Thursday being Valentine day, as it is emmonly known, the minds of the young

All day Uncle Sam's minions of the mail servce were the busiest persons in the land, They carried thousands of tender sentiments and artistic reminders to the lads and lassies in dales and on hilltops, and in Benson and Dundee.

The advent of another Valentine day brings up again the early history of the day and how it was instituted. John Doe, the best living authority on this subject, wrote in a recent article an interesting the liquor traffic. Men, women and chilaccount of St. Valentine and the day.

The crucifizion of St. Valentine occurred on February 14, the day before the Lupercallan festival. This festival in those days was something like the Ak-Bar-Ben festival in Omaha, the chief differences being that in Rome there was no petrified man in the street fair and the board of governors wore armor instead of soft shirts, as in Omaha. and gradually changed to its present form of observance. A shrine was erected on the Palatine hill by the church in Rome for the dead saint. In the United States Valentine day has been dignified within the last two years by the passing of the repulsive comic forms of valentines. These valentines, used for a long time by persons of narrow minds to comings or personal attributes, are nearly obsolete. These cheap paper comics have been replaced by the postal card forms, some of these being real works of art, while others have humorous allusions, with the sting removed, Some of the best artists in the United States have drawn for the postal card val-

Vast Amount of Money. It has been estimated that Omaha dealers annually spend $25,000 for their stocks of valentines, making the total expended by the public for valentines and postage nearly $50,000 a year. today addressed the senate in opposition to the resolution reported from the committee on privileges and elections, "that Reed tor of the United States from Utah." He was accorded the closest attention, because of his discussion of the legal queswhich would require two-thirds of the senate, or exclusion, requiring only a majority of the votes. He contended that nothing less than two-thirds of the entire member ship of the senate could unseat the Utah senator.

Mr. Knox asked: "Should the senate expel Senator Smoot, and why?" and an-

He should not be expelled for believing in the Mormon religion. The irrevocable ordinance expressly, and with Mormonism in view, guaranteed religious toleration in the state of Utah. He should not be expelled for being a member or officer of the Mormon church for the same reason. He should not be expelled for the vindication of Utah's law, violated by certain Mormons continuing polygumous relations with Senator Smoot's consent or approval, supposing that he did consent or approval, supposing that he did consent or approve; for Utah, without being ignorant of the facts, elected him and the senate would not be fustified in going out of its way to enforce respect for the formally expressed will of Utah embodied in its law against polygamous relations by defeating its later expressed will, shown in its electing Smoot.

The speaker declared that there is no swered his own question, saying: The speaker declared that there is no mous cohabitation applicable to Utah, now that Utah is a state, and that when it was admitted to the union of states it was known that there would and could be none. He declared that it is not in the power of the senate to regulate action of the states. Subject to the limitations imposed by the constitution, said Mr. Knox, the states are left untrammeled in their right to choose their senators. He recited the fact that the constitution enables the senate to protect itself against improper characters by expelling them by a two-thirds vote if they are guilty of crime, offensive immorality, disloyalty or gross impropriety during their term of service. He specified these reasons, he said, because he could not imagine the senate expelling a federal law against polygamy or polyg-

Shop Bills. All the old crew of Pa's team, and there are not many left, are on to one fact, which the others will not be slow to learn about the spring custom in Omaha. A ball player is proverbially supposed to be broke when spring arrives and all managers know how they keep at the till to try for a little advance. Pa has always made it a practice to arange with some barber in the spring who will cut all the boys' hair and shave them at his expense until the regular season opens. Last year this custom brought Carter back with long shaggy locks, but Carter will not be here this year. Ivan Howard learned the gag from his brother Del and Bassey caught on intutively. Pa may be able to save a little this spring because there are so many Ducky is putting up a good talk, anyhow, and Ormaha fans like to see a good team at Lincoln. It is thought Quillin, who was the star member of Holmes' team last year and whom Comiskey took from Holmes in exchange for Holmes' release, will be sent to Minneapolis this year. Rohe made such a good impression in the championship series that Commie probably will give him another chance.

President Barney Dreyfuss now estimates his spring training trip will cost him $6,000 in addition to the gate receipts to the exhibition games played. The salary list for the Pittsburg team last year was $80,000.

Bob Simpson, one of the recognized top Bob Simpson, one of the recognized top liner golfers in America, has been secured as golf instructor at the Omaha Country club for the coming summer and will report March 25. Simpson was in Memphis last year and the year before that at Oconomowac, Wia. With the raise in the annual dues which was voted by the club this winter the golf committee gets more money for expenses and has wisely decided to spend some of this money in getting one of the best golf instructors in America. Under the tutelage of Simpson the Omaha Country club boys hope to wrest the championship of Omaha from the Omaha Field club.

It would have been better than even money that St. Louis would have finished in from. That was the weak point on the team, both on defense and on offense, and it was the one thing which finally stopped the winning streak which developed during July. With the same conditions this year and Delehanty making good, both in the field and with the bat, it will take some playing on the part of the other clubs to stop the Browns."
