REAL ESTATE FARM AND RANCH LANDS FOR SALE

ALBERTA FARMS

On Crop Payments.

Every dollar of purchase money to be made out of the property. No sleepless nights. Purchaser can not lose his home through failing to meet a payment as payments never come due until the money is made out of the farm to meet them. None of the buildings on these places are over 4 years old. Everything in the best of condition. Land first-class, wheat now in crop is turkey red (Alberta hard.)

By cropping two-thirds of any of these farms for 4 to 5 years your home would easily be paid for, besides making you a living in the meantime.

Any of this land will advance $30 per acre in a very few years. No cash payment is required on the unimproved lands. Only a small cash payment is asked for on the improved places.

470 acres two miles from Crossfield, price $22 per acre; 190 acres 5 miles Olds, $17; $20 acres between Didsbury and Olds, $17; $20 acres between Carstairs and Noelton, $15; $20 acres between Carstairs and Noelton, $15; $20 acres one mile from Carstairs, $25, No cash payments on the above places; every dollar of purchase money made out of land.

MESSAGE ON LAND LAWS

President Fends Advice to Congress on Subject of Public Domain.

LEASING OF COAL LAND IS ADVOCATED

Grazing Land Should Be Leased and

Management Placed in Hands of Western Men Familiar with Situation. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.-President Roosevelt today sent to congress a long meerage calling attention to what he terms the "urgent need of legislation in the United States." He advocates the conservation of coal and other fuel resources on lands still belonging to the government saying that benceforth the nation should retain its title to its fuel resources, with a system of small grazing fees, etc., and asks for an appropriation of $500,000, mediately available, in addition to the present estimates, to aid in detecting and preventing land frauds. He contends for a system of government leasing of its mineral lands and for treating these fuel lands as public utilities. The president points out that it would have been better if some eastern coal lands had been left under government control and suggests provision in the west "against recurrence of the conditions we deplore in the east," citing 2,300 cases of public land entries in four districts mentioned, the president says non-compliance with the lawwas found in over half of them and de-liberate fraud in very many cases.

should be established. The message in part, says:

Such a leasing system as that proposed represents by no means an uniried policy. In the Australian countries during the last fifteen years coal has been mined under a system of government leases, and on conditions so favorable for development that their coal and coke are today being sold on the Pacific coast of both the American continents. In all the great coal producing European countries, except Great Britain, coal is being mined under government leases. In Great Britain leases are granted almost entirely by the private land owners, but there, as in other countries, the surface culture and the mining operations are conducted independently of each other. In Scotia, British Columbia, India and other British colonies, a government leasing system has been adopted and is working satisfactorily. In the United States, although conveyance of the mineral right with the surface has been common practice, the separate development of the two interests is increasing; and in the eastern and middle states a large part of the coal is being mined under a system of private leases. It is gratifying to note that in these states, as in foreign countries, agriculture and mining are conducted within the same boundaries, and the country thus attains its highest dual development without conflict of interests. Indeed, the mining industry, and the factories using these fuels, create large local markets for the products of the farm.

Objections to System.

I am aware that objections to this system are being urged. It is claimed that so large a part of the coal in some of the western states has already passed into the hands of certain large corporations that parties endeavoring to operate under a lease system other coal deposits would be unable to compete with these corporations, and therefore that the fuel deposits still belonging to the government should also be allowed to pass into private ownership, presumably into the hands of the same or other large corporations. It is also claimed that reservation of the fuel supplies still belonging to the government would raise the price of coal in the west, and as an argument in favor of this contention it is claimed that the reservation of the natural forests is raising the price of lumber in the west. It should be remembered that the best and most accessible bodies of timber in the west passed into private holdings before the forest reserves were established; that while the price of timber has advanced in the west, it has advanced still more in the east, where there are no forest reserves; that supplies of timber are today advanced in the west, it has advanced still more in the east, where there are no forest reserves; that supplies of timber are today being shipped from the west to the markets of the Mississippi vailey, and even to foreign countries; and that the probability of obtaining future supplies of both timber and mineral fuel in the west at reasonable prices will be much greater with a large portion of both the forests and the fuels under the control of the government than if this control should pass to private parties. To secure cheapness of timber and fuel for the moment at the cost of ruin to our own children would surely be a suicidal policy.

