

THAW TRIAL IS INTERRUPTED

Illness of Wife of Juror May Result in Indefinite Postponement.

ONLY ONE SESSION HELD YESTERDAY

Dr. Evans Says Prisoner's Heart Would Change Beats Four Times Within Minutes—Effort to Expedite Trial.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The Thaw trial today was limited to an afternoon session of less than two hours' duration, the morning session having been abandoned because of the illness of the wife of Juror Joseph E. Bolton.

Dr. Evans, superintendent of the insane asylum at Morris Plains, N. J., gave the only testimony today. District Attorney Jerome resumed the right to cross-examine the doctor.

Dr. John T. Deemer of Kittanning, Pa., was recalled just before adjournment and asked to state what he knew of the mental condition of John Ross, first cousin of Harry Thaw.

Dr. Evans today detailed the results of his various examinations and physical tests in his visits to the defendant following the tragedy.

Dr. Evans said that the relationship was too remote to permit the drawing of deductions as to hereditary insanity. Both question and witness were withdrawn temporarily.

Charcoal Stops Gas On Your Stomach

Wonderful Absorbing Power of Charcoal When Taken in the Form of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges

Charcoal, pure, simple charcoal, absorbs 100 times its own volume of gas. Where does the gas go to? It is just absorbed by the charcoal—the gas disappears and there is left a pure, fresh, sweet atmosphere, free from all impurities and germs.

That's what happens in your stomach when you take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges, the most powerful purifiers science has yet discovered.

You catch gas in company, sometimes, by accident, because of your own humiliation. That because there is a great amount of gas being formed in your stomach by fermenting food.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from pure willow charcoal, and just a little honey is put in to make them palatable, but not too sweet.

opinion. There is some limitation even to the province of an expert.

As the result of a conference between counsel just before adjournment, Mr. Jerome said Thaw's attorneys had turned the will of the defendant over to him for examination before it again should be formally offered in evidence.

NEBRASKA FROM DAY TO DAY

Quaint and Curious Features of Life in a Rapidly Growing State.

With hogs quoted at $1 a hundred, it will be difficult to convince Nebraska farmers that they should invest their surplus in other lines of business.

A Custer county man has succeeded in raising beaver in confinement. Nebraska may some day supply the fur as well as the food of the nation.

Nature provides for its own, and the discovery of worms on rabbits may mean that the universal mother has decided that the animals should be able to protect themselves from wolf hunters.

While admitting the accuracy of the account, the patrons of several boarding houses are inclined to question the fact of that forty-year-old Decatur butter being the oldest in the state.

"Converting" the Farmer—Mrs. Knox makes a strong plea for the dry land farming and the elimination or conversion of the saddle horse farmer into a thing of joy and a more useful citizen—Hayard Transcript.

Faith Cure at Beatrice—We are still of the opinion that mind has a great influence over matter. A South Side woman used an empty antiseptic box for buttons.

Nebraska's Conscience Awakens—Weary of carrying on his conscience the memory of July melons stolen in a boy's escapade, a writer from Kearney, signing himself "A. N.," has sent a $24 bill to George A. Arnold, living near Punk, together with a note saying that it was to pay for melons taken and asking forgiveness—Holdsrege Progress.

The Usual Result—The wolf hunt on Wednesday drew out a large crowd, there being in the neighborhood of 200 men and boys present. They report seeing three wolves, but did not kill any of them, owing to the line on the west coming in late. However, several rabbits died from fright.—Bee correspondent Sewald Blade.

Record of One Train—It is only by dint of most strenuous effort that the poor, decrepit Crete train, has been able to make its regular trips this week. They have been on the road nearly all the time and have on an average managed to make the round trip in twenty-four hours, although they exceeded that time one day, making it up the next—Talmage Tribune.

Morse George—George W. Hutcheon, clerk of the district court, says darn the potatoes, darn the beans, darn everything. Our reporter, being very inquisitive, interrogated George as to the disturbed condition of his mind. "Oh, that's easy. My wife is in Hastings and I have to do the cooking and that's no small job." Then George sweet some more—Red Cloud Commercial Advertiser.

Objects to the Attitude—J. L. Shore informs us that because of the high attitude making it undesirable for his wife to live here he has decided to sell his property at auction and go elsewhere. The date of the sale will be February 13. Mr. and Mrs. Shore are very desirable citizens and we regret any necessary for their going away. She is now in Kentucky for her health.—Mitchell Index.

Murder Suspect Not Man Wanted. CHARLES NATHAN, brother of Louis Nathan, under arrest at St. Louis, charged with being Constantine, wanted here for murder, fully confirms the story told at St. Louis by Louis Nathan as to his identity. Because of trouble with his wife over a woman he had just left he was married. Louis Nathan left home and adopted the name of Duval. He was once before taken for Constantine to whom he bears a strong resemblance.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 12.—Lottie Hawkins was stabbed to death with a pair of shears in the female ward of the penitentiary last night by Ada Cross, a notorious convict. Both women were federal prisoners sent here from the District of Columbia. The murderers has been here before three times and is now serving twenty year sentence. Her victim was serving a two year term for stealing. The women quarreled while trimming garments.
