FIFTEEN YEARS OF ECZEMA

Affected Hands, Arms and Legs—Endured Terrible Itching and was Unable to Sleep—Would Tear the Bandages to Scratch the Skin—In less than One Week

CURED BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema nearly fifteen years. The affected parts were my hands, arms and legs. They were the worst in the winter time and were always itchy, and I could not keep from scratching them. I had to wear bandages, both hands bandaged all the time, and at night I would have to scratch through the bandages as the itching was so severe, and at times I would have to tear everything off my hands to scratch the skin. I could not rest or sleep. I had several physicians treat me but they could not give me a permanent cure, nor even could they stop the itching. After using the Cuticura Soap, one box Cuticura Ointment and two bottles Cuticura Resolvent for about six days the itching had ceased, and now the sores have disappeared, and I never felt better in my life than I do now. Edward Worell, Band 30th, U. S. Infantry, Fort Crook, Nebraska."

The most torturing and disfiguring humors, eczemas, rashes, itches, irritations, and inflammations of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair of infants, children, and adults, are instantly relieved and speedily cured by the Cuticura Remedies, when all else fails.

BASSETT WINS IN THE EAST

Gets Decree of Absolute Divorce in Court at Washington.

TRIAL JUST BEGINS IN THIS CITY

If Decision of Washington Court is Binding Mrs. Bassett Will Not Get Her Trial Here.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Justice Gould in the district court today rendered an opinion in the suit for divorce instituted by Charles C. Bassett, an employe of the United States geological survey, against his wife, Fannie Rice Bassett, a daughter of James Denton Rice of Arkansas.

The principals in the divorce case of Fanny Rice Bassett against Charles C. Bassett were present in the district court before Judge Redick yesterday afternoon, with the exception of Mr. Bassett. Rev. E. Lawrence Hunt, pastor of the Noble Street Presbyterian church, Brooklyn, appeared for the first time in public. Rev. Mr. Hunt was named as correspondent in the suit for divorce filed by Mr. Bassett in Washington, D. C.

The minister against whom Mr. Bassett made such serious charges in the suit in Washington, D. C., is a small man; his brown hair is tinged with gray and the top of his head is bald. His face is smooth. He wore a black suit, with double-breasted coat. He had ample protection against cold in a very heavy fur-lined overcoat.

Arguing of Motion.

The entire afternoon was taken up in arguing on motions. Telegrams were read by the defense in the present case showing that a decision had just been rendered in Washington giving Mr. Bassett an absolute divorce. The plaintiff held that this put no different aspect on the case in hand inasmuch as the decision of the Washington court is not binding on the local court.

The announcement of the decision of the Washington court in favor of Mr. Bassett was a decided victory for the defense in the case about to be tried here and a blow to Mrs. Bassett and Rev. Mr. Hunt. The latter took it calmly, however, and sent the following telegram to his mother:

"Mr. Hunt loses his pulpit. That means that Rev. E. Lawrence Hunt will not be retained as pastor of the Brooklyn church, to which he went after the case came up in Washington," said Attorney Callady for Mr. Bassett, who has come out from Washington. "Mr. Hunt was taken as pastor of that church pending the outcome of the case. If the decision was against Bassett he was to be retained; if for him he was not to be retained."

The attorneys for Mr. Bassett filed a supplemental answer in the district court in Omaha Wednesday afternoon, denying the jurisdiction of the local court since the decision of the Washington justice. Attorney Edward F. Callady of Washington, appearing for Mr. Bassett, went to the court room with a large suit case filled with legal papers bearing upon the case. Attorney Irving F. Baxter for Mrs. Bassett lugged in a bundle of papers of large circumference.