and strength, it is necessary that this vital fluid be kept free from germs, impurities and poisons. As long as it remains uncontaminated we are fortified against disease and health is assured; but any humor or impurity acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health, or culminates in some special blood disease. Pustular eruptions, pimples, rashes and the different skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition as a result of too much acid, or the presence of some irritating humor. Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, and Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood diseases that continue to grow worse as long as the impurity or poison remains in the circulation. Some persons are born with an hereditary taint in the blood and we see the effect manifested in various ways. The skin has a pallid, waxy appearance, the eyes are weak, glands in the neck often enlarged and usually the body is not fully developed or strong, because it has always been fed on weak, impure blood. In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this stream of life pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all blood diseases and disorders are cured permanently by S. S. S. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is the King of all blood purifiers. Book on the blood and any medical advice desired sent free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

The president first refers to his previous message to congress on the subject and again calls attention to the importance of legislation as would provide for title to and development of the surface land as separate and distinct from the right to the underlying mineral fuels in regista where these may occur and the disposal of those mineral fuels under a leasing system on conditions which would inure to the benefit of the public as a whole.

He says he cares little for the details and that the prime need is that the system should be established. The message in part, says:

Such a leasing system as that proposed represents by no means an untried policy.

Government Should Be Generous.

In planning such a leasing system by the government, the question of revenue beyond that necessary to cover the expenses of administration and exploration, need not be seriously considered. The spirit of generosity which the country as a whole has shown in connection with the disposal of its public lands and the use of the proceeds from the sale of these lands for the further development of the west through the reclamation service and other in other ways, is of itself a sufficient guarantee that in the administration of both the coal reserves and the national forests, this generous policy will be continued. It is safe to believe also that federal supervision of both the coal lands and the forests will be reduced to a minimum and that in the future even more than in the past this supervision will be limited to that necessary to carry out the policy of conserving these natural resources in such manner as will best promote the permanent interests of the people, and, above all, of the western people and the people in the neighborhood of the mines and the forests which we seek to preserve for the public use.

The necessity for care in the future management of these fuel supplies is further illustrated by the rapid rate at which the use of such fuels is increasing in use.

This remarkable development and the certain continuity of this prodigious growth, compels us to recast all estimates as to the life of our "inexhaustible resources."

We can foresee the time when the eastern industries will be much more largely taxed for supplying foreign markets.

It would surely be greatly to the advantage of this country if some at least of the coal fields of the east and especially of the anthracite fields, had been left under the coal fields of the sast and especially of the anthracite fields, had been left under the control of the government. Let us provide in the west against the recurrence of the conditions which we deplore in the east. At the outset the law Government Should Be Generous.

left under the control of the government. Let us provide in the west against the recurrence of the conditions which we deplore in the east. At the outset the law would be administered in a spirit of the broadest liberality, with the least possible interference with the development of the coal fields. Moreover, I cannot too emphasically say that all laws which merely seek to prevent monopoly or the mishandling of the public by forbidding combination are certain to fall of their purpose. One experience with interstate commence and anti-trust laws shows that what is needed is not prohibition of all combinations, but such supervision and control over combinations, and over corporations entering into them, as will prevent the evils while giving to the public the advantages of combination.

Control of Pasture Lands.

Control of Pasture Lands.

Let me also again urge that legislation be passed to provide for government control of the pasture lands of the west on the same general principles which now apply in the government control of the forest reserves. The local control of the range should be in the hands of western men familiar with stock raising and there should be full local participation in the management of the range. There is no need at present that the government should get a net revenue from grazing on the public range, but only enough to pay for administration and improvement, and it may be wise to provide that any surplus shall go to the states and territories in which the fees are collected.

