Railroad lobbyists are looking to tomor ow's session of the house as a very cheerless session for them. The 2-cent fare bill is down for special order tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and according to all appearances the measure will be passed by the house practically without debate and be sent on to the senate. For four hours last Friday the railroad lobbyists argued to the railroads and commerce committee of the house against the enactment of a 2cent fare bill and the next morning the committee reported the bill out and recommended that it be passed. Legislators augh when anything is said about the worried feelings of the railroad lobbyists. They say the railroads have for years been saying that any legislation would put them into the hands of receivers till no one takes them seriously any more. But the 2-cent fare bill is only one measure. On the day that the bill was reported for passage the railroad commission opened up the entire freight rate schedule and there is no question what will be done with the schedule before the commission gets through with ernment department, 6,741. During the year it. Furthermore the White reciprocal demurrage bill is to be taken up by the house mmittee Thursday of this week and there is every indication that it will be reported out, though possibly with some amendments, and the rallroads are even more afraid that the legislature will enact it into law.

Prize Money Awarded Companies of Fifth Infantry Must Be Repaid.

Because of fraud practiced in the marking up of the rifle scores an order has been issued by the War department striking out the entire score made at practice at Plattsburg, N. Y., last summer by Companies L and M of the Fifth infantry. The order is a very sweeping one, and not only are the scores declared off, but the department orders that all the men who have received increased pay for their good work before the targets must refund the extra money to the treas

The order was received yesterday at the headquarters of the Department of the East on Governors Island, and, while it caused little surprise among the officers, t created a stir among the enlisted men. The order followed proof that there was fraud practiced in recording the target scores, the result of collusion among the nen.

The officers of the regiment are held entirely blameless.

The inquiry, which has shown an astonshing state of affairs, is to be followed by a sweeping investigation of the rifle scores of the entire battalion. This will take some time, for the battalion is split Some of the men are in Cuba and some are stationed in Plattsburg, Captain John son of General Grant's staff has been or dered to the Plattsburg barracks to continue the investigation there, while another officer is to be detailed to proceed to Cuba to make the same inquiry there That the investigation will be rigid is ot doubted by army men, for the War department seeks to find out exactly to what extent the frauds were practiced. Whether the investigation will become general throughout the whole army is a matter for speculation.

When the men go to target practice the scores are kept by other enlisted men stationed in the pits. They are in charge of an officer, but as there are a number of targets there are many chances for The targets are examined after fraud. each shot by the man in charge, and he signals the result with flags to the scorekeepers on the firing line. It is believed that there was a conspiracy in the two companies by which the men in the pits announced after examining the targets greater score than the marksman had really made.

For excellency of marksmanship the men receive rewards of increased pay. This increased money amounts to from $1 to $2 a month. Under the order issued fifty or sixty men, who have received this cash will have to pay it back. There is no way by which they can avoid payment, for the amounts will be deducted from their pay.

Colonel H. O. S. Heistand, military secre tary of the department of the west, said that the investigation which resulted in the order striking out the score of Companies L and M had been going on some time.

"The regiment has separated," he said, "so the papers had to be sent back and forth many times. All this caused delay, but finally they were forwarded to WashOLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN

A great many people have an idea BY IMPURE BLOOD that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the nicer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scabs over and is soon permanently healed. The wonderful healing powers of pine have been known for ages, but the comparitively new form of pine product which has the quality of being soluble, thus enabling it to used in a more pleasant manner and which is now being generally prescribed by doctors, is known to the profession as Concentrated oil of pine. A Philadelphis lung and throat specialist declares that the formula in which he now uses the Concentrated oil of pine has produced remarkable results, often entirely curing a severe cold in twenty-four hours. The formula is very simple and the ingredients can be obtained of any good prescription druggist and mixed at home. It is as follows: Mix plant of good whiskey; shake it thoroughly, and use in tablespoonful doses every twenty-four hours. The Concentrated oil of pine comes put up for medical use only in half phated. For this purpose it is taken raw on sugar, a few drops each night and morning. No family medicine chest should at any time be without this powerful remedy.

ington, Colonel Calvin D. Coles, in com mand of the regiment, took an active part in the matter, and it was upon his recomendation that the order was pro mulgated. "The frauds came out through the official reports. There were certain details connection with the target practice which came to the attention of the officers and led them to suspect that the men had practiced fraud, in order to plie up good scores. The first cursory examination convinced the department that there had been collusion, and so the more careful investigation was made. The in quiry has now been extended to the other ompanies of the regiment."

Colonel Heistand was asked whether he believed the practice of padding scores was general. To this he replied that the War department gave increased pay for good marksmanship and that there was always the temptation for men to strive for good scores. Beyond that he was noncommittal .- New York Times.

At a religious revival in Emporia, Kan. which closed recently, the attention of the Rev. Dr. Munhall, the evangelist, was called to the large number of pennies in the offering. One night the preacher held up a silver dollar and a copper penny and gave a conversation held by the two coins. 'You poor little red cent, you; you don't amount to anything. I'd hate to be you." said the big dollar. "I know I'm not very big," replied the cent, "but the children like me_and I can buy a good many things." "Huh! you can't buy anything at all," said the dollar. "Just look at me; big and bright and shiny; I can buy a whole lot more than you can." "Maybe so," said the little red cent, meekly, "but I go to church a heap oftener than you
