in case of a conclave to prevent the election of Cardinal Rampolla as pope. Italy, it was contended in this discussion could not act without appearing to minimise the spiritual sovereignty and independence of the church, neither could Germany, because it was a Protestant power, and Austria alone was in a poto act. Wife of the Prisoner Will Not Return to Rumor One of Jurors is Sick Creates a Sensation, but Investigation Shows Illness is Not Serious.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.-Evelyn Nesbit Thaw probably will not, as had been expected, return to the stand tomorrow morning when the trial of her husband for the murder of Stanford White is resumed. The strain of the last few days, in which she has been made to live again the hours when, according to the confession she has sworn that she made to Harry K. Thaw, she was the victim of the architect's caprice, has told severely on the young woman and tonight it was stated that the prisoner had come to her rescue and denanded a respite for his wife.

On her visit to the Tombs Saturday Mrs. Thaw told her husband that she had suffered greatly during the ordeal when her association with White was laid bare, and Thaw communicated the fact to the attorneys. He told them his wife was in bad shape, and requested that she be given an opportunity to recover herself. Attorney Delmas then set about to so arrange the plans of the defense that Mrs. Thaw's presence in court as a witness would not be re quired until Tuesday.

these was stopped and a new issue was If tonight's plans do not miscarry, Mrs. Thaw will not be recalled until Tuesday. and her cross-examination by District Attorney Jerome will begin Wednesday. Another development today that startled those directly concerned in the case was the reported illness of a juror. Visions of bundles were sealed was apparently as a mistrial were soon dispelled, however, for it was ascertained that the juror's illness was not such as threatened to incapacitate him. Wilbur F. Steele, 60 years of age, a manufacturer of gas appliances, has contracted a severe cold, but it is expected he from the vaults down to Quayle's shop in will be able to go into the jury box when the trial is resumed.

Today may be said to have been Thaw's best Sunday in the Tombs. He arose after what he declared had been a restful night. in good spirits and a hearty appetite. He did not attend service in the chapel, but $1,256,211 which had been returned by the spent the morning with the newspapers and Bank of Manhattan, the official distributors in reading the many messages brought him. Mrs. Thaw Objects to Delay

Late tonight it was said that Mrs. Thaw was anxious to have the ordeal over as soon as possible and had asked that she be permitted to resume the stand tomorrow, This was not promised, though it was said that possibly Mrs. Thaw might be called:

Mr. Delmas' direct examination of Mrs. Thaw probably will consume some hours. The district attorney has been making the most minute preparation for his cross-examination and was in conference today with several persons, who, it is said, will be called as witnesses. When the thial is resumed tomorrow morning there is likely to be the liveliest tilt between the lawyers that has yet marked the trial. The defence will call to oral. This is the entorcement of the the stand F. C. On the other hand, Mr. Jerome will strive to keep it out, and a battle will be the result.

Tonight Captain Ricketts, who is now in charge of the jurors, announced that tomorrow no women would be allowed in the court room, except those who had been summoned as witnesses. He said that this would be done because of the testimony and added that he would have an extra de tail of court officers on hand to enforce this to be held in the fall. The president says:

For one of your topics how would it do to speak of the place for the father in the home? Now and then people forget that exactly as the mother must help the breadwinner by being a good housewife so the father in his turn, if he is worth his sait, must in evry way back up the mother in helping bring up the children.

After all, the prime duties are elemental and no amount of cultivation, no amount of business force and sagneity will make the average man a good citizen unless he be a good husband and father and unless he is a successful breadwinner, is tender and considerate with his wife and both loving and wise (for to be loving and weak and foolish is utterly ruinous) in dealing with the children.

I think it a crime for the woman to shirk her primary duties, to shrink from beling a good wife and mother. Of course, the woman should have the same right as the man to train her mind, to better herself, and occasionally a woman can and ought to follow some special vocation in addition to (never in substitution for) her home work.

But just as the bighest work for the addition to (never in substitution for) her home work.

But just as the highest work for the normal man is work for his wife and children, so the highest work for the normal woman is the work of the home, where, heaven knows, the work is ample enough.

But I also feel she can do the best work in her home if she has healthy outside interests and occupations in addition, and I most firmly believe that she cannot do her full duty by her husband if she occupies a merely service attitude toward him, or submits to ill treatment, and she is quite as bad a mother if weak and foolish as if hard and unloving.