Let me urge that congress provide $50,000 in addition to the present estimates, to be immediately appropriated to the clearing of arrears of business in the general land office as regards the detection and prevention of fraud in disposing of applications for patents to the public lands.

I wish to express my utter and complete dissent from the statements that have been made as to there being but a minimum of fraud in the actual working of our present land laws. I am exceedingly anxious to protect the interests of bona fide settlers and to prevent hardship being inflicted upon them. But surely we are working in their interests when we try to prevent the land, which should be reserved for them and for those like them, from being taken possession of for speculative purposes or obtained in any fraudulent fashion.

The president says the present force of special agents is utterly insufficient to Control of Pasture Lands.

The president says the present force of special agents is utterly insufficient to conduct the proper field examinations, but adds that in six months, ending December $1 last, they secured indictments in 197 been tried, resulting in fourteen convictions and twelve acquittals. In the forest reserves, where we have been able to examine a great number of claims, he adds, in about one-third the law was not comin about one-third the law was not complied with. The message concludes:

From the standpoint of the public interest, failure to prevent fraud of this kind is peculiarly serious, because in so many cases the success of the fraudulent claimant means the prevention of the establishment of a home by some homeseeker. The earnest wish of the administration is to discontinue the advertisement of fraud in connection with the public land system, but the only way to accomplish this is by putting a stop to the fraud itself.

SIMMER NEEDS BETTER TRAINING Lacks Skill to Get Most Out of Phenomenal Strength.

Phenomenal Strength.

Simmer, after his wrestle with Wassem at catch-as-catch-can Tuesday night, issued a ring-side challenge to any man in the world at Graeco-Roman style. Simmed probably would be better at the latter than catch-as-catch-can. With Wassem the big lowan showed clearly his lack of skill in handling his overpowering weight and strength. Time and time again he would have the agile Missourian all but down and, in a twinkling, lose all he had gained. That winded him seriously and reduced the difficulty of Wassem's Herculean task. Wassem played for Simmer's wind from the start, churning him as if he meant to pump all the breath out of him. Simmer would do well to study the methods of Wassem and Farmer Burns, two of the williest wrestlers on the mat.

Wassem is the smallest man for 189 pounds that has been here for a long time. Burns only goes it at 150 and he looks much the larger. He is taller and better proportioned than Wassem. These two men ought to make a terrific match. They know every trick of the game, are good smerals and quick as two cats. The man who gets the best two out of three in their match will earn his money. Burns and Hackenschmidt drew a good crowd at the Auditorium, but the Farmer and Wassem will draw a much larger one, probably, for both are great local favorites.

Cleveland has given a rabe in salary to Cleveland has given a ratse in salary to Cleveland has given a rake in salary to every man on the team except those who are considered as having reached a reasonable limit. This increase will bring the pay roll in the aggregate up to $4.00 more than was paid out last season, when salaries for that team were higher even than they had been in "wartime." Cleveland has a policy of rewarding merit with cash, which works well with the players, and is about the most practical method after all. When Lajole goes south for his suring practice he will have twenty-one men, including himself.

Peter Loch gave eminent satisfaction as referee of the Wassem-Simmer contest, just as he did in the Burns-Hackenschmidt match. Pete is getting to be a bit of a drawing card himself. Knowing the game as he does and being able to play it as he can, are great points in Pete's favor, as well as the favor of those over whose destinies on the mat he presides. GOLF PLAY AT PINEHURST

On the Metropolitan alleys last night the Patterson's Dally News took two out of three games from the strong Life Malts, and only for a split of Polcar's in the last frame of the first game, they would have taken all three. McKelvey of the Life Malts bowled two pretty games, with 222 in his first and 211 in the second, but luck went against him in the third. Peterson, of the Daily News team bowled a very good game, his high game being 221 and total 562. Tonight, the Colts against O'Brien's Monte Cristos.
